Adam Walsh Homocide

OUR MEMORIAL BLACK OLIVE TREE

The idea of planting a tree as a living memorial to Adam Walsh was born in the mind and heart of one of the mothers of Adam's first grade classmates and spread to others. An appropriate plaque will be purchased and permanently mounted at the base of the tree. As memorial gifts continue to be offered and promises of fill dirt for the "valley" materialize, perhaps the entire athletic area can be completed with a sign and Adam's picture identifying the "Adam Walsh Playfield." About 4,000 square yards of fill are still needed. When finished the field will include softball, soccer, a complete track, tennis and perhaps handball.

REFERENCES:

This detective received a telephone call on 10/24/88 from Sgt. Richard Scheff of the Broward County Sheriff's Department.

The nature of this call pertained to the recent trip to Raiford Prison by Sgt. Scheff and Sgt. Fantagrassi.

During the week of 10/17/88, Sgt. Scheff and Sgt. Fantagrassi went to Raiford Prison to conduct an interview with prisoner, Gerard J. Schaffer. Mr. Schaffer recently wrote letters to various police departments, including the Broward Sheriff's Department. In these letters, Schaffer states that he is a cellmate of Ottis Toole and also does legal appeals for fellow inmates.

Mr. Schaffer tells how Ottis Toole has spoken to him frequently about the Adam Walsh Murder. Mr. Schaffer believes that Toole is telling him the truth. Toole also gave Schaffer a hand written confession to the Walsh Murder.

According to Sgt. Scheff, after interviewing Schaffer, it is his opinion that Schaffer is strictly interested in this matter because he thinks he would be entitled to the reward money offered by the Walsh Family. Schaffer believes the reward money is in excess of $100,000.00.

Gerald Schaffer informed Sgt. Scheff that he represents Ottis Toole in all further matters. Schaffer stated he must be present at all interviews conducted with Ottis Toole in the future. Should Otis Toole be taken out on location, Mr. Schaffer indicates that he must accompany Toole and the Law Enforcement Agency.

Gerald Schaffer informed Sgt. Scheff that Ottis Toole told him that he used a bayonet to commit the Walsh Murder. This bayonet was taken from Ottis Toole's sister's residence in Jacksonville.

Sgt. Scheff and Sgt. Fantagrassi proceeded to locate Toole's sister. Upon doing this, Toole's sister was interviewed by these detectives. Toole's sister informed Sgt. Scheff that she had obtained the bayonet in question in 1979. This bayonet has been hanging on her mantel since the year she obtained it. According to her, if Ottis would have taken this bayonet she would have been fully aware of it.

She assured the detectives that the bayonet has never left her residence.

Ottis Toole's sister agreed to cooperate by furnishing the bayonet to the Sheriff's Department to be forwarded to the Crime Lab.

It is the opinion of Sgt. Scheff and Sgt. Fantagrassi that Gerard J. Schaffer is interested in this matter strictly for his own personal benefits. There is no evidence at this time to link Ottis Toole to the Walsh Murder.

Det. Jack Hoffman,

Enclosed are copies of the Medical Examiner's office here in P.H., Dr. Erdman's report from Texas and Dr. Kirby's report from the University of Ariz.

The lower jaw bone was found in Feb. '82 and the skull was found in Oct. '82 in the same area approx. 300 feet apart. The area where the head & jawbone were found is common desert terrain, unpopulated area.

I'm still waiting for a report from the Univ. of Wyo. and expect to have that by the end of the week. All photographs of the skull except for what we have in our files as evidence are in Wyo. and I'll send you some pictures when I get them back.

If I can be of further assistance feel free to contact me.

Maricopa County Sheriff's Office detectives are seeking the assistance of the public in identifying a young woman whose skull was found in the desert north of Scottsdale recently.

The skull was found in an area north of Jomax Road and east of Pima in early October. It has been positively matched with a jaw bone found in the same area in February of this year. The death is believed to have occurred approximately 18 months ago. Precise cause of death has not yet been determined.

The woman is believed to have been a small-framed Caucasian between the ages of 15 and 19 years. Her face is believed to have been quite thin and her upper teeth may have protruded. Recent dental work, within two years of death, is indicated with fillings in both upper and lower molars. The young woman's hair was probably light brown.

Investigators believe that the woman may have been younger than the accompanying artist's concept may indicate.

Anyone who may have information about the possible identity of the young woman or who may know of a missing person who might fit her description is asked to contact Sergeant Dominic Marino or Detective Bob Barrett of the Maricopa County Sheriff's Office at 834-4052.

NAME: Unknown AGE: 33 (plus or minus 3 years)
SEX: Female WEIGHT: 100 lbs (plus or minus 5 lbs.)
RACE: White HEIGHT: 5'1" (plus or minus one inch)

CAUSE OF DEATH: Decapitation with sharp cutting instrument.

MANNER OF DEATH: Homicide.

MECHANISM OF DEATH: Severance of head resulting in loss of central nervous system control and massive exsanguination.

I. INTRODUCTION:

On 16 February 82, I was asked by Judge Glenn Stone to assist in the forensic investigation of what appears to be decapitated human remains found along side a county road East of the City Limits of Plainview, TX.

II. DESCRIPTION:

The body is indeed that of an adult female which had been decapitated at the level of the 6th cervical vertebra. Animal activity is advanced.

The hands are found tied with a brassiere over her back. There is moderately advanced postmortem decomposition. No maggot activity is present.

The present total length of the body is 53 inches (without head).

The right tibia measures 32 cm.
The right femur measures 41 cm.
The right humerus measures 33 cm.
The left humerus measures 32 cm.
The right ulna measures 30 cm.

Based on the above data, the estimated total pre-existing body length (height or life stature) was 5'1" (plus or minus one inch).

There are no fractures; recent or healed, nor other injuries (gunshot wounds, incised wounds, etc.)

The chest and remaining structures of the neck reveal only moderate putrefaction decomposition. These structures are covered by moderate amounts of skin which has largely undergone autolytic changes. The muscle masses and overlying skin are partly absent due to animal activity. The better preserved areas are noted in the upper back and lower neck. The pectoral, deltoid and trapezius muscles are partly preserved bilaterally. The arm muscle masses are largely absent with exposure of the respective skeletal bone structures.

The cervical resection line (decapitation line) at the lower neck has a multi-level aspect as if the perpetrator had taken a knife and had cut the prevertebral soft tissue structures by taking several transverse strokes and incising several inches in depth with each stroke. It then proceeded to strike on the vertebral body in a similar fashion. It was severed at the level of the intervertebral space separating the 5th and 6th vertebrae. The larynx and upper segment of the trachea was incised and assumed to have remained with the separated head portion. The distal segment of the trachea and of the cervical blood vessels retracted into the chest and were found in a retrosternal location.

The anterior thorax reveals advanced animal activity beginning from the 7th rib and on downwards. The costo-condral structures below this level are largely missing.

The posterior thorax and dorsal regions reveal well preserved para-costal muscular structures. There is advanced hardening due to dehydration changes (drying-out) of the skin covering the upper most 10 cm. of the posterior chest.

The anterior abdominal wall is absent as well as the enterity of the abdominal viscera. The liver, gastrointestinal tract, the spleen, the pancreas, the adrenal glands and the kidneys are included.

The chest cavity has segments of the lungs present - upper one/half of each. The lower lobes are absent bilaterally.

The diaphragm is absent. The heart is normal in size, shape and color. It reveals only mild decomposition changes. The cusps, leaflets and coronary arterial tree are normal. No lesions are seen.

The lungs and attached tracheo-bronchial tree (retrosternal segment only) have a dark reddish softened amorphous and semi-liqueous matter which resembles clotted blood which has undergone liquefaction degeneration.

The lungs are only partly aereated but have a softened but homogeneous consistency. No localized lesions were present.

Pelvic Organs: The rectum and urinary bladder are absent. The Uterus is present and weighs 85 gms. Only the adnexa are not present. The uterus is normal in size, shape and color. The os is rounded. It is consistent with that of a nulliparous adult female.

The uterus (with cervix): It weighs 85 gm. and measures 9X4X3.5 cm. in overall dimensions. The serosa is pearlish white and dull. The ectocervix measures 2.5 X 2 cm. in transverse and A-P dimensions respectively. The os is rounded and patent. It measures 0.5 cm. in diameter. The uterine cavity is empty. It is lined by friable dark reddish endometrium averaging 0.3 cm. in thickness. The myometrial walls average 1.8 cm. in thickness.

III. MICRO:

Lungs: The alveolar architecture is readily identified. The bronchiolar epithelium has largely undergone cytolysis. The alveoli are filled with hemorrhage. Intact RBC are identified. There is no evidence of acute or chronic inflammatory response. The alveolar septa are well preserved and its capillaries are morphologically intact.

Uterus: The cervix shows normal architecture. The endometrium has largely undergone cytolytic changes and the myometrium is well preserved microscopically. In between myometrial fascicles there are identifiable islands of endometrium. These have undergone cytolytic changes although their pre-existing architecture is readily identifiable.

Skin: There is advanced cytolysis. However the epidermic pre-existing architecture is identifiable. The basal layer contains only occasional cells which contain melanin pigment.

The pelvic bones and lower extremities (with exception of ankles and feet) are largely devoid of attached muscle and subcutaneous structures. No skin is identifiable over the pelvis, gluteal regions, perineal region, thighs and upper 2/3 of the lower legs. These structures show evidence of carnivorous animal activity.

The hands are covered by hardened, dried-out skin. The nails are intact and well groomed, but no coloring lacquer is identifiable.

The ileal crests (posterior and anterior), the pubic bone and inner half of both scapular bones (shoulder blades) are missing, reflecting animal activity.

IV. SUMMARY:

The remains are of a white female in her thirties - median estimated age of 33.1 yrs. (plus or minus 3 years); estimated weight - 100 lbs. (plus or minus 5 lbs.); her stature was "short" (pettit) and is estimated to be 5'1" (plus or minus 1 inch); strongly suggestive to be right handed; she was nulliparous. (she had never delivered a baby and most likely she had never been pregnant as judged by the presence of rather advanced uterine adenomyosis and the rounded undilated cervical os).

The body had advanced animal activity but is felt to have died (under normal environmental conditions such as temperature, moisture and wind velocity) approximately 6 days when found (prior to the body being frozen - if it ever was frozen) - as judged from the decomposition stage of the uterus, lungs and muscle masses. (Add to the 6 days mentioned above any number of days which the body could have remained frozen). The degree of animal activity is considered severe; dog-size animals are felt to be necessarily involved in order to explain the needed strength to pull out the abdominal viscera and to chew the iliac crests and scapulas.

The victim died as a result of decapitation. No other injuries were found. The severance of the head is felt to have occurred while she was alive as aspiration of blood into the alveoli is present which occurs when respiratory (inspiration) activity draws blood into the tiny peripherally located air sacs. Lack of acute or chronic inflammatory response indicates that death followed immediately thereafter.

Therefore, homicidal decapitation is offered as manner and cause of death respectively. The mechanism of death is massive exsanguination and disconnection of central nervous system control over vital functions.

Re: Case #ML 82-979
(Maricopa ME #82-413 and #82-1780)

The following are the results of my examination of the cranium and mandible from a young Caucasian female recovered by the Maricopa County Sheriff's Office in the spring and fall of 1982. The mandible is reputedly found prior to the recovery of the cranium. Examination of the skeletal material begins on October 18, 1982 in the Human Identification Laboratory of the Arizona State Museum, Tucson, Arizona. Present at the time of initial examination is Det. Robert Barrett (#202) of the MCSO.

Sex: Female.

Age: 15 to 19 years dentally.

Race: Caucasian.

Stature: Not determinable.

Dentition: A total of 28 teeth are erupted at the time of death. The four 3rd molars are non-erupted. The mandibular anterior teeth exhibit slight crowding. The anterior teeth show first degree dental attrition and the molars and premolars exhibit "crazing" and antemortem chips of their occlusal surfaces.

Dentition: (continued)

Silver amalgam restorations are observed on 11 of the teeth as follows:

1. Upper right 2nd molar (#2): DO, F;
2. Upper right 1st molar (#3): MO, L;
3. Upper right 2nd premolar (#4): 0;
4. Upper left 1st molar (#14): MOL;
5. Upper left 2nd molar (#15): MOD;
6. Lower left 2nd molar (#18): 0;
7. Lower left 1st molar (#19): 0, F;
8. Lower left 2nd premolar (#20): 0;
9. Lower right 2nd premolar (#29): 0;
10. Lower right 1st molar (#30): 0, F;
11. Lower right 2nd molar (#31): 0.

The upper right central incisor (#8) has a resin restoration of the mesio-lingual surface; the upper left lateral incisor (#10) has a resin restoration of its mesio-surface. The lower right 2nd molar (#31) exhibits a temporary filling of its distal-facial surfaces.

There are bilateral Carabelli's cusps on the maxillary 1st molars (#3, #14). The facial surface of the upper left lateral incisor (#10) exhibits enamel hypoplasia. There is an antemortem chip on the mesial occlusal surface of the upper right central incisor (#8). There is a slight torus palatinus observed on the maxillae.

Hair:

Three light to medium brown Caucasian head hairs are recovered from the cranium and mandible. The longest, measuring approximately 30 mm in length, is removed from the dehydrated tissues on the mandible. Shorter hairs measuring approximately 7 mm and 15 mm in length are recovered from the cranium. No root ends are observed on any of the three fragments. Some postmortem sun bleaching is observed on the longest hair fragment.

Osseous pathology: None observed.

Osseous anomaly: Torus palatinus of the maxillae.

Cause of death: Not immediately determinable.

Period since death: Estimated to be not less than 2 months nor more than 10 months prior to recovery of the remains.

Other data: Ten periapical dental radiographs are taken of the maxillary and mandibular dentition for possible use in establishing positive identification. The cranium and mandible are turned over to Det. Hilbrand of the Maricopa County Sheriff's Office on October 27, 1982 for return to that Department.

9/16/86 Spoke to Investigator McKendrick, Dade ME, who pulled Dr. Davis' consult file on the LaPuma case from 1982. She read the autopsy report which did not indicate any trauma from knife or other sharp-bladed instruments. Detectives involved are : Kirby Owen, Jeff Chance & Sgt. Thomas Warwick, all Monroe S.O. Philip Carlton was defense, and Wayne Miller was ASA on the case, according to the file. Probable COD: Anoxia by drowning/asphyxia.

I will follow up with Monroe SO.

DPH

2:40 PM Monroe SO: Plantation Key, 305/852-3211

Called for detectives above. Dispatcher ~~states that~~ Owen has left the department and is now SAO investigator

Owen states that Jack Hoffman has already called reference the case file. He advises that he requested the file several days ago, but that the reports have been microfilmed, and must be retrieved from archives. Advised Owen we were concerned re: the machete. He has no knowledge about the article, since it didn't play a role in the death that he handled. He does recall two Hollywood detectives coming down to see him, however, and that the deaths appeared to be unrelated.

He advised that he would call when the file was obtained from records.

DPH

245PM

Called Hoffman, and advised that the file has not been received. Also told him that I would call FBI Homestead, inasmuch as that is the office that Owen obtained his flight warrant on LaPuma from. Remembered two agents: Carl Lowery & Bill Scarborough (retired).

DPH

3:50 PM.

Finally got through to FBI Homestead. Lowery is out of office. Spoke to Agent Jack Heckster (phonetic), who requested case #'s from the dispatches. He will attempt to determine the disposition of the evidence and will call when information is available.

Received a call from Agent Jack Heckster, FBI Homestead. He advised that Charlotte FBI has been contacted about the machete. Their records indicate that the machete was returned to the Charlotte office by FBI Lab, and was subsequently released to Deputy Angle (phonetic) of the Buckham County, North Carolina Sheriff's Department. Angle is still with the agency, but is lecturing today. Agents will locate and request information on the whereabouts of the article. Heckster advises that Angel did testify in the LaPuma case in Monroe County, and may have brought the machete with him. Hopefully, Monroe S.O. or the court file will indicate the disposition of the weapon. A Charlotte agent recalls that the machete appeared to be brand new, and that area stores were checked. Results unknown, at this time. FBI Charlotte will call Heckster in the morning, and he will advise further.

Received a call from Jack Heckster, FBI-Homestead. He advised that agents had located Deputy Ken INGLE, of Buckham County S.O. He stated that the machete was returned to the Asheville FBI office, then released to him. He recalls transporting all the evidence they had in their possession to Florida, but does not know if it was introduced at the trial. Probably not, inasmuch as the machete did not figure in the death of the Monroe County boy. Also seems to recall that they had found a receipt for the machete, and that the knife was in new condition. No information as to where the machete was bought. He also recalled a green cloth scabbard. All evidence was left in Monroe County.

Ingle works afternoons (3:00PM+), and the dept. phone # is 704/255-5441.

It appears, at this time, that the Monroe County case file will be the only means of determining what happened to the knife.

subjected to. They didn't laugh, nor as you well know our legislators didn't impeach him, in fact, they didn't even acknowledge my existence there: November 4, 1969 the people of Cranberry Township seem fit to elect me their superior as a result of their mandate. I will go on to expose the political tricksters at the county and state levels. I will do so, because it needs to be done. Yes we the people had to render unto ourselves, we could not retain a Venango County Attorney to seek justice on our behalf. We had other attorneys from Butler and Pittsburg, but the Governor and his Attorney General scared them off. Back in 1967 I spoke to the people about what we would encounter and what we would have to cope with in our struggle to come, it sustained us through our perils to victory. It's not an impulsive dream then, to expect the same results for our commonwealth. The upper most thought that plagues my conscience is that if a man like Lester Maddox can become the Governor of one of our states as a direct result of bigotry and hate, surely in America, one can be elected in another because he stood up and spoke out on behalf of his fellow men. All it took was this big never professed to be anything more than a kind of unkind political panderer of both major political parties. Remember how they counted voters in our state constitution. Help Pennsylvania. Help Pennsylvania. Help us? Help us date our 70 year old constitution. Help Pennsylvania move ahead. It will in no way change the present position in our state constitution allowing for a state income tax. Common was right, "murderer trial in Venango. (Maddox) might have killed these 2 to the jury is not "ought to be" unquote, did we hear a reprimand from the judge to strike that from the record, did we hear the judge declare "mistrial"? No, we heard the jury's not guilty verdict. Counsel for the defense was then permitted to withdraw from the case with a big fat fee, before the impending connected charge of driving while under suspension was heard to which the defendant had been convicted of manslaughter, was sentenced to Western Pen for 3 years. A relative of the district attorney prosecuting this case found that never checking the history of Venango County, they term for driving a car had any one been sentenced to a state prison. I do not raise the while under suspension in this case, but one of legality. I do not raise the question of morality in this case, but one of legality.

Under what circumstances do we run the risk of coming against what is so much stronger than ourselves - so then, if it becomes our business to find out, when this danger is to be faced. My platform will be one of action. In the past 2 years, much of my information has come from state employees. Employees that are fired of this graft as we are. Most will retain their jobs and positions under this action administration. Let a new state police commission be appointed, appointed to do his duty against all those who break the Commonwealth laws, corrupt judicial system, where ever a "strong" county judge is exposed or any public official for that matter. He will be removed from duty with first a way to raise the tax - called by the representatives to Harrisburg to represent us. They represent only themselves and the Politicians of the commonwealth. Dear Mr. Blum:

I was very interested in the material you forwarded and have passed it on to Tommy Thomas. I certainly agree that the Democratic Party must not be allowed to reap a political harvest from Watergate.

I have not decided on my own future political aspirations, but if I decide to actively seek office I will certainly be in touch with you.

Meanwhile, keep up the good fight.

Mr. President

once again we are reminded of cowardly assassins. you, perhaps more than most Americans.

Let me remind you Mr. President, as chief presiding officer of our country you can do little to stop foreign assassins from doing their black deeds.

you can do a great deal to stop these acts here. (I tried and failed.)

I hope both you and Nancy watched Mr. & Mrs. John Walsh, of Hollywood, Florida, on television.

I den you should, as one father to another, realize how I feel when they wasted this small child, only to deliver his head to me here, in Vero Beach, Fla.

Let me tell you, the date that young Ladd's head was finally found Mr. President, August 9th.
Prior to his act, a 35-year old woman throat was cut so deeply, she too died.

You may call them assassinations, inventions, I call them cowardly senseless murders, & a direct warning to myself.

It's funny how hollow your words seem, when you speak of oaths, I live, & dedicated my life for that oath I took at 17-years of age, "and to protect it against all enemies, both foreign and domestic." But these latest two murders of a young boy, & woman, should bring you to your duty to stop further, ~~and~~ these invention wastes of life. But even as I write this, I know that you will not act, because you are an actor, I, a performer.

"a six year old male-child Mr. President." I think about that, the rest of your life, & know these people are in your ranks, not mine. I think about August 10th 1976, and a bomb detonation in Fort Pierce, Fl. that James W. Henderson detonated that was suppose to, make a sailor of me, but for a friend inside the F. B. I. He was diverse, former neighbor.

But that's all right Mr. President, all the murders as well, up until February of 1977. I'm through those elements within the bureau fingered
Bob Crane, Sig Young, + wife + Vice President Rockefeller later on, plus many more because of this swan song, Quati:
"We made a mistake of the mind and not one of the legist." (Clarence Kelley,

Mr. Kelley, yourself and Mr. Webster,

Sincerely and as respectful as I can possibly be,
under the circumstances

Judge Thanked for Not Putting Him in Jail:

Davis Sentence Unusual But Proper DePriest

By WALTER RAYWOOD
News Tribune Staff Writer
St. Lucie County Judge E.P. Friest explained Wednesday at his decision to expell John esley Davis from Fort Pierce for two years was in the "best interests of justice."

From the judge's chambers, he admitted the ruling was unusual and said he had never heard of any other judge ordering a man out of town after being found guilty of 10 misdemeanors, as Davis was Wednesday in county court.

"The maximum time I could have given him is one year," said the judge, adding, "and he could have gotten out in six months on parole. This way, he'll be gone for an additional 18 months at least."

Asked if Davis' civil or constitutional rights may have been violated, the judge said they "may have" but Davis still has the option of getting a lawyer and fighting the decision.

"I intended to give him (Davis) an option," said Judge DePriest, "he can stay here if he wants to or leave...he has the key to his jail cell in his pocket."

The charges that Davis, 44, of Ocala but a native of Fort Pierce, was found guilty of range from possession of a sea turtle, trespassing, resisting arrest, criminal mischief to assault on a police officer.

In addition to being told to leave the city by today, the burly Davis was ordered to "mail" Fort Pierce Police Chief James (Bo) Powell $250 for damage Davis did to a police car in June when he was arrested by city police. At that time Davis kicked a side rear window from the car.

Meanwhile, the judge said a jailer at the St. Lucie County Jail "thanked" him for not putting Davis in jail.

Dear Jim -

When I chatted with you today (on the phone) I kept calling you "Bill" - I thought, consciously, that it was because I've had my friend, Bill, (a cop) in my mind, + I said this to you. An error like this is the subconscious breaking through, and "Bill" was one name I told Dennis Nayler that the killer might possess - I refer, of course, to the killer of Adam Walsh -

Jim, it is possible that baseball cards are a clue to flea markets (plenty of them there, I'm sure - I mean in your own town -) Had a flea market lease a spot in the Mall where the child was when he was kidnapped, and killed? Maybe his mother or dad bought him the baseball cards (these are a hot number at Tex. flea markets) - It may be just a clue for me to know that the killer ~~was~~ was at a flea market (for ~~buying~~ buying and selling baseball cards as his line, as well for regularly. You can look into both -

According to the star patterns of Adam's disappearance the birthdays I called in would most probably fit the killer. It shows that our killer is a strangler. He is a fixed sign (Leo 26° - Aquarius 6°, Taurus 26°, or Leo 26°) This correlates with the birthdays I wanted you to select out (in data process) from your child molesting arrest files - This killer is a combination of a fixed sign (listed above) plus the tail end of Gemini joined to it - signs at the time of year (time, place, river) or at the Time of year, late May thru most of June is the child molester! Did you read, "In Cold Blood"? The child molester was a Gemini. Killers + rapers of children are a fixed sign plus Gemini.

We have characteristics of the sign combined (Time of day we are born) plus the characteristics of those of the sign ruling the Time of year (Taurus, Gemini, etc) —

The characteristics of this killer are! A fixed sign will kill its victim, to assure the victim can't talk!
He drives well! He is secretive, sexually motivated — Homosexuals have a fixed sign in their star pattern.
Gemini's characteristics are:

The ability to seem child like. Can be mimics. Can be very winning socially. They wear blue + drive blue (sky blue) cars —

This killer has part of Cancer in his rising sign (Time of day pattern). He may drive a green car. It is possible he rented a car for his killing. Most fixed sign people like + drive black cars, even though Gemini loves light blue. They think black is more expensive looking.

Fixed signs, like the birthdays I called in won't leave home for long. He took the child, hermal, + killed him, dumped him, then he is very fixed in his habits!

I finally decided that the killer lives near where Sam was abducted from.

This killer may sell real estate, too. He loves the water + boats — May sell boats, too — Loves sea food — + meat, + potatoes. Everyone "just loves" him — Seems sweet + easy-going — Likes cartoons — may speak several languages — associates with peoples of all races, + colors Goes to church! Is religious (+ insane) — Likes pets — Has no conscience — If married married someone younger than he, or much older! — Is a home lover! Takes many short trips —
His luck should run out on him by next week! Thank God!

the planes of capture were set alone in his star path.
He would live close to a shopping center because Gemini likes everything easy! He gambles - The fact that the killer still has his own teeth at his age shows he's protal Scorpio - in this case born Nov. 19, or near that. He hates gangs, & would talk all the time about "being an old man."

The killer is clever, & would fight to the death. He is armed (naturally) - He has several guns, & probably carries one all the time. He doesn't wear glasses (may use "readers", but only that).

He is probably a hypochondriac, goes to the doctor all the time, & takes a lot of medicine & vitamins. (Drinks or takes drugs, too) - Has lung problems, sexual problems, and could have stomach trouble -

As I told Naylor, his dress is casual, but he wears nice clothes - No Tie - I think he wears a hat, too - but not always, of course. He would have male children - His hair is in wisps over his crown. Appears "bald" for the most part -

He looks like the typical middle class grandfather -
He looks for the mail everyday, & knows his postman well!
Gemini can't live without the mail, even if it's only junk mail.

Well, Jim, that's all for now. Hope I've been able to help some. Good luck!

Best regards,

Tracy Green

Dear Friend,

Some people think this profession is glamorous.

It's about as glamorous as crawling on your stomach in a snake pit...as being marooned for weeks on a frozen island in the Bering Strait...as trying to change a roll of film with a 150-pound gorilla on your back.

But decide for yourself after you've seen National Geographic's upcoming book, IMAGES OF THE WORLD. Even more than an extraordinary collection of photographs, this is the story of what goes on behind the cameras as told by the photographers themselves.

This unique volume introduces you to some of the most talented and highly motivated people in the field, people whose assignments may take them anywhere at any time. And as you soon learn, their job has its risks as well as its rewards.

For example, a member of our staff once telegraphed:

"24mm lens smashed by 200 buffalo."

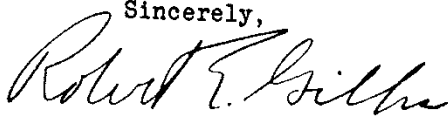

There was the time when Loren McIntyre became lost in a storm over the Amazon jungle. Not only was visibility zero, but the pilot of his single-engine plane became suddenly ill with malaria.

One never knows what to expect in foreign lands. George Mobley once fled for his life across rooftops in Beirut, while the GEOGRAPHIC writer blended in with the mob that chased him and -- to save his own skin -- joined in screaming "get the photographer!"

Off the coast of Australia David Doubilet had a close encounter of another kind when he looked through his camera lens and into the gaping jaws of a great white shark.

Glamorous? Sorry, I can't agree. Fascinating is a better word for this profession -- something I hope you'll discover for yourself in IMAGES OF THE WORLD.

Dear Lt. Kubose,

I talked with your nice lady at the Bureau there about my impressions (I'm clairvoyant) in the Adam Walsh murder case -

The picture with the red arrow, which I enclose, is how the man I saw in the dream must have looked when he was young. The man I saw in the dream, when I was mentally concentrating on this case, is an older man - Late 60's or early 70's (holds his age rather well.) He is balding (strips of hair across head) he is Brunette haired, brown eyed, but pale skinned. He is soft spoken. He has an accent like he was originally from Chicago, or New York.

This man is big - He is about 6 ft. tall, + heavy. His stomach sticks over his belt when he sits down. (I saw him sitting in the car.) He has wrinkles of flesh around the lower jaw when he smiles. The fact that I saw him smiling, as I told the lady I talked with on your line there, shows me that his nick name is either "Smiley" (probably because he is a "poker-face" sort of person), or "Happy" - He has his own teeth - they are not pretty - irregular + old looking. This man was wearing a soft (white) shirt, + no tie - A solid color suit, either brown or that he puts anyone at ease. His soft voice is soothing, but raspy + deep. This attitude put the child at ease, + he just drove off with him!

As I told my friend Chief Wright, of the Lexington Police Department, when I talked with him today about this case (Chief Wright knows me well, + can vouch for me) I "know" the kidnapper, killer is a featherman. I told the lady that, when I called your office. Though I feel that he rented a motor boat at Vero Beach, I feel that they know him in Hollywood, Florida at one of the places where boats are docked, etc.

I feel the killer is a retired man, who lives in Hollywood, Florida — I feel he was born on Feb. 14 — around 1910 to 1913 —

I had some impressions about "Mc Donald's" — maybe there is one in the Shopping Center where Adam Walsh was kidnapped — (he probably still goes there — this killer has fixed habits)

As I said to the lady in your office, I had a clue about either the victim, or killer, having "fits" — I think the killer is probably the one who does (maybe fits of insanity) — If he has epilepsy, he would be an "Dilantin" (don't know how you spell that) — Pharmacies keep records both of Senior Citizens, + their drugs. Check around where the child was taken — The killer probably lives within a couple of miles from there —

I believe this was a sexually related crime — As I dream more about it, this fact is totally clear to me. That was my first thought it might have been done by a paid killer — but it wasn't like that — As I told Chief Wright today, I know from the "key dream" that it was a sexually motivated case — (I wonder, as I told him, if Adam had seizures, & could have died of shock you all can find out about Adam Walski's health from his family — This was just a passing thought, because I think Adam was murdered.

I worked on the Atlanta killings, with Vance Wright of Special Forces. Assistant Chief Redding has written to me and so has his boss, Mr. ^{Lee} Brown — Chief Elkins, of the Ky.
State Police in Pikeville, Ky. can vouch for me.
I care about people, that is why I try to help in what cases I can. I pay my own calls, & get no money, or reward. In other words, I act out of love —

For what it may be worth, I heard, in mental Telepathy, "du Boise" — close to the sound of your name, 3 days ago! — In Telepathy & ESP, names often sound like other names —

I shall continue to work, & concentrate, on this case, & try to get the killer's name. Names are my specialty, & when I did demonstrations for the public, names were the easiest for me — As my fears lessen, perhaps, I can get this name, or names, ^{first, & last name} I hope so!

Thank you very much,

Dear Lt. Huber,

As I dream more (I never remember my dreams unless I'm trying to help with a case) I come upon more possibilities and I get new insight. Now, in most cases, not all, there are many ways to interpret a dream.

Now, it is possible that in this case I may have the name of the killer of Adam Walsh, but in that there have been two rapes so close to my home that I could hit the victim's home with a stone!, and I'm a child-kidnap rape victim, it is not unthinkable that I may have, in some dreams, been "chasing" the neighborhood rapist.

Neither neighborhood victim was taken away in a car, so my dream where I saw the man, I feel is relative to Adam Walsh's case, & is accurate.

All dreams related to a priest, or preacher, may simply be my mind's way of showing me that Adam Walsh was sexually assaulted. He could be a priest, or preacher, I don't know for sure. Don't think he limps, after nearest dream.

As my dreams continue, I reanalyze the previous ones to get the full story my mind is telling me. I told you "Mr Donald" came to my mind. I now feel that the key word in this clue is Donall. Later I had a dream of a woman dancing on one foot because, though her other leg was in fact, her foot was off! I had to ask myself what a woman with a foot cut off meant to me. It was easy! A young friend of mine fell through a glass door once, when she was running, & cut off her foot (they sewed it back on, thank God).

Then I re-examined the dream of the jogger who fell,

I say again, this may be the local rapers name, if self-preservation is taking over my mental programming of looking, mentally, for the name of Adam Walsh's killer. I had Chief Raymond Wright run a check to see if any person of the names given had an arrest record here - They had no name like that here, but the local guy may have no record yet, of course. Chief is keeping the names, in c.

I have to consider all possibilities.

I still think Adam Walsh's killer is a fisherman — for fun, or profit —

I wouldn't want to accuse an innocent person, + scare them into a heart attack, or something! I offer you what I have to offer, possibilities — I trust you, and your men, to weigh + consider what I present — Some dreams are set up in special lighting + distance, to show me it is pure ESP, but all dreams are not that easy to put together except for the fear of having the wrong person questioned, I have no fear of being wrong if one can't face being wrong at times, the Clairvoyant world is not for them!
Hope I've helped you out.

Best regards,
Troy Green

I'll send any new info I get, if I get any more.

where he was running. (Casky is the friend I "saw" in the dream). (I never really saw his face.) The clue in this dream is "some who fell, when they were running" — (I'm looking for a name) —

Then, I was looking for "something about horses", as I told you. The girl, who had her foot cut off when she fell through a glass door, when she was running, moved to Pompano (horses run there a lot!) —

What did the dream of this girl dancing mean? What dancer did I know of whose name tied in to this girl's last name? This girl's last name was CONNERS. The answer to this was "Donald O'Conner", the movie-star dance guy, I used to so admire. (Whether or not Donald O'Conner's name is Donald O'Conner or O'Connors I don't really know —)

Last night I dreamed that a man I know, whose name is GLASS, moved next door to me. The message from my brain to me, "glass door" — Relationship of haught's are "glass door, fell, cut off-foot, running" — hence, the last name is most likely O'Connors, or O'Conner, or Connors, or Conner. Now I had to hope that I could get a possible first name.

I thought about the fact that I wanted to sail, and time and again, as I plan a vacation, I've said, "I want to sail! I don't want to fly!" What that means to me is "Who said to me, I don't want to fly!" (Sailing being the alternative to flying) My dearest friend on earth, Kenneth, always hated flying.

I therefore feel that the person's name is O'Connors, or O'Conner, or Conner, or Connors.

There is a dancing school here named "HALL," so there is a vague possibility that "Hall" is the last name, but it would be last choice, in my opinion!)

Investigation: (including any further description of subject & vehicles)

At approximately 10:18 am, August 14, 1981, this investigating officer received a phone call from Bonny Johnson, the complainant, in reference to a composite that she had seen in the Friday morning addition of the Sun Sentinel News. She stated that she was at Denny's restaurant in the 1000 block of South Federal Highway, Deerfield Beach, and did see a man in there that, to her, matched the description that she saw in the paper. This is in reference to the Adam Walsh disappearance.

This officer, along with Det. Sgt. Rice, responded to the Denny's Restaurant. Once there, we did come in contact with the subject, Ronald Emerson Wynn. At this time we did have a conversation with Mr. Wynn, and did advise him that he matched the composite of a suspect in the Adam Walsh disappearance and murder. Mr. Wynn was very cooperative with these investigating officers. He did turn over to us his drivers license and registration to the vehicle that he was operating. The vehicle that he was operating at the time that we were talking to him was a 1962 GMC truck, lime green in color, bearing Florida RMF-447, and did come back listed to his home address of

On August 14th, 1981 at approximately 8:46 AM this officer responded to the Deerfield Beach Police Department in regards to a police information report.

Upon this officer arriving at the station I met with the complainant, Ms. Jackson who stated that when she watched the news on August 13th, 1981 and observed a picture of a man who was involved in an attempted abduction of a child in West Palm Beach she observed this gentlemen's picture and at that time discovered that she had believed she had seen this subject once before. The complainant further stated that one Sunday, approximately a month ago, unknown exact date, she was on the west side of the Deerfield Beach Post Office on South East 2nd Avenue when she observed a blue possibly Ford Van (dark blue in color) drive southbound on 2nd Street. Subject was looking out of the drivers window at the complainant and small white female child. He then pulled into the south side parking area of the Post Office, circled around and pulled back out onto South East 2nd Avenue continuing to look at the complainant.

Complainant then seeing that the Post Office was closed she entered her vehicle and left the scene. The Van then went southbound on South East 2nd Avenue while the complainant went northbound on 2nd Avenue where she did not see it again.

The complainant described the VAN as follows;

Possibly a 1978 to 1979 Ford VAN, a dull dark blue color, no windows on the drivers side, however there were two doors on the back of the VAN which both had windows (clear type). The VAN does have an outside mirror on the drivers door, a small square type mirror with a triangle type mount to the VAN.

The complainant stated that the driver of the VAN did fit the description of the suspect involved in the West Palm Beach case.

This officer took the complainant back to the Detective Bureau where she spoke with Sgt. Kramer. Sgt. Kramer did notify Hollywood Police Department due to the fact that the West Palm Beach attempted abduction is presently being cross referenced to the Adam Walsh murder case. Hollywood Police Department Lt. Hynes was notified at 9:45 AM this date at which time he spoke with the complainant in this case.

No further information at this time.

people, who either due to bad childhood, low self-esteem, something, think they can go out and take and abuse other people. But, these type of people are plentiful, unfortunately, so you have to work toward positive measures - just as you both have done.

I'm going out to mail all of this now - hoping it reaches you. I'm enclosing some articles about our ordeal - also the letter I wrote to the editor.

I just had to write this letter to you both, sometimes it helps to know what others have gone through, and that we will think of you and Adam. Again, much, much happiness and joy with your new baby.

Barbara

Barbara

she will have² to deal with that situation.

Last August, a week before Jeff's birthday, my brother appeared on local TV to talk about their life during the past weeks. It prompted me to write a letter to the Editor of the Santa Ana Register, an Orange County newspaper. It appeared Sat. Aug. 22. Three days later a 12 yr. old was kidnapped in Anaheim, a Register news carrier - sexually molested & strangled - dumped about 25 miles from home. I felt my article was to blame for that deep death. People tell me no, but it haunts me. I believe they feel the man apprehended 2 days later was not involved in Jeff's case - still, you never know. The deep mother is suing the state of Calif. for one million dollars for letting that creep out of Vacaville State Hospital 3 mos. prior to her son's murder. They claim he had been rehabilitated. This is where the problem begins. Without these creeps, we wouldn't need a clearinghouse for missing children. There are some

How do you get people more interested in this sad problem than in the ERA or the anti-nuc. movement or whatever else that can draw out so many thousands of people? People don't like sad items - it could happen to them - and while they are very saddened at the time, as the months go by, they think you should be forgetting it.

My husband says Jeff's death changed me - I'm now meaner, get angry at Chris (father). I get angry at him when he is told something and prefers to do as he pleases - especially not telling me whose friend's house he's at. I've gotten close to hysteria 2 or 3 times when I've had Bob go look for him. It can happen so fast, and then they are gone forever.

As Bob says, Chris will probably die hovered over a long time. Connie doesn't want Mike to be overly protected. Plus in Jan. he ~~doesn't~~ turns he no longer walks back & forth school, but she says in a few months when kids want more independence

Sat. morning

Dear Walter,

I reread your story this morning and cried so much again. When Bob and Chris got back from Chris' baseball game they both want to read the article.

I wrote the letter late last night, then couldn't go to sleep. As much as we all suffered, you both really went through living hell so many long days — then to have it end as it did, so sad.

Just ~~before~~ because Jeffrey was found and was buried, it didn't stop Connie & Bob from thinking at Christmas time that it was time for him to come back, he had been gone long enough. Nevertheless, they knew his fate. This is something all the parents with missing children who never return have to live with. Connie says they would have kept waiting for him to walk in the door.

Bill of Rights. People really went all out. Another proposition for more money for prisons was voted ^{in also.} ~~down~~ (by only 55%)
They want to stop crime - but not out of their pocketbooks (my husband calls me ^{it passed - I had} ~~thought~~ ^{it differently})
In Job's case, the Anaheim police had to go through 12,000 names of registered sex offenders in the Southern Calif. area. 12,000!
Plus, they molest a child and are out 3 yrs. later and do it again. Of course, the guys that hold up Bank of America are put away for 10 yrs. As I said, our priorities are mixed up.

I hope I haven't bored or upset either of you. What can be done to help? I notice in the magazine a Stolen Child Info. Exchange in Anaheim. Was it started recently? My brother might know more.

Much happiness and joy with your new baby. Again, if you have reached the end of this letter (my letters are always long) - you're both very strong people.
Sincerely, Barbara Gentner

Also Connie was contacted by Victims - a group of parents whose young teen-age sleep had been picked up hitchhiking & were murdered. She felt she was better off than a lot of them who had started going off the deep end. She also attended a meeting of Parents of Bereaved Children, but found she really didn't need a support group.
Pastor Bill, from Jeff's church, has been there for both of them and Michael.

I wish you both luck with your expected new arrival. I think it's a good idea to have another child.
Some people might disagree, but not
I. Of course, I was lucky to have Chris and would be thrilled if I had another - at almost any age.
Connie can not have anymore - she had a hysterectomy 2 summers ago. They have said they would not want another, but I think if they

Next weekend they do not want to be around the area so are going camping with friends. I, on the other hand, am going to the shopping center Jiff disappeared from and I'm going to sit and watch and see what could it have been like 1 yr. ago. My husband says I'm weird.

Something like this causes strange behavior. We don't want to see or hear any fireworks ever again.

Both of you really have been courageous and strong to get behind this need for help in finding missing children. My sister-in-law said last year she just couldn't help with anything. SLAM is an organization for "Strong Legislation Against Adult Molesters". They contacted me also, but I was back in college last fall - the best therapy for me, to keep extra busy, as I don't work.

at the same time. Plus you just don't see your children dying before you get old or ahead of you. My brother misses holding him and right after it happened he would hug and kiss Chris a lot as they were so close in age and size.

My brother had more bad luck early this year as he was laid off from his job at General Motors after 16 yrs. They closed down the plant in April. He was involved in some way with computers by the assembly line. He worked his way up there and feels GM made a lot of mistakes costing a lot of jobs. The three of them took a month trip across country visiting relatives & friends along the way. I think they needed to put these miles behind them. Everyone says the first year is the worst, but I think with the loss of a child you never get over it - never! Plus they don't blame one another - something I told them not to do early on. When I learned 75% of those marriages ended in divorce - they have given one another strength.

Mr. Walsh had referred to Adam. I'm thinking he and my brother would get along well if they met. Also I know Jeff and Adam are together in heaven, a place I believe has to be better than what we have here. A death as this has made me do a lot of thinking of God and religion. Bob and Connie also have become close to the Church where Jeff attended preschool. I think if you don't bring God into this tragedy, it would be difficult to reach some peace in your life.

I had not intended to go on so, but I feel I know you both from the article. You sound like the type of people that it would be easy to talk to even if these tragedies, which link us all, had never occurred. My brother is also 36, his wife 35. My husband is 40 and I'm 38. We have never had any bad luck in our lives, so when Jeff was murdered it was like double doses from the past and all the future years thrown at us.

They are also living and staying in the same house. Jeff's room is just as it was when he disappeared. His clothes are still in drawers, his stuffed animals "waiting" on his bed. The school work he had done for July 4th. still in his drawers. They are on year round school so he had just begun 1st. grade the day before on July 1st. He was ready to be a first grader then as he stayed in kindergarten 2 yrs. - he just wasn't ready to move up.

So much of Adam sounded like Jeff. He also loved hats, loved the water and could swim like a fish. He would have been 7 on Aug. 18 - only 6 weeks after he died. A few days before his birthday his gravestone was set in place. It was very difficult to see.

Also one other thing prompted me to write this letter. My brother also referred to Jeff as his best friend in one of the interviews, just as crowds even at the funeral. Some people say that is heartless of the media, but as the police pointed out, they wanted to show the public what was going on, to arouse public sentiment. There are two reward funds in Jeff's name, but no one has come forth with any information.

Jeff had an older brother, Michael, who is 11 and is doing very well. He has grown up a lot and we're very proud of him. My boy, Chris, was 7 when Jeff died and I think a little too young to really comprehend it all. He says he doesn't like to think about it because it's too sad, then goes to play. I feel I have aged in worry over him this past year. We all have thought "what if the murderer is close by". As my sister-in-law points out, he could be in the same grocery store with her while she's shopping.

The new Reader's Digest I received 2 weeks ago in the mail has also seen fit to put an article in it on missing children. When I read it and really thought about the fact that there is no clearinghouse or central location for reporting missing children, I tended to agree with the statement that our country's priorities are mixed up in our concern for stolen cars and not for stolen children.

My husband Bob and I have one son, Chris, who is 8. I used to do what you did when going to a mall - letting Chris go look at the toy store when I was right next door looking at clothes. Since Jeff's death, I don't do that anymore. It's hard to believe someone could take your child in a

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Walsh,

We have something in common. We have gone through the same painful experience of losing a loved one at the hands of another. In one week it will be 1 year since our little 6 yr. old nephew, Jeff, was found murdered. He, too, disappeared from close to home in Anaheim Hills by a chopping center. This happened on Thursday evening around 6 pm, July 2, 1981. The next day his body was found about 20 miles from home. It was dumped there after he had been strangled.

When I read about Adam in the July 20 Family Circle I just cried and cried for him. Reading your story was like reliving our family's tragedy. My brother Bob and his wife Connie have been truly

Outpouring of love eases pain

That people we don't even know would take the time to do these things has made Jeffrey's death a little easier to accept. It has eased some of the bitterness we felt and made us realize that there are still a lot of good people in the world.

Early on the evening of July 2, 6-year-old Jeffrey Vargo hopped on his bicycle outside his parents' story Anahelm Hills home and went for a ride from which he never returned.

He was abducted from a nearby shopping mall where he had gone to get fireworks. The boy was strangled that night and his body was dumped at a construction site in Pomona, 25 miles away.

Almost two weeks after David Vargo's murder, the

Some well-wishers especially come to the Vargos' aid. One woman sent a poem that she dedicated to Jeffrey's memory. A retired General Motors employee donated the use of three chauffeur-equipped limousines for the funeral procession. Neighbors, many of whom the Vargos did not know, put together an after-services dinner using food donated by local stores.

And a pastor, William Meyers, whom only Jeffrey knew through preschool, met with the Vargos every day last week.

"God sent us the pastor," Mrs. Vargo said. "He delivered a wonderful service at the funeral and he's

Abducted Vargo boy strangling victim

Neighbors grief-stricken and fearful

By Kathleen Hesthouse

ANAHEIM — A neighborhood banded together in grief and some fear Monday when it learned that 6-year-old Jeffrey Vargo had been strangled after being kidnapped last week, while on a short bicycle trip to his grandparents' home.

The boy's body was found at a construction site in Pomona early Friday. Neighbors are still in shock over how the youngster died. "It drifted into the well-kept neighborhood, some residents talked about fears they now have for their own children," said Connie Vargo, the boy's mother.

Neighbors hovered around the Vargo home doing needed chores and offering moral support.

"I can't believe the outpouring of love there has been, not just from friends but also from people we don't even know," said Connie Vargo, the boy's mother.

Her husband echoed her words. "People have been making breakfast for us, watering our lawn, all the things you have to do normally. It's been wonderful," Robert Vargo said. Neighbors also collected $1,000 for an award for information leading to the arrest of the boy's killer.

General Motors Corp., where Robert Vargo works as an engineer, offered an additional reward of $5,000. And police officers in Anaheim and Pomona donated money that raised the total reward offering to almost $10,000.

Not far from view in the outpouring of support for the Vargo family was the memory of a youngster who was described in terms such as "a very special person" and "an outgoing, energetic youngster who was everyone's friend."

His father recalled that his son had recently started school and was excited with having his own lunch pail and, best of all, his own desk.

Jeffrey's mother remembered how her son found it easy to make friends in the neighborhood.

"Jeffrey had a warm personality. And, she added as she reflected on the family tragedy, "Maybe this one time he was friendly with the wrong person."

Terry Finn, a Vargo neighbor, said: "We're all professional middle-class people. We're tired of this. If we can't buy a $250,000 home in a nice neighborhood and feel our kids are safe, where can we go? You expect things like this to happen in lower-class neighborhoods, but not here."

Another neighbor vowed her children from now on will travel in

The girl was abducted from a room of a neighborhood school. Police reported that she was sexually assaulted, choked into unconsciousness and then abandoned on a lonely Santa Ana Canyon Road.

It was after an autopsy Monday showed that Jeffrey was strangled that police indicated there may be a link between the two crimes.

While the girl had been identified, Pomona police detective Doug Foland said tests had not yet shown whether the murdered boy was sexually assaulted.

Once the test results are known, it is expected that police will check state Department of Justice records for cases similar to the two cases.

For now, police are asking for help in locating the suspect described by the girl victim.

He was described as a Caucasian male about 35 years old and roughly 6 feet tall. The man reportedly had blond, collar-length hair parted in the middle, a mustache and crooked upper teeth. The girl told police her kidnapper was wearing only blue nylon jogging shorts trimmed in white.

Funeral services for the Vargo boy will be at 7 p.m. at the White Funeral Home in Fullerton. He will be buried Thursday at Loma

Death at the age of 6

There is still an unsolved murder in Anaheim after six weeks. The murder is that of our six-year-old nephew, Jeffrey David Vargo.

He was the little Anaheim Hills boy who disappeared July 1. His body was found the next day in a Phillips Ranch construction site. He had been strangled. Jeffrey was grabbed from the family car and taken to the construction site. We have good friends who saw what he did.

Let me tell your readers how life is like after someone you love is murdered. The grief is all-consuming. The loss is like a part of your own body is missing. My brother and sister-in-law, Robert and Connie Vargo (Jeffrey's parents), have regained their lives, but the sadness is there on their faces constantly. Jeffrey's grandparents are bitter, angry and resentful. We all weep openly and often. Our family is close and loving and with this we are giving each other the strength to deal with the senselessness behind our loss. I hope you will never fully recover.

Jeffrey would have been 7 years old last Tuesday, and the thought of that is very sad. He will never get to graduate from school, or get married or become a daddy. That was taken from him, and from us, by someone who is lower than the lowest bit of living form.

This murderer is a bully who had to choose a young child; he is a real loser in life; he had no type of half-line parents who didn't give a damn; he has no self-esteem and really hated himself; he has a poor relationship with women; he will never forget Jeffrey's screams or the look on his face; and if I will tear up his insides even though he thinks he's a real tough guy.

Lear's hypocritical 1st Amendment fight

"Norman Lear Takes on the Moral Majority." So reads a headline in the Aug. 17 "Accent" section. It seems that Lear has formed his own group, "People for the American Way," with the main purpose is to combat the Moral Majority's efforts to limit "freedom of expression" (better known as sex and violence) on the TV screen.

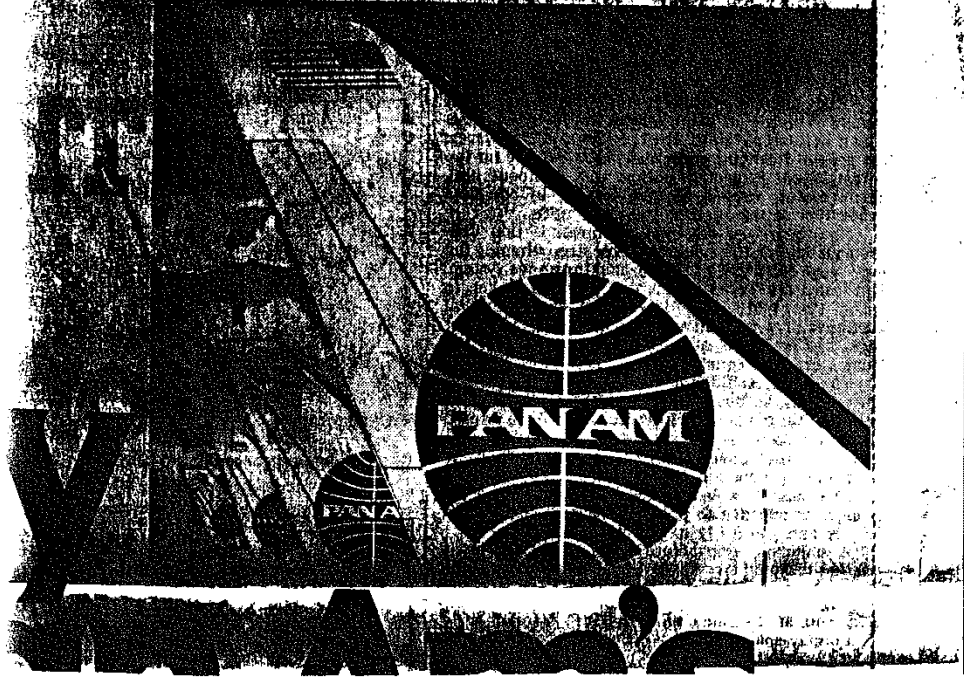

Anaheim... worked through the week...
...checking numerous telephone leads...
...turned up no suspects.
Meanwhile, the neighbors and friends of Jeffrey's parents have collected $2,500 for a reward fund for any information leading to the arrest of the murderer.
Vargo's employer, General Motors Corp. in South Gate, yesterday announced it would contribute $5,000 to the fund, which will be administered by the Anaheim police.

Yesterday, Vargo recalled that Jeffrey had helped him wash the car and mow the lawn before leaving to play at the shopping center.
"He was happy and smiling," Vargo said.
Jeffrey was described as "all boy," an avid soccer player and a "tremendous swimmer" by close family friend and neighbor Terry Finn.

"He was very loving, very intelligent, a youngster whom everyone loved," said Finn, remarking that the boy would have been "on Aug. 18."
Finn called the tragedy "an absolutely freak thing." Still, the incident has mobilized families living in the area.
"We are mad," she said, adding that parents are meeting this week to discuss security measures for their children.
"We are united and we do not intend to have our children threatened that way again. We are the parents of the children who were murdered."

Link probed in death of boy, attack on girl

Annie Nakao
Herald Examiner staff writer

Anaheim police are probing a possible link between Thursday's kidnapping of a 6-year-old Santa Ana Canyon boy and the brutal molestation and attempted strangling of a 10-year-old Fountain Valley girl three days before. While Anaheim police Detective Jerry Johnson said it was "too early" to establish a connection between the earlier abduction case and the murder of Jeffrey David Vargo, he said he is "pondering" the possibility.

A preliminary autopsy report yesterday showed the boy was strangled, but other lab tests are needed to establish whether he was sexually molested.

"We can't say it's similar until after an autopsy," Johnson said, referring to "waiting lab test results." But we are ruling it out. We were a wife of a case because it was a case to him.

Other Santa Ana Canyon area Jeffrey's parents, Corinne and Charles, who still live in the area, said they were sure their son was here because when he was

Ken was not more than a matter of 60 to 70 feet from my front lawn," said Robert Vargo. "The only reason is that my kid was in the wrong place at the wrong time."

Since the tragedy, the Vargos said they're grateful for the outpouring of support from friends and neighbors in the close-knit cul-de-sac in East Anaheim.

"People have been terrific," said Vargo in a phone interview yesterday. When Jeffrey was still missing, neighbors came over at 11 and 12 in the morning with their flashlights looking "Where can we look?"

The Vargos' ordeal began when Jeffrey disappeared near his Edgemar Avenue home, in the same area where a Fountain Valley girl was left for dead after being sexually attacked and nearly strangled.

The partially clad body of the little boy, who was last seen at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at a shopping center, was found 12 hours later at a construction site.

A joint investigation was conducted by Anaheim and Pomona police. Pomona police Lt. Kurt Lindberg said he's still searching for more physical evidence in the Vargo case and isn't looking at the Fountain Valley case at the moment.

However, Orange County Sheriff's investigators, in whose territory the incorporated Fountain Valley lies, said they've already forwarded data on the case to Anaheim police.

"We've been in contact with Anaheim and all the other agencies working on the case of the little boy," said Lt. Bill Hart of the Sheriff's Department. "There are similarities, but there are also dissimilarities. Obviously, we're not going to rule out the possibility that it's the same person. But we're not saying that it is either."

The girl was abducted shortly before 11 a.m. on June 29 in front of the Molala Elementary School in Fountain Valley, about 11 miles from Anaheim, said Orange County Sheriff's Lt. Dennis Rohn.

Rohn said she was approached by a white male on foot who pretended he had "something in his eye" and needed help. The suspect then grabbed the girl, covered her mouth with a paper napkin and forced her into a nearby car, Rohn said.

The suspect then reportedly drove the victim to a rugged area off Santa Ana Canyon Road between Anaheim and Corona, where she was sexually attacked and strangled, Rohn said.

Major crimes soar 0.1%, highest rise state since 1975

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Major crime in California increased an average of 0.1 percent during 1980 over the previous year, the highest yearly hike in 10 years against people and property since 1975. Attorney General George Deukmejian reported yesterday. Of all major offenses in California during 1980, Deukmejian said, 17.6 percent involved crimes against people, and 10.6 percent were property-related. Deukmejian said crimes against persons jumped by 12 percent, while crimes against property rose by 9.8 percent, the highest increases since 1975. The 140-page report was compiled by the state Bureau of Criminal Statistics. Also, according to the report:

- Willful homicides totaled 3,405 in 1980, a 13.5 percent rise over 1979.
- Killings of peace officers decreased 10 percent in 1980, compared with 12 percent the previous year.
- Robberies leaped by 16.9 percent in 1980, with armed robberies making up 60 percent of the total, or about 57,742.
- Thefts of $200 or more increased by 10.1 percent, the largest single rate of increase of all the major crimes.

The ~~probably~~ probability in my estimation is that these two young men already had a child living

If its theory # 2, I believe they moved to a new (^{private} home probably) belonging to one of them (I think they've got dough) and the older one only works at a good position. They would want to avoid suspicion at old neighborhood if neighbors close by. In either respect it is an experiment on their part of fulfillment and challenge & the psychological control thing would be quite different from hostage situation generally constructed recently. The conversion period will have a definite completion time in their minds after which I believe they will have to brag a little to intimate homosexual acquaintances about it but before that time I think they will be quite secretive about the whole thing to anyone at all.

After the conversion (if any is required in this case and I believe one in to an extent, they (the 3 or 4) [if it's 4 they may be will convert from a "bomb shelter" to a "showplace for homosexual acquaintances."

you boys can comb all the middle (upper

Why not a publicity campaign designed to applaud their sincerity and the worth of their intentions which doesn't except to the two of them appeal (I mean not to homosexuals in general.) (as being a homosexual thing)

If you can get them to come forth willingly before they are convinced the conversion period is over I don't think you will be wise to send the homosexual thing openly but ~~subtly~~ subtly include in the campaign that you are following them and will insist they must philosophically concede that the child should be returned. Psychiatrist in sex probe forced out of former jobs

By BOB TAYLOR
Staff Writer

A state Department of Mental Health official under investigation for alleged sexual harassment previously was forced to resign jobs in Kentucky and Montana it has been learned.

Dr. Paul J. Winkler, the choice of department Director Dale Farabee to head the office of Forensic Services left his post as a staff psychiatrist at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington, Ky. in 1978 after charges were made to what a hospital official said were "shortcomings in his patient care."

Sister Michael Leo, the hospital administrator, confirmed that Winkler resigned from the hospital's staff June 26, 1978, after the hospital's medical board considered "a list of charges" against Winkler.

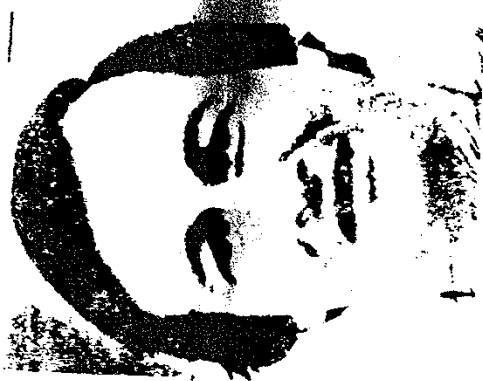

It also was revealed that Winkler abruptly left his subsequent job at a state-run Montana school for boys in October 1978 following an investigation by that state's attorney general's office into the Kentucky allegations.

Al Davis, superintendent of the Pine Hill School for Boys in Miles City, told The Sacramento Union that Winkler resigned before the conclusion of the investigation.

Davis who described Winkler's performance of duties at the facility as "satisfactory" said he suspended Winkler in response to an order from Larry Zanto, director of the Montana Department of Institutions.

Michael McCarter, an assistant attorney general in Montana acknowledged that the suspension came about as a result of "complaints referred to us from Kentucky which we were not aware of at

I'd like very much to know if Dr. Paul J. Winkler has been arrested in the state of Florida within the last 6 months.

Mr. Joe Famularo, our assistant U.S. Attorney told me several months ago that he thought that it had come through his office about 2 1/2 months prior to our conversation that Dr.
Paul J. Winkler was in jail, he thought, for a set crime. Mr. Famularo couldn't remember where Winkler was arrested, & said he'd try to find out for me. I wanted to tell the Justice Department where Dr. Winkler was in a problem!

Mr. Paul J. Winkler, we hope, will get this mad man's license revoked, rather his registration revoked (excuse my error.)

It is a known fact that Dr. Winkler has drugged men, raped a maid, & I suspect, killed Dr. C.
Elliott Ray, Dr. John Warren, and his two sons.
Winkler told the newspapers in California, in 1979, that I'd accused him of murder, & that he was going to sue me. He never did! Which tells nothing!

I heard that Dr. Paul J. Winkler was up once, maybe twice, in The Navy, for either child molesting or homosexuality. He is a known homosexual. He drinks, pops pills, loves guns! — He is, in plain words, a total psycho.

He was let go in California for sexually harassing a medical student. Mr. Wayne Wilson, of the Sacramento Bee Newspaper, sent me all the articles of stories there on Winkler. (This was 1979 - as I said)

I have called several states looking to see if Winkler was jailed there - He wasn't - I know he comes to Florida (to Naples) + the Keys - He "fishes" in and does lots of "not-so-nice-as-that" things!

Dr. Paul J. Winkler is a hypnotist, a genius, a criminal, and a totally dangerous man. The F.B.I. told me that Winkler was not in a Federal Prison. He's probably out by now. God help us all! Winkler make his patients take medicine that hurts, and could kill them!

Please let me know if he was arrested in your state. I'll phone the Justice Dept. + relay the info to them.

Thanks a lot,

St. Dubose,

These are the mental impressions I've come up with as I've mentally concentrated on the Adam Walsh case, as I've sought to help, via clairvoyance:

Apparently the man I saw in the dream, & sent the look-alike photo to you, is either a "man of the cloth," a Reverend or Priest, who uses God to "hide behind" to carry out his crime, or he pretends to be a "man of the cloth," and is a fortune teller, who uses this ruse to seduce and sexually assault, or worse! It is possible, of course, that he is a Reverend, or Priest, who is a fortune teller-hypnotist-seducer — and killer!

I met such a beast years ago when I and a friend went to see Reverend James Ellis (a real minister) who was a hypnotic seducer, and "fortune teller" — He hypnotized people with a handkerchief, which he kept wrapping and unwrapping around his hand! (As a clairvoyant, I knew exactly what the old devil was up to, but I didn't believe then, that one can be hypnotized against one's will (Now I know they can.) This man knows how to hypnotize you by startling you and I know now that that is a very easy way to do this. (I learned this from Psychologists) - many and people learn these simple techniques and use them on their innocent victims! Many books are available in "pulp stores".

The more I relax, the more information comes to my conscious mind, from the sub-conscious. As I say, the less I'm afraid, the more comes through.

This morning I thought about the dream I had where a "man of the cloth" ^(not in his robe, but in street clothes.) _{also talking to me.} In the dream, the "man of the cloth" said, "All right, anyone want to come along while I drive Mr. _____ (can't recall the name) to Frankfurt?"

Now, I had to interpret what info had been sent to me in that dream, as I continue to concentrate on the Adam Walsh case.

The "man of the cloth" was obviously that. What did the reference to Frankfurt mean? I lived in Frankfurt when I went to the Reverend - sex offender - hypnotist's house. What did the work, "Anyone want to come along while I drive?" mean?

This morning, after I arose, I got the answer, when this thought came to my conscious mind - "Father Pool lived in Frankfurt" - He was the Roman Catholic Priest there, and a fine & pious man! All right, I asked myself, after seeing that "Anyone want to come along while I drive?" " " " Pool - what "man of the cloth" in Frankfurt? Then I recalled Reverend James Ellis — a painful thought, because he'd gotten on his knees and ~~was~~ was feeling of me, sexually, — I screamed! My girl friend who was with me, + sitting in the other room heard me scream! I got off with a warning from this mad man that if I ever came back to his house, he would hurt me worse. (It needn't have bothered! He scared me half to death!)

In another dream, I saw a fallen jogger. One man said, when seeing foam on the sidewalk by the jogger, "What is that?" The other man said pointing to the jogger, "He has fits." The man beside him said, "I thought I saw him on his knees there."

All this about "he has fits," and "I thought I saw him on his knees there" shows my past experience with the evil Reverend — fortune teller — sex deviate, James Ellis.

The fallen jogger represents a friend of mine named "Casky" who ^{while jogging} fell and broke his leg several months ago, — (a fine man, and a wonderful father to his two adopted children. This dream again shows "Father", or REVEREND or Priest. By the fact that I chose to see Casky, I think that the man we're looking for could limp. It may simply be that

Child was almost harmed by a sex-nut ^{Joe} (he tried to get in her auto!) I still feel that by the fact my mind selected the one foggi^{g know}, who broke his leg, that the man we're looking for is crippled, & limps. (I think he is lame in his left leg or foot, making him limp.)

My friend Caskey, also plays Polo. I knew something about horses was in the puzzle. Caskey owns horses, & plays polo. Could it be that the killer limps because he had Polo ("polio") the subconscious, as I told you, talks in pictures and words often "sound like" other words —

Often when I concentrate on a case, I'll adopt certain ideas, for a short time. Like, while I've worked this case I want to sail. I've never wanted to sail! So I know the killer sails!

I know he was a fisherman because I've been singing fisherman songs! I get a lot of ESP clues from songs I sing.

I'm still trying to get the killer's name.
I'll let you know when I do. I'm blessed with a very cooperative mind, and daily
I program my mind to please give me the Name of the man who murdered Adam Walsh.
(God rest his dear soul!)

Chief of Police,

Dear Sir:

I have a strong feeling that I have come across a clue to the man who abducted the boy in Sears in Hollywood, Fla, who was later found in the canal.

Today, as I was shopping in Clothworld on North Federal Highway in Pompano Beach, a swarthy looking man, in his 40's, about 57 or 8 came in. His actions were highly suspicious. He stayed behind the stands holding the various fabrics, supposedly looking for a fabric - however, his eyes were not on the fabric but were perusing the store in the area of the cashier and the pattern department where women were selecting patterns. After surreptitiously watching him for several minutes, I reported to the manager that he may be facing a holdup. The manager began to carefully look the situation over - at which point the man walked to the other side (the south side of the shop), still looking and fingering, but mostly looking. Another thought that crossed my mind was that he was staking a woman for some reason - jealousy perhaps. However, that idea was soon dispersed when he decided to leave the store.

I had other business to attend to in that shopping area, but soon I saw him in an orange colored van with a luggage carrier on top in the rear and it hit me, that this could be the person who abducted the child in Hollywood. What better place to look for a child, than a clothing store while a mother could be busy looking at patterns and the child roaming around? The luggage carrier is also a perfect place to hide the remains of a child until they could be disposed of.

I feel strongly that this man should be investigated. His license No. was 101 VJI from New York. His actions were highly suspicious and the manager of the store also agreed that he could be up to no good. He was obviously not there to purchase fabrics or to use the bathroom - he was looking for someone.

I do not care to reveal my name at this time, but will sign myself -

I am a woman over 50 who has lived in this area for ten years, married and a church member -

Good luck!

Dear Sirs;

I have some information concerning the little boy kidnapped from the Sears store. I believe the name of the man who did this to be Carl Watson. I think he is a white male who has some kind of license number (but this I am less sure of) of the blue van may be 0P8436.

I have just written a letter, also to the Florida Police Dept. I am writing to you also because I am afraid that I'll just be considered a crank or nut and no one will check out this information. So I thought two letters would be better.

than one. I have hesitated about writing to anyone about this for quite awhile because I'm sure this will make me sound iery foolish. You may also just consider this a letter from some nut in Texas. I sincerely hope that you will have the time to check out this information.

I read the story in our newspaper. I'm just a housewife, but in the past I have had dreams and visions that turned out to be correct. The day that the news story came out that the little boy's head had been found, I had a vision of the little boy being led out of the store by a man and being driven off in a blue van. A couple of days later I read that a witness, another child, had seen this very thing happen.

The next vision I had was of the man dressed in camouflage fatigues cutting the boy with a curved knife (called machete?) that was so upsetting to me that I tried very hard not to think about the matter any further. I had the distinct impression that the man was a Vietnam veteran and has won a medal (heart?) I'm not familiar with war medals. I drew the man's picture and sent it along with my letter to the police. I'm not sure it's a very good likeness, though.

Recently, I had a vivid dream on the same subject and upon awakening, I prayed to Jesus Christ for the man's name. It is Carl Watson.

I don't know anyone by that name and I've never even been to Florida. I do feel, strongly, though, that I must write you with this information. I'd feel terrible if I didn't write and it turned out that the man could have been caught sooner if I had. He must be caught before another child is lost.

Please, sis, even if I sound like a nut to you. Even if you do not believe in ESP. Please believe if you do not believe that answers come in dreams. Please check this out.

Dear Sgt. Smith:

This is the composite that appeared in our newspaper which prompted the call from a visitor from your area.

We have no name on this subject yet, however two possibilities are:

- 1. Michael Gene Nixon 12/25/58
- 2. Todd Vincent Hoskinson 1/22/61

Both of these individuals are local people and we don't know if they have been in Florida.

The homicide that we are investigating relative to this composite happened at approximately 12:20 A.M., 8/30/81 in a parking lot of a bar/restaurant. The victim was stabbed 4 times in the chest with a kitchen knife with an 8" blade. Robbery is apparent motive and the knife was recovered.

If we can be of any assistance to you in the future, please call.

Sincerely,
Charles Tyne

Dear Jim,

What a person isn't familiar with often sounds non-sensical, for example, if I knew nothing of detective work, and you when trying to help me spoke to me of "procedures", or "ballistics", it could sound like nonsense to me. Each of us know different things — and in the field of Clairvoyance there are so few qualified persons, and so many books that it's doubly hard —

To show you that my mind juicy can up with the name I'd had clues to for 4 1/2 months, or to the exact conditions that the name gives I'll relate it now to you. Last night, exactly as I was ready to awake, I heard one man ask another, "What name would you put to the man that killed Adam Walsh?" The other man said, "GARNER". (This is my mind's way of having me remember info, giving me the answers seconds before I awake.) There it was! The one name that my subconscious had been giving me in for so long. (I resisted the name because I dislike greatly one RALPH GARNER, a man who said he used to look into my windows (transparent matter) I "peeped into" in the dreams I discussed with you. This Ralph Garner person lived right next door to me I grew up next door to him. He used to hide behind the garage doors and try to "make out with girls" in our neighborhood, when he was young.

since he threw a rock & split my forehead open. My father whipped him so severely that "he had a fit," (remember my dream reference to "he has fits") jumping up and down, & yelling.

I did not associate with Ralph Garner after that, until years later, "he fell down" and broke a bone in his leg, & I took him a piece of birthday cake.

My senior prom dance was held in the school "gym" and Ralph Garner was to take me there. He took me in his car, and made advances toward me, which I wouldn't tolerate. He dropped his "fellow-well-met" pose (the pose he "hid" behind), and was mean, and ugly with me. When we arrived at the prom, I asked a friend to drive me home. I never spoke to Ralph Garner from that day to this.

As I dreamed these dreams after programming my mind to please give me the name of the man who killed Adam Walsh, I know that these dreams relate to the Adam Walsh case. Now, the name given was the last name. I knew the first name, by the "clues". So, as I told the woman there who takes your messages when you're out, the murderer of Adam Walsh is either a man named "GARNER" - or a man whose first name is "Ralph" - either that, or my mind is telling me that Adam Walsh had a next-door neighbor, who hid behind a friendly pose, and who got him in his car, and treated him terribly & in a mean way. (No doubt raping him, and then murdering him.)

The body of the headless male wrapped in plastic shower curtain, represented a knowledge given to me that the young woman who was murdered here in a motel shower, died after sexual intercourse by having her throat cut by her assailant. My mind showing me (How) Adam Walsh died. (The killer cut the victim's throat, in this case he used a broken bottle. Adam's murderer may have used a knife. What an awful death!)

The three men I saw in a dream with the shower curtain wrapped around them to "Keep them dry in their cleaning", could mean, as I said, the killer is, or was, in the dry cleaning business, or could be a doctor, or could be an insurance man ("protecting" one from water).

The older man that I saw in the dream, whom I believe is Adam Walsh's murderer, may wear a usual style hat for men, parked on the back of his head. I recall he wore one when I saw him the ESP picture. He wore expensive clothes, but NO TIE. He is heavy, and has flesh around the neck that forms rings about 1/2 wide under his jaw & chin, when his head is only slightly lowered. I'd say from the "smile" that he is a person who is poker-faced, even when he's being "friendly" and playing the part of good old "Jimmie", or "Johnnie", or "Ralph". He is well known, and well thought of! He is over 55. Comes from a good neighborhood.

It occurred to me that if he is, or was, an insurance man, he arranged it where part of the body would be found, making the insurance company pay (most insurance men hate the companies they work for.)

I think it is possible that the murderer kept & buried the rest of the body. This man is "insane", & insane people often bury the bodies on their own home property, as you know.

I can tell you as an astrologer of 20 years, that ^{right} now the information coming into this case has an 82% chance of coming to a fruitful conclusion. I have looked at a lawyer's chart, and by looking at the star pattern of the deceased person involved in claim cases, hit with 82% accuracy whether or not, the case would be won! (No star pattern is over 82% accurate in any one planetary motion of a planet) As I told you, most of astrology is nonsense, but a small part of it is very helpful.

Yesterday & today, all planets were in a degree relative to the date of Adam Walsh's kidnapping. It will be a long time before that happens again - so, I encourage you to see to it, as I know you will, that the info I put in is looked into very carefully!

I'm not interested in publicity, or money - I'm interested in justice, just as you all are. This winds it up for me, Jim, as I can "feel" when I've "hit it" in a case solution. Give love all I can. Thanks for your help, & patience. Happy New Year, and good luck on this, & everything else!

Tracy Green

Anyway, the man I saw in the ESP dream is not the Ralph Garner that I know here.

Adam's murderer could be named "Ralph Garner", but that would be a million-to-one-shot!

Dear Jim -

Tried to reach you on the phone, but since you aren't due back til Monday, I'll write what I want to say.

I want to add this "P.S." to my last letter - Some of this I told to Dennis Naylen - In adding all ESP things together so I can put this behind me, I want to add this possibility from my dream concerning my mental programming in hoping to get info on the Dam Walsh case.

Now, I only know two people named "Ralph" - The dude next door that I grew up beside, and my "uncle Ralph" (a lovely man) - Now, Jim, what the word uncle means to me, combined with wrestling, is a man I met about 10 years ago. He was raped by his uncle - His name was Tony PABAZOLO, and he was a young man, who was a SALES (SAIL?) MAN - This man was nice enough, but his rape experience, I felt, had turned him into a sub-conscious "Hustler" of women - Remember I told you of my dream of 3 guys, who looked like wrestlers, being in a big rush (to rush is to "hustle") The man I saw in the dream is not Tony Pabazolo (he's younger, & handsome) - but it could be my mind's way of telling me that "Adam was raped by someone called Uncle So-+so, or, perhaps, a great uncle (I hope not!) The man I saw in the dream would be so old to be a young child's uncle - It could be, but I don't think so, that a man named 'P-A-L-A-Z-O-L-O is the killer - There are two in you

The Monday that little Adam Walsh was reported missing, at the time I did not know until Tuesday morning while listening to the news.

You let me explain what happened Monday night between the hours of 7 to 7:30 nearer to 7:30. I was sitting on one of those marble steps having a smoke, while waiting for a friend of mine who went to Woolworth's to shop. A boy who I will describe to you, was wearing a red baseball hat which was large for his head that the hat was hanging on to his ears, he also had a red shirt, white socks and blue shoes. You couldn't help seeing him because it was odd to see a boy, in a red baseball skin, that I am trying to see, you couldn't help but notice him.

He was sort of trotting, he stopped short looked around as if he was looking for someone, I saw this man, ran to him and held his hand, I remarked to this man and told him he had a cute son, He paid some attention to what I said, kept walking north in the arcade, towards the direction of public, Now let me describe this man. He was 6 or 7' tall, had a Cowboy hat & Boston a pale complexion and if this man had a Cowboy hat, I could almost say that this is the man who was walking with this boy. He also was wearing a sort of light tan & white stripe shirt, which looked more tan than white and looked as if he weighed about 210 to 220 lbs. This boy did not go to a stranger, He went to someone he knew

Dear Mary and Tom;

It is with profound regret that I failed in my attempt to force disclosures and stop the assassinations of innocent people caught up in our just cause, by not being allowed to go to trial for stacking 8/18/80. Tom, you will no doubt remember my response to your question about being held in Fulton County jail. "I'm just happy to be here." "at least there will be no more" killings while I'm in here."

and Mary; I also remember your reaction, as we sit on the bench just outside of the federal Marshall's office that day in Atlanta. I could see that my repeat-false allegations produced a puzzled expression on your face and I didn't blame you for not believing them because my name did not surface in the first part of Watergate, 1967 - 8/18/80. Hopefully the same will not be allowed to continue much longer. Watergate and its subsequent coverup has resulted in three more brutal assassinations since I was denied court and put on a bus out of state November 26, 1980.

There is ^{no} ^{trivial} motives that I will not go into at this time for their latest fear-murders. But I can substantiate when the time arrives.

Sandwich in between these latest Nixon - maps - @ in the Secret Service I knew Nixon, was going to My first receipt was of registered mail to the

of Mr. Nixon, purchasing a home in N.J.
The next reaction, was Linda Fieldhaus, a look-alike of both Mary and my daughter Deborah. (Her throat was cut from ear to ear almost to the point of deception.) He lived a short - stint away from me.
Then another letter to Barbara Walters. Then came August 10, 1981. (How many times this past - decade -

You see the people had no reader suit to ourselves, we could not retain a Venango County Attorney to seek justice on our behalf. We had other attorneys than Butler and Pittsburgh, but the Governor and the Attorney General scared them off. Back in 1967 I spoke to the people about what we would encounter and what we would have to cope with in our struggle to come. It sustained us through our path to victory. It is not an easy road, but it is a road that is worth the effort. It is that if a man like Lester Maddox can become the Governor of one of our states as a direct result of his political action, America, one can be elected in another because he stood up and spoke out on behalf of his fellow men. All it took was an pledge of both major political parties. Remember how they seemed to help us date our 70 year old constitution. They kept the state constitution allowing for a state income tax. One of the victims was reported to have been a relative of the district attorney prosecuting this case. After careful checking the history of Venango County's Justice, I find that, ever had any one been sentenced to a penitentiary term for doing a wrong while under suspension of operators privileges. I do see the question of morality in this case, but one of legality.

For this reason, we asked Mr. Blum to submit his "convention impressions" that our readers might see the convention from just a little bit different angle.

Miami Beach, Aug. 5-This reporter on special assignment for the Forest Press, covering the Republican Convention in Miami, was impressed by the gathering of such elite members of the Republican party.

The traffic jams; the impressive new $4 million convention hall; Rocky's go go girls; the marching, fully dressed high school girls for Nixon; and the teeny crowds of humanity. I shall forego going into detail this which you have already seen on TV.

Entrance into the arena itself, was to say the least, difficult. There was an outer ring of helmeted state troopers, an inner ring of inconspicuous gentlemen in dark business suits. One knew immediately that they were far from tourists taking snap shots. Most impressive, though, were the helmeted State Troopers on the roof of the Convention Hall entrance holding automatic rifles. With this view in sight, I looked at the other buildings in the area, across the street; and high on the roofs of these buildings I could see great numbers of gray and black-suited men silhouetted against the sky. The troopers would stand for me "from tonight!" I must have the face of an All American boy. (It was two days of me. I still). I was admitted without fanfare. My entrance was through Gate A, Section 1, Row M, Seat 13 (my lucky number).

The convention building inside is best described as "huge." The ceiling has the appearance of the top deck of a ship turned upside down. The air intakes jutting down to various levels (in the case of the arena itself) were giant air conditioners which bring the temperature to perhaps 70 degrees. In contrast to the heat outside, this was a pleasant temperature. At this time of the Forest Press goes to press, balloting has not yet started on the various Presidential candidates. At this moment, based on what I have seen and heard, I predict that Nixon will win on the first ballot.

Sgt. Stack is 23 years old, a native of Oil City. He related his experiences in Viet Nam as follows: "Charlie can sometimes be seen ten feet away; but we can't defend ourselves until he shoots first."

"There is mud everywhere-and mosquitoes." (He showed me scars from infected mosquito bites.) "The mosquitoes are so bad the soldiers dig a hole in the mud, put their sleeping bag in this hole, and then cover it with mud." he continued. As we circled over Joy Manufacturing in our approach to the Franklin Airport, his face beamed with the joy of homecoming of one having been away for two years.

"I'm going to get down on my hands and knees to kiss the ground," he said. "I've been half way around the world, but this is it -- a place where everyone is friendly and when someone is going to hit a groundsman at you. No laughter, shouting out of the ground."

As he related this homecoming jubilation, he fingered the fleshy part of his throat between the adams apple and the chin to reveal a rolled 3-inch scar tissue, and said: "I must have nine lives. I'm glad I was knocked unconscious by the mortar shell, or I would have panicked when Charlie ran his knife across my throat!" As the wheels of the plane touched the ground, he shouted, "They're here -- Mom and Dad! I'm home!" Yes, Sgt. Stack -- we were home -- to our country. Soon, we pray, that we can welcome

Complacency

Is A Blight

COMPLACENCY is a blight that saps energy, dulls attitudes and causes a drain on the brain.

The first symptom is satisfaction with things as they are; the second, a rejection of things as they might be. Suddenly it's easy to accept all the patterns of ideas and projects that worked yesterday "Good enough" becomes today's watchword and tomorrow's standard.

From "good enough" it's a short step to saying: "Let someone else try the new thing first."

Complacency makes people fear the unknown, and distrust the untried, and alienate the new. The status quo looks like a way of living, but it's really a path to slow death.

Like water, the man with complacency follows the easiest course downhill. But he draws fake strength from

Dear Mr. + Mrs. Walsh:

I know, after all this time that you both are as shocked as I am about your son Adam. If I could I would have and would now give my life to have him restored to you.

I hope you will not think me a cruel man for what I am about to disclose. Perhaps it will even help you both at first, because it will be explained that your son was not just picked up indiscriminately from

It was for a definite purpose.
That, I'm sorry to say, is myself.
Many times I have started to

This was the day that through my effort a President resigned his office.

Reflections on a mall and Adam Walsh case

John Walsh, who works at the Southeast Bank of Orlando Springs, called me by phone Wednesday to talk about general shopping was a fun conversation mostly, but then things changed.

John mentioned something about some baseball player being all arms and legs, but then as if a switch was thrown, we both immediately started talking about Adam Walsh. Adam was the 8-year-old boy whose head was found floating in a Central Florida canal last week after an intensive nationwide search.

You see, both John and I grew up in Hollywood, near the mall where Adam disappeared.

We both were little boys who went with our moms to the Hollywood Mall. We both used to go to the toy department at Sears, just as Adam Walsh did.

And we both know those magic words about waiting "right there" until Mom came back.

The Hollywood Mall and Sears is a part of John's boyhood and mine.

We both used to go to Sears Sport Shop to look at the baseball gloves. We both used to cruise through the mall, checking out the various shops and visiting the books and comics young boys find in large places.

There used to be the guy who did portraits with a string of beads. No matter what happened, when the artist got done, the people all looked just a little different from their neighbors (or was it the other way around?).

There in the Orange Bowl, where we'd get pizza at the store where I bought one of my first bikes.

In all, the Hollywood Mall was a good place for us.

Adam Walsh was a little too young to have had the chance to ride his bicycle there and buy a new piece of bubble gum. He didn't get the chance to have adventures there, either, playing tennis at David Park, or golf at Orangebrook, or seeing a movie on a rainy Saturday afternoon. All those places are within walking distance of the mall. Within walking distance of Sears. Within walking distance of the toy department that Adam Walsh disappeared from.

It is worth noting that perhaps, just perhaps, this incident, no matter how brutal, was overplayed.

After all, Adam Walsh made good copy. It is almost a classic human-interest story.

That is the kind of thing that worries me sometimes. The power of this medium we call the press is sometimes so far-reaching, so completely absorbing, that few people miss something as bizarre and penetrating as this story. Almost everybody knows the tragic story of Adam Walsh by now.

And maybe in this instance that is good. Mothers all over Florida are keeping their kids a little closer to their sides this week. They will think each time they want to look at dresses or shoes or whatever that somebody else's child disappeared when she took her eyes off him for a minute. A few fatal seconds that wouldn't have seemed any more unusual or out of the ordinary than crossing the street or starting the car.

But for Reve Walsh, a woman who lives in the city where John and I grew up, that one second will linger in her mind for the rest of her life. Nobody can blame her. It's not her fault. It's just one of those things moms do with little kids when they go shopping.

When going out to lunch Wednesday, after word of Adam's murder began to spread, I noticed a woman with a whole string of kids going shopping. She had her eye on each of them.

When one kid started to wander she yelled at him to "get back over here young man." He grumbled and did so right away. My friend John and I both did a little side-step when we first heard that

(Adam Walsh Country.)

Dear Mr. Walsh:

I was recently in Hollywood, Florida, in an attempt to locate the parents of young Adam Walsh, but to no avail. I wanted Mr & Mrs John Walsh, to learn why their son was wasted, in the most terrible-act my adversaries have ever perpetrated. (It could have been any-boy-child, but one from Hollywood.)

You may wonder, if I have information on Adams murder, "why haven't I come forth before this...?"

I can assure you that I have and if you do not think (once they knew who I was) that 1 more

they took me serious, let me get back to my phone-conversations with Mr. Fred Barbetta, & detectives Hoffman & Hickman.

and at an interview with these two mentioned investigators, at the

I shall give you a good example, one that you can check up on

Not being able to contact you up the address of The Fort - Faunderdale News. Phoned the Editor, & was put on the phone with the assistant Editor Ken, somebody. I asked him if he would be interested in information about who murdered your son, and why his head was placed on the bank (not in the water itself) of an Indian River County canal.

He asked where I was, and what my name was. I gave him the answer to both questions.

My location was a phone booth at the library, about 2 miles - away. He gave me the directions to his office and I arrived there about 5-minutes later.
3 more

Ken, was on the phone, as he asked me to talk to a women reporter. He guardedly spoke in confidence, into her ear.

I'm sure now, from something she said near the end, "when did you get out of the hospital?" That lie, was probably what the Hollywood P-D, had told the editor on the phone, "Why would they tell the editor a bare-faced lie...?" Naturally to discredit me, with the newspaper-people.

If you would visit Vero Beach, and talk to the Western Union operator, who has a friend, high in the Vero Beach, Fla P-D, she will verify the fact that I sent some wires to P.C. on Adam Wataha - killers.

She will also tell you that her friend in the Vera Beach, P.D. acknowledged to her (what is an open understanding, within police circles) "that it was a political - killing."

Here we have the answer of why you were never told the truth about your sons death.
The key is the date, that Adams head was placed on the

Meanwhile, I'm working on a solution that will bring out these allegations of all those-innocents wasted, as a warning that if I do not stop my resistance, my own grandchildren will end up the same as adam.

What really panicked them was (to her) an innocent ad-lib

DUNGEONS & DRAGONS or KNIGHTS IN HOLY LEGISLATION

CALIFORNIA CONGRESSMAN ROBERT DORNAN IS NOW TRYING TO HAVE FEDERAL LEGISLATION PASSED TO PREVENT SOME RECORD PRODUCERS FROM ALLEGEDLY INCORPORATING "SATANIC" MESSAGES IN RECORD ALBUMS. ACCORDING TO MR. DORNAN THE MESSAGES CAN BE HEARD BY PLAYING THE RECORD BACKWARDS. I DIDN'T EVEN KNOW YOU COULD PLAY A RECORD PLAYER BACKWARD?

I CAN'T HELP FEELING THAT MY SENSIBILITIES ARE BEING BLUDGEONED AND FORGED INTO THE RAGE AND POWER OF A VOLCANO! IS THERE NO END TO THIS SILLY "FIDDLING" WHILE ROME BURNS BY THE RADICAL RIGHT WING RELIGIOUS FANATICS!?

I ASSUME, THAT IF MR. DORNAN BELIEVES IN SATAN HE MUST ALSO BELIEVE IN SANTA CLAUS, THE EASTER BUNNY, THE BOOGIE MAN, AND THE TOOTH FAIRY!!

J. B. S. HALDANE COUNTS FANATICISM AMONG THE ONLY FOUR REALLY IMPORTANT INVENTIONS MADE BETWEEN 3000 B.C. AND 1400 A.D. IT WAS A JUDAIC-CHRISTIAN INVENTION. (HALDANE, The Inequality of Man. NEW YORK FAMOUS BOOKS, Inc., 1938) p. 49. IT IS ALSO IMPORTANT TO NOTE THAT PEOPLE LIKE ADOLPH HITLER EMPLOYED THE CONCEPTS OF FANATICISM VERY WELL.

MR. DORNAN'S PERFECT POLITICAL TIMING VIA THE F.B.I. COCIANE STING OPERATION WILL SURELY PROPELL HIM INTO THE U.S. SENATE, BUT DO LITTLE TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM. GREAT MOVE SIR, I CON-GRATULATE YOU! TO FURTHER INSURE THAT PEOPLE DON'T ABUSE THEMSELVES AND OTHERS LETS REVIVE THE ALCOHOL PROHIBITION ERA AND THAT WAY WE CAN ALL MOVE BACKWARDS IN TIME TO "THE GOOD OL DAYS".

IN ALL SINCERITY MR. DORNAN, "HOW MANY ANGELS CAN DANCE ON THE HEAD OF A PIN"? WHEN YOU CON-DUCT YOUR FIRST "WITCH BURNING" AT THE STAKE, WOULD YOU PLEASE NOTIFY ME PERSONALLY? THANKS, I REALLY WANT TO SEE THIS WORLD RID OF EVIL! I GUESS WHEN THE REAL EVILS OF THIS WORLD ARE SO DEEPLY EMBEDDED IN FINANCIAL AND POLITICAL SECRET SOCIETIES, THESE SO CALLED LEADERS MUST CREATE SUCH REDICULOUS DRAGON PURSUITS AND WITCH HUNTS TO LET THE PEOPLE REALLY KNOW THEY'RE DOING SOMETHING TO EARN THEIR FAT WAGES, PERKS, AND DOUBLE DIPPING PENSION OPPORTUNITIES!

MR. DORNAN THE ONLY "SATANIC" FORCES THAT EXIST IN THIS COUNTRY ARE THE ONES THAT ARE CREATED BY CORRUPT INSTITUTIONS, LEADERS, AND POLITICIANS THAT ARE REALLY ONLY INTERESTED IN ACHIEVING THEIR ^{OWN} ECONOMIC POLITICAL POWER BASE. YOU CLOWNS WONDER WHY THERE IS SO MUCH CRIME IN THE STREETS, BELIEVE ME, THE PUBLIC IS ONLY FOLLOWING THE EXAMPLES SET BY THE CORPORATE, POLITICAL, AND WHITE COLLAR CRIMINALS!

YOU SHOULD HANG YOUR HEAD IN SHAME AND RESIGN FOR WASTING OUR TIME AND MONEY WITH SUCH STINKING PROPAGANDA PLOYS. IF YOU DON'T HAVE THE GUTS TO DO THAT, JUST GO STAND IN THE CORNER FOR AN HOUR!!!

A CAPITALIST MAL-CONTENT, WHICH IN YOUR RIGHT WIND EYES MUST SURELY EQUATE TO A LEFT WIND ATHLETE, RIGHT? ISN'T THAT HOW YOU FOLKS PLAY THE GAME?

DEAR MR. & MRS. WALSH,

MY NAME IS JOHN STACK, HOW ARE YOU FOLKS DOING? I'VE SEEN YOUR STORY TWICE AND AS A SINGLE PARENT OF A TEN YEAR OLD SON I'M VERY SCARED AND VERY VERY ANGRY!

YOUR STATEMENT ABOUT NOT UNDERSTANDING THE PRIORITIES OF THIS COUNTRY WHEN IT COMES TO THE PROTECTION OF OUR CHILDREN RATHER SURPRISED ME. IF YOU LOOK AT THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD, THE ABUSE, MAYHEM, AND EXPLOITATION OF CHILDREN IS NOTHING NEW. IN SCOTTLAND MOTHERS HAD TO TAKE THEIR BABES INTO THE COAL MINES WHILE THEY BROKE THEIR BACKS TRYING TO MAKE ENOUGH MONEY TO FEED THEM. REMEMBER, THIS COUNTRY HAD TO PASS CHILD LABOR LAWS TO STOP THE BRUTAL EXPLOITATION OF CHILDREN BY THE PILLARS OF INDUSTRY? NEED I SAY MORE?

THERE HAS BEEN A FELONY COMPLAINT ARREST WARRANT ISSUED FOR MY EX-WIFE FOR FAILURE TO PROVIDE CHILD SUPPORT. THE D.A. JUST INFORMED ME THAT THE COLLECTION OF CHILD SUPPORT HAS VERY LOW PRIORITY. NOTHING NEW TO ME, 90% OF THE PARENTS COURT MANDATES TO PAY IT STOP PAYMENTS AFTER TWO YEARS! WHEN I TOLD HIM MOST OF "CHILDRENHOOD" SEEMS TO BE A LOW PRIORITY AREA, AND YET THE F.B.I. HAS PLENTY OF TIME AND MONEY TO RUN STING OPERATIONS TO ENTRAP SOME ROTTEN CONGRESSMAN, THAT WE ALL KNOW ARE PART OF THE SYSTEM, WHY ADMIT THEY RUNNING STING OPERATIONS TO FIND OUT WHAT'S HAPPENING TO THE 50 TO 100 THOUSAND CHILDREN THAT GO MISSING EACH YEAR IN THIS COUNTRY NEVER TO BE SEEN AGAIN. HIS ANSWER, "WELL, THERES NO MONEY OR PRESTIGE IN IT FOR THEM".

I'VE WRITTEN A VERY HARD HITTING DOCUMENTARY FILM PROPOSAL ABOUT THIS SUBJECT RECENTLY, NO ONE HAS SEEN IT, NOR DO I HAVE THE TIME TO SHOP FOR PRODUCTION MONEY. IT ALSO SUGGESTS IN BASIC DETAIL HOW THERE CAN BE A NEW PROTECTION SYSTEM DESIGNED AND DEVELOPED FOR CHILDREN. IF YOU FEEL YOU HAVE THE TIME AND AVENUES TO SECURE NEEDED FUNDS I WILL BE HAPPY TO SEND YOU THE PROPOSAL UPON WRITTEN REQUEST. IT SHOULD BE PRODUCED AND DISTRIBUTED A.S.A.P. YOU CAN SEE HOW CONGRESSMAN DORNAN SPENDS OUR TIME.

SINCERELY YOURS,
John P. Stack

To Whom it may concern:

It is with pleasure that I recommend to you Mr. John Stack, who has been employed by our company for seven months as an automotive salesman. Mr. Stack is a young man of high character. In addition to his selling ability, his tasks included all phases of handling the public needs in relationship to automotive sales and service. In the performance of those tasks Mr. Stack has shown excellent general ability. He is accurate, neat, and punctual. He is courteous and reliable in every way.

I COULD NOT RECOMMEND MR. STACK MORE HIGHLY.

Yours sincerely,

RE: County of Shasta, State of California vs.
Joy Kyun Ja Stack, Your URESA # 9218(R),
Our # 69579

Gentlemen:

A review of our file in this office indicates that a URESA Petition was forwarded to your office per our letter of April 6, 1981. We have yet to receive any Order for support after providing all information requested concerning Affidavits, phone numbers, school attendance records, and addresses where the Complainant and minor child resided even prior to the date this office opened it's file.

Your latest inquiry of January 14, 1982 was promptly answered per our letter of January 19, 1982; however we have heard nothing further since our letter.

It is impossible to understand why it is taking so long to bring this matter before the Courts to obtain an Order for support and arrearages, since the granting of aid in Shasta County September 1, 1980.

Should you not be able to proceed in our behalf, please advise, as it will be our intention to proceed to obtain a Felony Complaint and Warrant for Joy Stack's arrest pursuant to 270 of the California Penal Code. Should we not hear from you otherwise, by early June 1982, we will proceed as outlined above.

Very truly yours,

Dear Jim —

I want to ask you a question.

Do you think that by the narrowest of coincidences that the name of Adam Walsh's killer could be the same as the ^{last} name of the killer here who cut the throat of a go-go dancer in a motel shower, several years ago? This dude was convicted here in 1976-

I programmed for a name, as you know, and I discussed with you how the shower curtain dreams, "cut throat wife" my mind showed me reminded me of that case here. (I told you that I'd mentioned the killer's name 4 hours before he killed this girl!)

The name of the go-go girl's killer ^{here} was AMBURGEY — (if I recall correctly his first name was "John") Hence, all my dreams about "John" (including "tails" etc.)

This dawned on me today when I thought how many ^{of my} dreams concerned people leaving, or going — and that a "Cushman", that postman trucks, are only go-carts of a kind. ("go-go")

If we made all this harder than it is for a year, I'll just scream! (Ha! Ha!) We often fail to recognize sheer coincidence, & just discard a real clue, or solution — what do you think ????

Thanks,
New Mexico

Dear Jim —

Just left a message there for you — I think I finally see what my mind has been trying to get across to me!!! Thank God!!!!

Yesterday I could put it together. If I had decided to walk around the corner to get a coke, I'd have missed it! Fate is a funny thing! —

The mind disguises people we don't like — That's why I've had a hard time with this — my nice lawyer and friend, Pete, the one who was carried out of Europe in a suitcase during war. He (remember?), and who now only take claims for accident cases, once lived in the apartments behind me (they are painted yellow, like my garage) in an apartment called Anderson Apts, which is owned by a man named Harry Jones — We all dislike Harry Jones because he had constructed a big, ugly yellow apartment behind the apartment where Pete used to live, and we all feel it doesn't comply with zoning laws, as there is no enough parking area; we feel angry + can't stand him

So, I dreamed about Pete, standing with another man, behind some shelves holding merchandise displays, (I didn't want to see Jones) and Pete said in the dream "He wants to buy some real-estate" This is showing me real-estate connected in some way with Pete, and a man he + I know — Jones.

Remember that I programmed my mind for a man

(you remember my "beating to death" the clue + name of Harry)
3. Anderson.

After I could put this together, I kept hearing Perry Como singing in my mind (I had this happen all the time when I was working on this case) and I found out through the phone service that there is a Como Hairstylist there! This person were looking for might have worked there when Ada was kidnapped, or may work there now, too — This could also merely show Hairstylist, or barber (second choice) — You recall my saying that before — The last clue "Perry Como could mean is that our killer is a Taurus (Perry Como is a Taurus born man, I know) — As you know, Perry Como used to be a barber — could mean that. (Taurus people are born between april 20th and may 22.)

Now, I asked myself if "Pete" could be the first name of our killer, and "Jones" his last name. There is a Peter Jones listed in the phone book, but the operator told me he does have a phone. I'd hate to scare an ~~innocent~~ innocent person, and I doubt if I got both names, but you could ask if the Walsh family have a friend called Pete Jones —

Good luck on this, Jim!

Thanks a lot,

P.S. I have gotten both names of a person, but only once.

Troy

367 Colony Drive
Lexington, Ky. 40502
phone 606-266-9488

Dear Jim —
Just left a message for you down there in regard to the Adam Walsh case — Now, I'll write it out for you —

Today I thought over the Adam Walsh case, and now I see that all the clues my mind gave me about "putting up fronts" ("putting up fronts" are my words to clue me in to Contractor — plastic curtains stood for plastic bags, which I saw in dreams several times — The name "Casky" was to show me contractor — I know a man named Casky who is a "contractor" — All this to tell me that what happened to Adam Walsh was what happened to the man Gaither, who raped & killed by a contractor named Gaither, who buried them under his house after raping & killing them —

In other words, Adam was raped and killed, in my opinion —

The clues I've gone over in my mind show me a distinct possibility that the person who killed Adam could drive a wrecker. Remember all of the accidents and how often I'd say "He fell" — Remember my dreams of bandaged arms, etc.
Accidents — wreckers — yellow light — all tie in from dream clues when I worked on this. The building I saw the headless body wrapped in a shower curtain (plastic bag substitute) was a version of my garage — So we have accidents, yellow light, (flashing hot yellow light of wreckers!) garage — all showing, I feel, a man who owns, or operates, a wrecking service on of a garage like this? Had they recently called a wrecker to tow them in? Is there such a service near by?

After I got this together, I looked at the planetary picture when Adam was kidnapped and then I looked at the planetary picture now. The stars are strong for you to catch Adam's killer, + solve this case during the next few weeks! I do pray so!!

Hope you're well and happy —

Best regards,

Troy

Dear Jim,

It occurs to me that construction crews have "wrecking" crew men — As the sub-conscious does not reason, & a "wrecker" is a "wrecker" to it, we should play this either way. The killer work on a wrecking crew for a construction company, or run or drives a "wrecker" to haul autos after wrecks, etc.

All the names I got in dreams on this case either had a store front remodeled (Mark had his store front re-constructed) and the furniture store I dreamed about had its front remodeled (re-constructed) who were ^{or were of people} contractors

Was some re-modeling or re-construction going on nearby when Adam was kidnapped? Had an old building been wrecked, and torn down nearby? Was a new building being constructed? Did Adam know a construction man well? Does his dad? Adam knows his kill

As Jupiter, the planet that rules solving crimes and justice, is now exactly 90° (we say "square" to where the sun was when Adam was kidnapped) our chances of chasing down the killer and bringing him to justice are very strong, as I said.

So I know I can count on you to check out both "clues". — Thanks a lot!

Troy

?5. When one calls a "wrecker" to haul in a car, one has to show one's AAA Card. Remember, the word "card" rang a bell in me! I had to show my card twice on such occasions —

Each time they pulled such deeds
I would tell them about the story of the couple that finally had the child they had tried to have for so long. When it came, it was a 10 lb lead.

For 21 years they raised it in the basement, on it's 21st birthday his father comes home from work, says, "to hell with it I'm taking my son down to the pub for a drink."
Leaving his son on the bar & pouring him his drink - he orders another.
His son suddenly falls to the floor dead. His dad knelt down & the bartender leans over & said, "Well he should have stopped, while he was a head."

"You guys should have stopped while you were a head."

"So they sent me the head of

"For his time Mary, by all this holy, they went to far."

The bag with the shit throat & testicles

Crime Stopper:

If your minds are not blown apart by the murder & mutilation of young Adam Walsh, I would like to meet with investigative reporters from your N.B.C. station.

"This time, they went to far."

I don't want to hear about going to the police, (I've tried that & lost, that is well covered & by the best.)

If I'm deepthroat, and I'm considerably more than ~~that~~ than it implies - then you know who "they" are.

If it's to big for you to handle - I'll understand.

Adams head was found in the location at the right date, near me on August 10th, 1976. James W. Sanderson, formerly of 630 Curtis Wood Dr. Key Biscayne, Fl. did detonate, by command - control a C-4 bomb, near me August 10th, 1976, and Oct 15, 1976. Barbara (Mata Hari) Walters asked me to, "Trust Me' Be Good to Us." There are reporters who would remember that infamous ad-lib at the end of the last Governor Carter - Vice President Ford debate. Some too, might remember Clarence Kelley's swan-song to me

2/74. "We made a mistake of the mind and not one of the heart." (F.B.I. Director)
The same people that did the inhumane crime to that young boy, killed assassinated many more, who were working with me, including two nationally-known & respected reporters, i.e., the wise responsible for the Watergate outburst, will explain for instance, that Frank Mc Kee, formerly N.B.C. Today's Show, did of the cancer John Dean, spoke of, and not the clinical cancer.
"You think Watergate ended August 10th, 1974,?" ask Adam Walsh.
I know who did it & in what fish-house. Refrigeration would throw off the coroner's office, in establishing the time of death and I'd like a photo or the names of the so-called innocent-fishermen who just happened to find Adams' head, where it was.
My flight to Atlanta, Ga, was to stop the dissection 8/18/80. But no soap, no trial and D.B. Cooper, again goes free.

Blum's extraordinary story began when he entered local politics in Oil City, Pennsylvania.

He became a township supervisor in Venango County and ran as a Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

But he was so appalled by corruption in local politics, that he started campaigning against "dirty tricks."

Late in December 1979 he received a letter from Clarksville, Virginia, saying: "Hey b... you are going to get a lesson like another b... who is trying to get political power."

Blum says he didn't know anybody in Clarksville, but two weeks later the leader of United Water Workers Union's president, Jacob Yablonski, his wife and daughter were found brutally murdered at Clarksville in a crime that shocked the nation.

Blum said: "I didn't take a genius to get the message, I withdrew from the governor's race, and I left Pennsylvania."

To this day, my family feels deserted — which I do. I have grandchildren I've never seen.

He also gave the FBI information about Yablonski's killers, which was never acted on.

But three weeks later he was told by someone revealing himself as a member of Richard Nixon's government that he could collect a substantial sum if he laid off snooping.

"I picked up $200,000 in cash from a Las Vegas post office," said Blum.

Blum's house in Oil City burned down in October 1977. He says it was fire-bombed.

Blum says he used the $200,000 gathering more information about corrupt politicians.

By 1972 the money had run out. When Nixon began his re-election campaign Blum recorded all his information and sent it to Democratic Party worker Larry O'Brien.

HERALD H. BLUM — are they trying to silence him?

On June 17, 1972, the scandal that was to cause Nixon's resignation began with a break-in at O'Brien's office in the Democratic National Headquarters in the Watergate Hotel, Washington, D.C.

The unanswered question about the Watergate Affair has been: "What were the purposes?"

Blum says he has the answer. "I was after the information I sent to Larry O'Brien," he said. "I knew my mail was being intercepted so I had marked the outside as if it were a campaign contribution."

Blum's claim that he later tipped off the Washington Post through Rockefeller and Kissinger ties in with the Post reporters' statement that "Deep Throat" was actually several people.

Although Blum has stayed alive by becoming a fugitive, he says others who learned his secret have been silenced.

He claims that actor Gig Young and his wife who were found shot dead in 1978 had been discussing a film about Watergate with him.

Blum says they were also working with Hogan's Heroes star Bob Crane.

Crane was found brutally murdered the same year with a length of wire around his neck, although he had not been strangled.

"There has been a lot of speculation as to why the wire was around Crane's throat," said Blum. "I'm afraid it was a message to me."

What finally decided Blum to tell his story?

"I felt as if I had to get word out, at least to let my kids know, wherever they are, that I'm not crazy," he said.

"I'm very tired and without my kids I don't even feel like living. I just want to die."

... get rid of disguises, stop living like a fugitive and see my grandchildren before I die."

To whom it may concern:

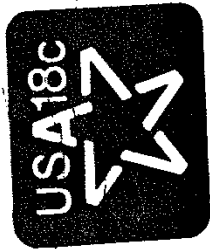

Look through police files and you might find this man. He's been in and out of mental institutions and jail. Check for him as the killer of Adam Walsh.

I am a poor sketcher but I tried to show an oblong head, short-cropped grey hair, balding, sagging cheeks, bulbous reddish nose, marked out blue eyes with bags around them. It would appear that he is in a book with two mug shots - side by side. In the photographs he is wearing a denim shirt. The photos are black & white. He is chunky of build and between 45-55 years of age. It would be a head to shoulders photograph.

Good Luck!

1. I think abduction was destined to be murdered from the start. Question: did abductor(s) realize it or not realize it at time of abduction. Surely at the time of the killing...

OR, have we here, the old color change trick, in magician parlance?

2. "GRAND PARADISE ALMOST COMPLETED!"

did a reverse suction in Society tell the boy so the "Grand Paradise" would open without a hitch? Strong group with fulfillment?

The knife is one color on one side and one different color on the other. In showing it, the magician deftly shows only one side, while the spectator swears he sees two, and the knife is pulled through the fist showing the other color, giving the impression that the knife has changed color.

Did our murderer commit the crime when the color changed, and afterwards remember nothing? Hold to believe.

Dear Jim,

I just talked to Detective Lillian, and relayed the following to him —

I worked in E.S.P., and Astrology on an international case, and did well on it. Now, under certain conditions given to me, I have a right to help in high circles of law enforcement, as a clairvoyant (working without pay). It was a real step up for me!

I hear you're a Lt. now. Good! (Jupiter in Taurus is good for promotions, as I recall telling you!!) Congratulations!!!

I wanted to talk with you further about the Adam Walsh case — (I had shelved it mentally, for a while, and had been trying to help, via Clairvoyance & Astrology to find a missing child that the Hazard Ky. State Police are trying to find. I feel I have made good progress in this — I went over, in my mind, the things I'd thought I phoned in to you about the Adam Walsh case, and I feel that the person you should seek is a male hair dresser, who is a homosexual.

Do you recall my telling you that ... was important to this case? Well my hair dresser, William, once set me near his cards (for fun) with the only deck of cards he had, for which he apologized which had, on the back sides, 52 photos (NOT VULGAR) of handsome young males, dressed in skimpy "pin up" type clothes.

This could tell my mind that the person responsible for Adam's death is a male model — or, a hair dresser!

Remember all the clues about the names Mark and Morris? Well, our friend, who has been here every day, always bragged about what wonderful blond hair he had (hair..... hair dresser).

The mark I met fleetingly at the hotel in your city, I felt, was gay. He was also blond. (my hair dresser was brown-ette —)

So, I think you should check the hair dressers in that area, particularly the ones who were in that area when Adam disappeared. (Have any hair dressers left town ????)

Our minister's first name is William. I dreamed of him to show my conscious mind the name "William", to remind myself of a "William" who put up fronts (of plastic, to keep the hair off of me, to remind my mind by the way I am sure you will read his cards with, for fun. (He is a homo sexual, ^{no} ~~don~~)

I'm sure you're as interested in tracking down Adam's killer as ever, as I am.

This could be his mother's hair dresser or a friend of theirs, who is a hair - dresser, or one who worked close by -

Thanks for your help.

Best regards,

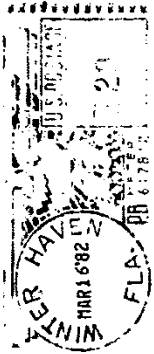

Troy

Suspect is linked to other killings

SANTA CRUZ, Calif.

The suspect charged with the decapitation slaying of two people buried on University of California grounds has been linked to an Oregon killing, police say.

Raymond Hayes was arrested last week in Santa Cruz motel room after UC-Santa Cruz police found a headless body in a shallow grave on the campus. A woman's torso was unearthed nearby.

Santa Cruz District Attorney Art Danne said the torso appeared to match a woman's head found Feb. 24 at the base of a tree west of a building on the same campus.

The woman's name tentatively identified Danne said, but he refused to release the name. The victim was found in Santa Cruz and not connected to the university.

Authorities have not revealed who the woman is, but Hayes is linked to the slaying.

Hayes was charged with several slayings.

Pure speculation

"It has just been called to my attention that a well dressed man's body was found recently on I. 95 here, recently, with two slugs in his head, murdered. (I don't get the local paper every day, so I missed that story.)

But let me tell you that it would have passed as pure speculation on the surface. I'm fortunate in not knowing at the time ~~I wrote~~ I talked to Det. Hoff. He surely would have thought I was paranoid.

This information was forthcoming by the same law enforcement who previously informed that Linda Feldman's throat was (in essence) cut almost to the point of Adam Walsh.

But now I recognize it as a final warning from the "not-punks".

I'll go to the Press Journal & read the story. I won't read what description was given of his rectum, like Joey Batema hitman received from me in 1976. But their kind knows where the 72, & silence went, when he missed me.) The stoops must think it's not. would see me... well it does. But only if I wear it through the window, like Joe's for Journal of Carl Galt's Del., he in 73-74

"On January 6th, 1970, one day after the news that the Yablonskis were found assassinated, I phoned and talked to the attorney-son, Mr. Kenneth Yablonsky. I identified myself and asked him to meet with me after the funeral as soon as possible, because I knew who did this terrible thing to his parents, & sister. I also told him I wanted him present when I gave information to the F.B.I. He assured me that he would be and Joe too. (Joseph Yablonsky is his brother-attorney.) at 10:30 ~~AM~~ on the 8th of Jan, 1970, the F.B.I. agents appeared at my home. "I asked where are the Yablonsky-sons?" as the older agent flipped his butt down in a living room chair, he practically yelled his answer. "What do you want to do - conduct your own grand jury investigation?"

"No, but I don't trust Nixon & Mitchell, they betrayed us people up here before!"

Continued: I told these agents that there were at least three people involved, one being a blonde woman, Feb. car 1967-68 grey ford sedan, Ohio license (I ~~had~~ forgotten) They were from Cleveland Ohio, & the murder weapon, a 30-30 cut down carbine with a white rope sling.

(I know that a murder weapon had not been released as of this date.) Comment at the end of interview.

"Mr. Rhine, I want to thank you for giving us this information, because from what

This opening statement is being prepared for the upcoming meeting with members of the Hollywood, Fla. Police Dept, in charge of the Adam Walsh murder.

However, at this writing, this meeting is still in doubt, due to skepticism of Det. Hoffman, and I might add a hostile attitude.

I had previously called the Hollywood Police Dept & requested a return call by those officers in charge of the Adam Walsh case. Following this by a personal letter to the Hollywood Police Dept, with no response what so ever, even though I was calling from Vero Beach, Fla.

I reasoned that this department probably received thousands of similar calls & letters, so I contacted W.C.K.T. Channel 7, in Miami. After a reasonable time lapse, I phoned the Hollywood P.D. & spoke with Mr. Fred Barbetta. Shortly after I received a call from Mr. Hoffman, who informed me that he had indeed received the material I had previously sent to W.C.K.T.

I told him my phone was tapped & he asked me to go to a pay phone & call him collect, which I did.

I realize that these people in charge of this investigation are tired from the long overtime & frustration of not coming any closer to solving this heinous crime and they have the respect and understanding of all Americans.

When he hit me with a question, "Did you send an anonymous letter to a Charles Meese in Orlando, Fla.?" I told him I didn't know any Charles Meese, or any newspaper letter. People who know me would tell you at least two things, I don't write graffiti on bathroom walls - or send letters unsigned, (except as expected) Harold H. Blum

"Gentlemen:

There is no doubt in my mind this meeting would not be necessary but for me, or one end of this conspiracy & others to be so named, because young Adam Walsh, would still be alive & well with his parents and his head would not have been found up in Indian River County on August 10th, more would have found Fred Hughes, have been murdered as another warning to myself.

Here are part of the other conspirators, Former President Nixon & John Mitchell, Haldeeman, Ellichman, John Dean, Pat Gray, Barbara Frost, etc. Be good to the "Walkies", David Hartman, William Wiebe, etc. and an innocent ad-lib question by

This, more than anything else - panicked these conspirators, because now they could possibly be exposed for their latest Watergate related crimes, and I might add - their "mission impossible" caper, what I profess now "and I want to make

His warning was clear to me as a father

I suspect this investigation Mr. Hoffmann? Damn right.
These reporters wrote the story - but it wasn't published a couple weeks later - Nixon - Mitchell, firebombed my last home in Penna. Oct 31, 1971 Halloween night.
I got that morning - news on the 17th of Nov, 1971.
They were at Paramed - and could get killing bids.

IV

During the course of this phone conversation with Kit Hoffman, he asked me, "How do you think the F.B.I. would impid an investigation?" I said yes. I knew they would try to discredit me & my allegations - as they did in the upheavals of Charlottesville, Va. 1970. Just one of the four reasons the F.B.I. themselves carried out the original watergates two separate entries, and I might add that the news media fell hook, line, & sinker for the ruse - leaked that the Central Intelligence Agency, were pressured into telling the F.B.I. to cease investigation of the watergate breakins, John Dean, is quite a convincing actor - liar, (after all he did end up in Hollywood.) But this will come out in toto before long, as he himself predicted, Gentlemen! It was as hard to do then, as it is now, to contact the families of these innocent victims, I had no choice then, I have no recourse but to appear here today, I am heartbroken body & soul. There were many more assassinated within that time period.

Police baffled by lack of leads

Search out for Adam's killer

From Special Our Services

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. — The search for the killer of 6-year-old Adam Walsh, who disappeared from a department store, as his mother shopped, has been scouted here because police say they are stumped.

"We have nothing to go on. Nothing whatsoever," said police spokesman Fred Barbetta Friday. "We're cutting down on hours and investigators. They've fallen behind on their other work."

"It's frustrating," he said. "It's really bugging the guys that we can't go forth with this, that it's just stopped dead."

The massive investigation, which began an hour after Rev. Walsh reported his son missing July 27, exploded to involve police officers and volunteers all over South Florida Aug. 10, when two fishermen found the boy's severed head in a canal beside Florida's Turnpike in Indian River County.

For days Florida Highway Patrol officers scanned the turnpike roadside looking for clues and more of the boy's body; deputy sheriffs from Broward and other counties pitched in, and the 28-officer Hollywood police force threw its entire homicide and robbery/divisions — nine detectives — into the investigation.

Now, said Barbetta, only two detectives — Jack Hoffman and Jim Gibbons — are assigned full time to the case, with two auxiliary officers answering phones for tips that were coming in by the thousand a short time ago.

Police have set two leads — they have identified the instrument used by the killer to sever the boy's head and they have a description of a suspicious blue van sighted near the Hollywood Mall Sears store, where Adam disappeared after his mother left him looking at video games while she shopped.

Police are keeping knowledge of the decapitating instrument secret, Barbetta said. Broward medical examiner's investigator D.P. Hughes said that's to eliminate the whodass who want to claim responsibility for the boy's death.

Searching for the van — and the mustached driver seen by two witnesses, from whose descriptions a composite sketch of the suspect has been made — has occupied most of the investigators' time.

"I can't give you the number of vans we've checked out but we must have had 2,000 calls," Barbetta said. "We checked out one guy four times in two days, different officers checking him. We've had calls from South Miami to Davtown Beach."

Investigators have been checking a list of 6,700 used vans sold in South Florida in the past three years, so far to no avail.

Despite extensive testing, the medical examiner's office has been unable to determine what Adam was killed.

PROBABLE CAUSE AFFIDAVIT

Before me this date personally appeared LYON, James P. who being first LAST FIRST MIDDLE sworn deposes and says that on the 4th day of August 19 81 at 1776 Polk Street CRIME LOCATION

the above named defendant committed the above offenses charged and the facts showing probable cause to believe so are as follows:

Units were dispatched to the above location in reference to a subject wrapped in blankets laying in the doorway of an apartment building. On the arrival of Officer Lyon it was found that the above arrestee was sleeping in the open in front of the apartment. She had been warned by this officer on two separate occasions to leave the area and not to sleep in the open. It was noted that she had a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage on and about her person, she was unsteady on her feet, her eyes were bloodshot and her speech slurred. Her clothing was also very disraveled. She was yelling and screaming when awoken and created a loud disturbance which attracted numerous tenants to the lobby area as they were awoken from there sleep. The arrestee was very argumentative and fought with this officer and had to be physically restrained and thrown to the ground. She was placed under arrest and transported to headquarters where she was processed.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, the authority, this 4th day of August 19 81 by Notary

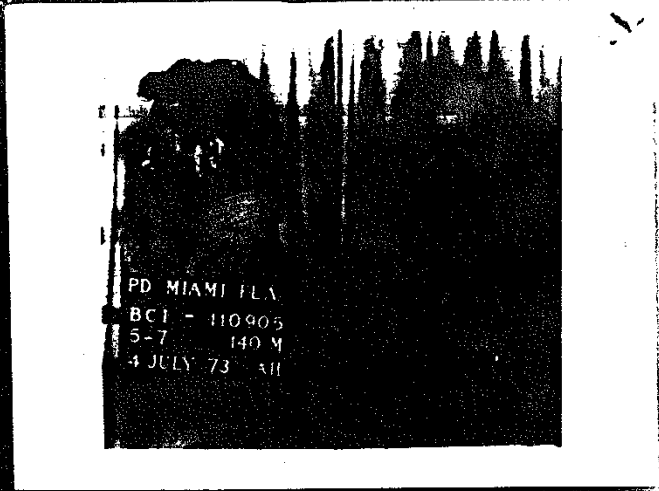

I swear the above statement is correct and true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Attention: PLEASE GIVE TO Police!

Am sending this to address at end of story & they can give letter to police

6/9/82

(To Whom it may concern)

JUN 21 1982

I just read for second time in Official Detective of this person's horrible deed. The sketch is of a person I've known. The description is same too. He is I believe 5'10" tall but he is about 31 or 32 yrs old now. He had a habit of brushing his hair over toward right side of head as his hair would fall down on forehead Exactly like sketch. He has green eyes, very green, + black hair + wore some in a disarray, just like sketch. The only difference is sketch is just a little longer than his face otherwise it is exactly like him! He is a bisexual but stronger toward men. He is also to be sadistic. He hides the fact is bi-sexual + I heard to

The only thing is last I heard
he lived in Corpus Christi, Texas & it's been several years now since I heard this (4 or 5) I think & at that time he had a job at store named Skaggs + Albertson's in Corpus & he worked on air conditioners (I think) there as he trained in this line of work. As a youngster he worked on a pleasure boat (he claimed) in Corpus also he is a ace in firearms. It seems far-fetched to me this could be him since distance is so far but it is exactly like his picture! All but lengthy face which I folded to place exactly like his face.

I guess a lot of people look alike but this is just like his picture. He liked to torment small animals too so maybe a Doctor in this field could say if a good possibility it's him a not. I don't know any current info on him at all but figure he easy to check it out knowing he worked at Skaggs + Albertson's few years ago + call

I won't sign my name because I am afraid he'll spot me or something He's a loner + weird + don't talk much
 + I think he's hairy nuts
 (over)

P.S.

This letter is somewhat jumbled up but I will send as it. I wrote it as thoughts came to me.

This person also played the drums at some place at one time also.

I don't know exactly where it was.

He wouldn't ever say + seemed very seclusive about it (place)

(Patrol Division)

Dear Jim -

Just talked with Lillian there at the Det. Bureau and left a message for who is now working the Adam Walsh case - (Jim, I know Lillian is the Secretary there - ^{But} Who has a similar name a male Detective there? Its so hard to talk on the phone to you ^{all} there -) At any rate, I want to say this to you, as you handled the case, & I like to inform you of what I "mentally" pick up. I know this is trying, & takes a lot of patience, but trying to explain ESP impressions on the phone would be like you trying to explain a complex police procedure to someone who knew only that police were people, if you get what I'm driving at - Please bear with me.

Adam Walsh's case keeps sticking to my mind like glue! Let me make this final contribution to what my mind is showing me, and then maybe I can forget the case! And read some novels, or paint some pictures.

There is one more name that my answers to my programming my mind in Adam's case for the name of his killer ^{was}. This will take a while to show you, but I think Adam's killer may be called "Kemp" I think this is his last name. - Another reading could be "Hyde" or "Hide". It may be "Jekyll" - If you will bear with me, I'll explain! Of course, the Kemp I know is just my clue. My father in law used swear that his son in law, a preacher, used to hide in

ATTENTION: DETECTIVES HICKMAN AND HOFFMAN.

THE REPORTEE ADVISED THAT APPROXIMATELY ONE MONTH AGO THE ABOVE SUSPECT APPROACHED HER DAUGHTERS DANIELE, A WF, 5/14/72 AND KATRINA, A WF, 7/13/68, AS THEY PLAYED IN THEIR FRONT YARD. HE ASKED THEM FOR DIRECTIONS TO A HOUSE IN THE AREA. A FEW DAYS LATER HE CAME AGAIN AND SPOKE WITH MRS DUNKLEBERGER, TELLING HER THAT IF SHE WANTED TO GET RID OF THEM FOR A FEW DAYS HE WOULD TAKE THEM TO THE MALL AND BUY NEW CLOTHES FOR THEM. HE CAME AGAIN A WEEK LATER, KNOCKING ON THE DOOR. KATRINA ANSWERED AND WHEN SHE TOLD HIM THAT HER MOTHER WAS ASLEEP HE ASKED TO BE LET IN. SHE REFUSED. WHEN MRS DUNKLEBERGER BEGAN QUESTIONING HIM ON HIS INTEREST IN HER CHILDREN, SHE HAS SEVERAL, HE STATED THAT HE ONLY WANTED TO REPAY THEM FOR THEIR KINDNESS WHEN HE ASKED FOR DIRECTIONS. HE GAVE MRS DUNKLEBERGER HIS BUSINESS CARD FROM A & M CARPET INSPECTION, WHICH LISTS HIM AS THE SOUTH FLORIDA MANAGER. THE REPORTEE STATED THAT THE LAST TIME SHE SAW HIM WAS APPROXIMATELY ONE WEEK AFTER THE DISAPPEARANCE OF ADAM WALSH. SHE ADVISED THAT SHE MENTIONED THE INCIDENT TO HIM AND HE APPEARED ILL AT EASE AND LEFT. MRS DUNKLEBERGER AND ALL HER CHILDREN CONCURRED THAT THE COMPOSITE DRAWING OF THE ADAM WALSH SUSPECT IS MR SHERMAN, EXCEPT THAT HIS MUSTACHE IS LONGER THAN THE PICTURE AND THAT THEY ESTIMATE THAT HIS AGE IS CLOSER TO THIRTY-TWO. NO FURTHER INFORMATION.

Dear Detective Hickman,

I am hopeful that the enclosed reports concerning ROBERT LUTHER HATCHER, BM, DOB: 1-10-52, aka: OSCAR D. JOHNSON, will be of assistance to you in your investigation. I would like to give you a brief summary of Hatcher's method of operation in our city in recruiting minor children for illicit sexual activity.

Hatcher frequents area municipal parks, generally posing as a karate instructor or a baseball coach for pee-wee players. By using this approach Hatcher has apparently had little trouble in getting the children away from their parents for lengthy periods of time, (i.e. over night, weekends) under the pretense of attending either a karate or baseball tournament in another city. Once the child has been persuaded to accompany Hatcher on his excursions the child is held against his will at knife point or with the threat of being injected with a syringe filled with air. The child is then bound securely with string or rope and sexually molested. The child is then again threatened with death or the death of their family if anyone is made aware of these sexual acts. It has been established that Hatcher has been in the state of Oklahoma for the past 11 months following his arrival here from the Dallas, Texas area. Hatcher's movements prior to Dallas are uncertain, nor has it been determined how long he stayed in the Dallas area.

Hatcher is a frequent blood plasma donor and has been employed by local blood donor centers in a non-specialized capacity while in our city. He frequents free food centers and is familiar with the process for obtaining welfare assistance.

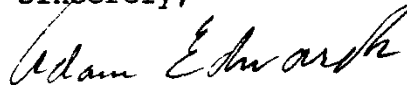

Hatcher escaped from the Jackson, Michigan penal institution in March, 1980 and it is unknown what his movements were up until that time.

If you should require any additional information regarding this subject feel free to contact me or Detective Willard Paige at AC 405, 232-5311 Ext. 371.

Note: At the time of this letter the mug shot of Robert Hatcher has not been processed by the photo lab, however we have enclosed a recent polaroid of Hatcher.

Lt. Adam Edwards

DET. E. FAIR

During the ride back to GOC the juvenile AMY JOHNSON advised that his best friend AMY HASSBY and that his mother was named LINDA FAYE BROWN the last of the Juvenile stated that he was waiting for a bus but thinking when someone came along "tricked" him into going for a job interview at the KING'S bar located at 1001 N. W. 10.
The man never showed up and JOHNSON would not let the juvenile go back home.

Once back in GOC this officer checked the tracing files and found a card for AMY HASSBY dated 11-7-61. HASSBY had stated that he had been away from home for about a year.
Efforts to locate the juvenile's mother were unsuccessful since she had moved from the address on the original report and there was no forwarding address given. This card was released to the custody of the Department of Social Services. AMY HASSBY was taken to children's hospital for examination and they advised to his home.

For details of the interviews and additional information referred to in this report, please see additional reports made by investigators as well as the report made by Det. FAIR.

STATEMENT FROM DOUGLAS RAY DIXON ON 7-21-62, AT ORLANDA CITY POLICE DEPARTMENT

SMITH: When you first met OSCAR, BOUG where did you guys all get on the day you ended up leaving on the 12nd?

BOUG: Well, first he got us into the car, took off and we went to bank's and got some clothes. After that we went all the way up to this park. I think it was on, I don't know really, Bay or something like that.

SMITH: About 17th and Bay?
BOUG: Yeah, near the fairgrounds.

SMITH: Yeah, okay, I know where it is, right. It's about 17th and Bay? It's got a little fountain in it.

BOUG: Yeah, and well, he told us to wait there for 15 minutes but while I was waiting, it took him too long to come back so I was, I was...there was this guy, he was kind of a park guy. He was kind of a wild man.

SMITH: Like a ranger or a worker there?

BOUG: Well, he goes to all these different parks. He goes from Memorial Park, the park that I was at and he was at that park at that time and they had signed and he was coming out and I was asking him "can I have a ride back to Memorial Park" and he said he wasn't gonna look up that way, so I had to wait back until OSCAR got back, which was about 10 minutes later. And we, we were up there and well...he got us into the car.

SMITH: And who else?

BOUG: And ANDY, and we drove up to the fairgrounds and we walked into house.

SMITH: Why did you walk?

BOUG: Well for LEE. Lee...somebody. His last name I can't remember, but LEE had come up after two hours, he came to the fairgrounds and he got into the car with us and we had drove off somewhere.

SMITH: Did you leave town then?

SMITH: I beg your pardon.

BOUG: Yeah.

SMITH: Look at me. You left town then?

BOUG: Yeah, that's right, we were heading out of town only we picked SOMMIE up.

SMITH: The next day, right?

BOUG: Yeah. That's right, we picked SOMMIE up and he was at this place, I don't know if it was or the name of it very good.

SMITH: Where did you meet him, first night?

SMITH: DOUG, I want you to start again. I want you to tell me the truth. What have you been doing wrong here?

DOUG: All right.

SMITH: Have you been lying to me?

DOUG: Yeah.

SMITH: Have you lied to the other officers?

DOUG: Yeah.

SMITH: Okay, why did you do that?

DOUG: I was scared.

SMITH: What were you scared of son?

DOUG: OSCAR would get me.

SMITH: Well, OSCAR is not going to get you. You're okay now. We're going to be honest with each other. Okay? No more fibbing. No more lying. The truth. You've got to understand, I've already talked to ANDY and I've got it all on tape and I'll bring ANDY in here and he'll vouch you, he'll back it up. He told me exactly what happened the first night. He told me where it happened and what happened. I want you to tell me. Where did you spend the first night?

DOUG: At the fairgrounds.

SMITH: Where at?

DOUG: It was in the ballpark, it was the fairgrounds at the, it was by the park...it was about I don't know two or three miles up. There's these fairgrounds and there is a ball park right there.

SMITH: Yeah, where at, in the trees, in the bushes?

DOUG: Okay, okay. We were...I was walking...well

SMITH: Tell the truth, that's all I want? It's no such easier to tell me the truth isn't it? You don't have to lie now. You see when you tell me lie you've gotta tell another lie.

DOUG: Can I start from the first day?

SMITH: You can start right there, after what happened, the truth.

DOUG: This is how it goes for real.

SMITH: No bullshit, right? You know what that means don't you?

DOUG: Yeah.

SMITH: Okay, buddy?

DOUG: Okay, the first day, he picked us up. He took us all the way to the Wendy's on First and got us some shakes. Then he took off, dropped us off at the park and told us to wait for 15 minutes and we were really there for two hours and then after we were I had asked that guy "can I have a ride" to Memorial Park and he said, "I'm not heading back up that way", so I said okay and me and ANDY waited there and finally OSCAR was walking back up here. He had two flat tires he said. He said he had two flat tires and we walked all the way up to Memorial Park (corr) ball park, the fairgrounds ball park. There is a TUGY and son...there is a TUGY there that we dropped by and ANDY was supposed to wait there for me to pick him up. That's right, go ahead. (stated by SMITH)

SMITH: You and OSCAR then walked on to the...

DOUG: Fairgrounds. And we went up there and I was right by him and he grabbed me. He had me by the mouth and I started to shout and he slapped me. He had that knife on his throat, so he just told me to start to walk, so I started walking.

SMITH: Wait a minute now, why would he pull a knife on you and then you don't remember we are not going to make up stories.

DOUG: I'm not, he grabbed me and I started shouting and he slapped me and said shut up and he had that knife on my face, on my throat so I shut up.

SMITH: OK so what happened then?

DOUG: He told me to start walking, then there bushes there I think bushes, like a woods, so that's how I got there tonight. He went all the way, he went over, under a fence and we went into these bushes and he tied me up.

SMITH: With what?

DOUG: Yarn

SMITH: Where did he get the yarn?

DOUG: He bought it from TONY before he had left.

SMITH: YARN

DOUG: Yeah, some kind of white string...

SMITH: Was Sandy with you bought it?

DOUG: Yeah, I think so

SMITH: He bought the yarn...

DOUG: And he had tied me up and told me to take up...

SMITH: What color of yarn was it

DOUG: White, it was like the stuff a kitty had would play with a ball of yarn. He handed package and told me to take up pants and underwear off, so if I got caught, I wouldn't try to run. He put them in a TONY sack, my pants and stuff and then he went somewhere. He went back to get ANDY AND LEE I think, he didn't see me walking around, looking out, cause I had started shouting, he was looking around to see if any people saw him and he was looking around and he had be tied up, hands in back and feet and stuff on my stomach. And I was right there and he was looking around and finally he said you stay here, I going to be right back and boy, before he left he look like he had the knife, look like he was about to kill me and then he said I aint gonna kill you yet, but as he then said you will have it's gonna... and then I took off and then he came back about an hour or two later with LEE AND ANDY, I think

SMITH: He right I've gotta it all right.

DOUG: LEE, LEE, LEE he came back, he was up there, I don't know where Andy was, I didn't see him, that was the last time I saw him, it was at TONY.

SMITH: OK, GO HEAD

DOUG: And All I saw was Lee coming up and he told Lee to watch me and so he watched me at a couple of hours later OSCAR came back, about a couple of hours later, Oscar came back and was there...

SMITH: ABOUT what time was this when you got... when you first went down to the park was it dark yet.

DOUG: No, about three o'clock.

SMITH: Where did you spend the night?

DOUG: At the fairgrounds

SMITH: In them bushes

DOUG: Yeah.

SMITH: What happened that night.

DOUG: Well he said that I'm gonna fuck you.

DOUG: ANDY and then Ronnie, he came up that night with some clothes.
SMITH: RONNIE wasn't actually there when this happened?
DOUG: When he grabbed me?
SMITH: No, when he, as you said fucked you.
DOUG: Yeah, he was there.
SMITH: Was he asleep?
DOUG: They were listening to what OSCAR was doing.
SMITH: Tell me in detail, dont leave anything out now, what happened... You weren't tied up?
DOUG: Well, No, He started to do it to me..
SMITH: No, No, how did he do it to you.
DOUG: In the bottom.
SMITH: OK, did he put anything on himself?
DOUG: No
SMITH: OK, Were you laying on your tummy or on your side.
DOUG: On my side
SMITH: What happened what did you say to him.
DOUG: I said it started to hurt very badly, so I said please stop, and he said shut up, Or I'm gonna kill you and I kept on yapping and he...and the last time
SMITH: Put his hand over your mouth.
DOUG: about, and my nose about to kill me, so I decided to shut up and so he let me go
SMITH: Did he, OK, Now I don't know if you know what this is, but did something come out of his penis, white, sticky, did you have something white and sticky in your bottom.
DOUG: I dont think so, I never saw anything.
SMITH: You dont know, OK. After he got done, did he pull his penis out of your bottom?
DOUG: YEAH
SMITH: And then what did he do?
DOUG: He, well we did it about 4 times that night. And then he made me suck on his dick.
SMITH: Made you suck on his dick, now you're here now
DOUG: Yes
SMITH: Positive
DOUG: Yeah, and I started throwing up
SMITH: I know this is rough and it is hard for you to tell me, but you're doing very good and I'm proud of you how that you're telling me the truth. It's alot easier when you tell the truth. And you're not in any trouble and I'm your friend, and we're all down here to help you, but we have to know the truth, OK.
DOUG: OK
SMITH: OK, Now your doing great, now you, he made you suck on his dick.
DOUG: And then after that, I kept throwing up and after that we just went to sleep.
SMITH: OK, the next morning what happened?
DOUG: Next morning he woke up and he had to get the car fix, so he SMITH: Did he make any statements to you about not leaving, did he tell you anything if you left, what would happened.
DOUG: Yeah, he, if I tried to run or anything he would kill me
SMITH: Was that just you
DOUG: And my parents, along with my family, and so after that he had gone and fixed the car and that night....
SMITH: Is that the first time, anybody, any one had ever done anything like that to you.
Truthfully now.
DOUG: Yes
SMITH: Any boys ever done anything to you DOUG: No, just him.

SMITH: So he left, went left, right?

BOUG: Yeah

SMITH: Where did Oscar go

BOUG: To fix the car

SMITH: Ok, Who stayed there with you?

BOUG: RONNIE AND ANDY

SMITH: What did you guys do, all day long?

BOUG: Well, mostly we just played cards and stuff, we played in the street.

SMITH: Did you talk to Alan about anything, did you talk to Andy about anything?

BOUG: I talk to him about, is Oscar gonna kill me, I asked him that and he said I don't know. And I kept on asking him that and he kept saying I don't know. The last answer he says.

SMITH: Ok, did you, when did Oscar come back?

BOUG: About 6:00pm, something like that.

SMITH: In the car

BOUG: No he didn't have the car with him

SMITH: Where did you spend that night at?

BOUG: In the same place.

SMITH: Now this is a good question, why didn't you try to call your parents?

BOUG: He wouldn't let us do that.

SMITH: But there wasn't anybody there, nobody there but Andy.

BOUG: And Ronnie

SMITH: And Ronnie, Ok now Andy.... Ok go ahead.

BOUG: I didn't call anybody, because I know they wouldn't let me.

SMITH: Ok, Did you, then what happened the second night?

BOUG: The second night he did the same thing to me

SMITH: How many times this time.

BOUG: About once or twice

SMITH: Ok, did he have you seek on his penis

BOUG: No, No, not that night

SMITH: Ok, just the first night

BOUG: yeah

SMITH: Ok, Now, the next morning what happened?

BOUG: No, the next morning we woke up, he had went somewhere

SMITH: Did Andy go anywhere with him

BOUG: Yeah, that's right, they went to Memorial Park, I think

SMITH: Ok, What happened up there, do you know

BOUG: At Memorial Park, they said it was 60 cops looking for us at least, After they came back. But while they were gone, me and Ronnie....

SMITH: Did Ronnie ever do anything for you.

BOUG: No, not Ronnie

SMITH: Ok, Did anybody else besides Oscar,

BOUG: No, Nobody else

SMITH: Just Oscar, then what happened, he got the car and you left

BOUG: Yes

SMITH: Where did he take you guys.

BOUG: He didn't take me, he took Andy and himself, to the Memorial Park or was what was

SMITH: Right, but afterwards did he come back, did he have a bunch of flowers on you, pi of you

BOUG: Yeah.

SMITH: Did you see them

BOUG: No, not that day, about a couple, a while before I saw them.

SMITH: But didn't you leave with Alan the first time, and he mentioned how about going

SMITH: and he mentioned about spending away the night and you had that woman in the car and deal for a little while, HUSHING away for awhile

DOUG: The first time, I was talking a lie

SMITH: You were lying

DOUG: At that time

SMITH: Did you?

DOUG: No, he had grabbed me, he had got me, she had kidnapped me, I didn't want to go, he wouldn't let me go, I was begging him to let me go home and he wouldn't SMITH: What else, alright, You left Oklahoma City, Now when you left Okla. City, who was in the car with you?

DOUG: Everybody was, Ronnie, Lee, Andy and me and Becca.

SMITH: Where did you you all go.

DOUG: We left, we were heading out of town, no, that night when we had left, it was me, Becca and Andy the ones that had left that night

SMITH: And whom did he take you

DOUG: He took us and he kept, and he drove way out of town, the same way that I might drive me back. And about 14 to 15 miles away from Strom, he stopped at a junk store

SMITH: Then what happened

DOUG: He did the same thing to me.

SMITH: Wait a minute, what did you do then, Did you come back to Oklahoma City

DOUG: When we got to Strom

SMITH: Yeah, After he let you and Andy back at the park, what happened

DOUG: Yeah, he went back to Oklahoma City with Lee, Ma, Andy and Ronnie started fishing in the park, he left with Lee to Oklahoma City. HUSHING

SMITH: Why did he leave

DOUG: I don't know, he never said that, Well I'm going back to Okla. City for some private matters

SMITH: Then he came back, Oh, then you spent another night in a roadside park.

DOUG: Yeah

SMITH: Where did you sleep

DOUG: We slept in the car, the backseat. Andy and Ronnie slept, in the backseat, it was a 69 Chevy, what did you call it, Becca

SMITH: Becca is the name of his car

DOUG: Its a girl

SMITH: Oh, Now who slept where?

DOUG: ANDY AND RONNIE slept in the back trunk and Lee slept in the trunk, and me and Becca slept in the back.

SMITH: In a stationwagon

DOUG: No, it was a 69 Chevy

SMITH: 4 door

DOUG: YEAH, JUST A GREEN CAR

SMITH: Yeah, But I mean did it have 4 doors

DOUG: No, it had just two, just two doors

SMITH: When you sleep in the backseat with Andy I know Becca, what happened then DOUG: That night, he did the same thing to me, only he didn't hold me back on his dick.

SMITH: From there you went where.

DOUG: Well, we went back to the park and OSCAR went somewhere, we don't know where, but he left me and ANDY and RONNIE fishing I think, yeah, that's right, and then we went on him and we went somewhere, I don't know where, he left his fishing there for the day and we got, we didn't catch anything that day, so his, when he got back we got into the car, we stopped at the same place we did that night on the side of the road and we slept there again.

SMITH: Did you know the police were looking for you then?

DOUG: Yes, he told me.

SMITH: What did he say about that?

DOUG: That 60 cops were looking for me at Memorial Park and that day (its after we came back he said that they had Crime Lab up there.

SMITH: Okay, so where did you spend the day the 3rd or 4th night, where did you go, up by Tulsa or where?

DOUG: The 4th night, yeah we were heading for Tulsa and we stopped once or twice at night to sleep there and he did the same thing to me.

SMITH: Now wait a minute, it don't take you 2 or 3 days to get to Tulsa, did you stay along the highway everynight, how far did you drive?

DOUG: No, well we stopped at places to eat and lets see, we were first we came up to this, we camped out at this, there's a camping thing, there's a camp out really where theres kind of a that had a big, what do you call this, damn I don't know, it was a big river I think, it wasn't a river, what do you call those things, Lal something like that, you it was a lake and we got to swim in the lake, we got to swim in the lake and you can camp out there, its a camping ground place.

SMITH: Were there other people around there?

DOUG: Yes a whole bunch.

SMITH: How come you didn't tell anybody who you were and what was happening?

DOUG: OSCAR wouldn't let me, I was always with OSCAR at those times.

SMITH: Always, OSCAR stayed awake 24 hours a day?

DOUG: No, I was with him at night.

SMITH: Who was with you during the day?

DOUG: Well he took me swimming and stuff.

SMITH: Okay now you got to Tulsa, do you ever spend the night in Tulsa?

DOUG: Yeah we spent once or about the last couple of weeks in Tulsa.

SMITH: Where did you stay?

DOUG: First when we got to Tulsa, LEE & RONNIE stayed at this SISTER TUCKERs place let me see, we and OSCAR, ANDY slept there the first two nights in SISTER TUCK and we and OSCAR slept in the car and he did the same thing to me that night.

SMITH: How many times do you think over the period that you were with OSCAR that he did that to you sexually? He lies the truth.

DOUG: About 15 or 16 times at least.

SMITH: And how many times did he have you commit oral sodomy, put your mouth on his p
DOUG: Two nights, it was a Tuesday night and it was the first night that I was with that were the only nights that he did that to me.

SMITH: Okay, one of them was in Oklahoma City and one of them was where?

DOUG: When we were in Tulsa.

SMITH: Did you ever stay in a Motel or anything, hotel?

DOUG: Yes, in the Tomhouse Motel.

SMITH: What happened there?

DOUG: He done it to me once, the second time he didn't do it to me.

SMITH: Did you ever try to call your parents?

DOUG: Nah-uh (no), he wouldn't let me do that.

SMITH: But he wasn't with you all the time.

DOUG: Well, he had LEE, RONNIE, or ANDY guard me all that time and they guarded me.

SMITH: Okay why was it when the police came in and said, you were (sic) and you were that you said to them.

DOUG: OSCAR told me to say that I was DAVID WILLIAMS.

SMITH: DAVID WILLIAMS?

DOUG: David...

SMITH: I thought it was DAVID GILBERT.

DOUG: DAVID WILLIAMS GILBERT.

SMITH: DAVID WILLIAMS GILBERT? Why is it when the officers showed you the picture of you that you said, I don't know who it is. When they showed you that picture that you said, who's that, and you said, I don't know.

DOUG: OSCAR told me to say that, so he wouldn't be put in jail. After that...

SMITH: Where did you tell them that you were from?

DOUG: Arkansas.

SMITH: Why did you do that?

DOUG: I was just scared, I didn't know what to do, whether to tell them the truth or to lie.

SMITH: Why did you, did he ever give any clothes to wear?

DOUG: Yeah.

SMITH: What did he give you?

DOUG: He gave me some shorts, I came home in those, I came here in those. Nobody at the hospital now.

SMITH: Okay what about the shirt you had on.

DOUG: Those, those, those clothes were in the (S) Chevy.

SMITH: In Bessie.

DOUG: Yeah and the, second time we stayed in the (Yonkers Hotel) he had got the, the stationwagon, Ford, he had bought that from one of RONNIE's work friends. RONNIE and LEE got a job at Stockman's.

SMITH: In Tulsa?

DOUG: Yes.

SMITH: What were they doing?

DOUG: They had to go out and you know they had to shove (dirt).

SMITH: Jack hammer?

DOUG: Yeah, men work and stuff...

SMITH: Construction work?

DOUG: Yeah, construction work.

SMITH: Okay, what did OSCAR do, did he ever work?

DOUG: Yeah, he worked, he worked one night and then he quit the job, at a nursing for old people, at a nursing home for old people.

SMITH: Do you know the name of it?

DOUG: Huh-uh (no), it was a long ways, I didn't know the name of it, I was never there.

SMITH: Well, when you had all this time, didn't you ever think that you could, why didn't you call your parents?

DOUG: I never had the chance to really.

SMITH: Why didn't you tell somebody, a lot of people have been looking for you, you know that don't you?

DOUG: Yeah, I know that.

SMITH: I mean, a lot of people. A lot of people put a lot of worrying, your mother and father, just for example, put a lot of worrying, and there's a lot of policemen not just policemen that put a lot of time in and you should've called, you should've done and you should've done a lot of things but you didn't, we lets talk with what we've got okay?

DOUG: Okay.

SMITH: Okay, now what else did, did you guys ever talk to (S) anything for the or anything like that?

DOUG: No, ANDY, ANDY shoplifted once or twice for himself.
 SMITH: What did he steal?
 DOUG: Oh, he stole, he came back one day when he was guarding me, at the ballpark, with some cakes, from a freezer that he had stuffed down his sock.
 SMITH: Did you steal anything?
 DOUG: Him and RONNIE, they keep on....
 SMITH: Did you steal anything?
 DOUG: No, not me.
 SMITH: Truthful?
 DOUG: Yeah, not me, I wasn't in stores really, I only started....
 SMITH: What did OSCAR call you, his boy or what?
 DOUG: My boy.
 SMITH: Did he take, have you wear any hats or anything?
 DOUG: Yeah, he made me wear a green hat, it had on, lets see GILER'S HAMBURGERS, 30 cent a piece, something like that.
 SMITH: Why did he have you wear that?
 DOUG: So I could cover up my hair, so nobody would see me, cause we went to...
 SMITH: What'd he tell you he was going to do to you?
 DOUG: Well he didn't really say what he was going to do with me, that day that he was car, he was going to kill me that day there, he said that, because I was a real problem to him he said, because there was too many cops looking for me, so that day those cops hadn't drove up that day I would have been dead.
 SMITH: Did he mention taking you anywhere to California?
 DOUG: Yes.
 SMITH: Where?
 DOUG: To Walt Disney land.
 SMITH: And what was he going to do there?
 DOUG: He said we were going to spend quite a while there about 2-3 weeks and he said before that he was going to take me to this Karate thing.
 SMITH: Did he say about when he was going to let you return home?
 DOUG: Yeah he said, he said, he said maybe if you keep it cool that day, that last day that he was going to kill me, he said that.
 SMITH: Who heard him say that?
 DOUG: ANDY, he was going to kill me and ANDY.
 SMITH: Why was he going to kill ANDY?
 DOUG: He thought well I was giving ANDY a massage, well just rubbing baby oil on his back and he, and he keeps on saying that I'm his, and a while back ANDY had got this 1 year old and done it to him.
 SMITH: ANDY did it to a 12 year old?
 DOUG: Yeah, to a yeah he OSCAR told me ANDY told me.
 SMITH: But did you see it?
 DOUG: No, but...
 SMITH: Where is the 12 year old?
 DOUG: It was this little boy, he never said who his name was or anything, he said it was a 12 year old boy that ANDY had done it to before, that's all I heard that ANDY did and see, he OSCAR, keeps on thinking that ANDY is stealing the boys from him because ANDY did that other little boy and OSCAR had had that boy, and after ANDY did it to him, OSCAR didn't want the little boy back so I think the little boy died.
 SMITH: You don't know that, though.
 DOUG: no.
 SMITH: Well do you realize that OSCAR tells a lot of lies?
 DOUG: Well...
 SMITH: Did he ever tell you that he had been in jail?

 SMITH: What did he say he'd been in jail?
 DOUG: Yes, he told me that, he that he had been in jail I don't know where though.
 SMITH: What did he say he'd been in jail for?
 DOUG: For uh, he never said what he was in jail for, I think for Bank Robbery, I think something like that, I think it was kidnapping another little kid.
 SMITH: How do you know that?
 DOUG: He said something I don't know what....
 SMITH: Well what did he say?
 DOUG: I wasn't really positive that what he did though wrong, I didn't really heard what he said, but all he really told me is what he did what he was in jail.
 SMITH: What did he say he did when he was in jail?
 DOUG: Done it to other little boys.
 SMITH: In jail? What little boys?
 DOUG: Well like 16 year olds.
 SMITH: Uh uh, had he mentioned anything that he had of a girl or a boy anything?
 DOUG: No, he had a boy, he got this little 16 year old boy and he got him and done it to him, because he got bored.
 SMITH: Did you see him do anything to anybody else while you were with him?
 DOUG: No.
 SMITH: When everybody would go down to like to the, I mean when ANDY would go to the River fishing, and you stayed back in the Motel or wherever you were at....
 DOUG: Well, no....
 SMITH: What did you guys do, you and OSCAR.
 DOUG: When (cor) He and OSCAR, he practiced, he taught me Karate.
 SMITH: What did he teach you?
 DOUG: He taught me um, he was just teaching me the basics of Karate.
 SMITH: Okay, did he do anything to you while you were away from there or not?
 DOUG: While I was away from....
 SMITH: I mean while ANDY was away from there?
 DOUG: While I (cor) No, nothing else. But that last day of Karate we went, me and OSCAR went to the car to read and the cop came up and arrested him, undercover cop.
 SMITH: So you spent the first two nights in Oklahoma City out by the Fairgrounds?
 DOUG: I don't know, we spend a couple more nights after that, about five days.
 SMITH: Here in Oklahoma City?
 DOUG: Yes.
 SMITH: Where at?
 DOUG: Fairgrounds.
 SMITH: Well now wait a minute, you told me that you went to Stroed on the 3rd day.
 DOUG: Something like that, not on the 3rd day, it was at least a while before we ever get out of Oklahoma City, it was a while before we get out of Oklahoma City, we spent a bunch of nights in them woods.
 SMITH: What did you eat?
 DOUG: He uh, he brought us milk and stuff.
 SMITH: What kind of stuff?
 DOUG: Cookies.
 SMITH: What else?
 DOUG: Nothing else, that's all he bring us.
 SMITH: What about bologna and cheese.
 DOUG: Nights for dinner, he would bring us bologna, sandwich.
 SMITH: So you stayed how many nights do you think?
 DOUG: About five or six.
 SMITH: Now that's not what ANDY says.

 SMITH: You didn't spend just two nights there.
 DOUG: No way.
 SMITH: Then you know that people were looking for you.
 DOUG: Yep.
 SMITH: Why didn't you go to the police?
 DOUG: I never had the chance to, ANDY, ANDY wouldn't let me, I asked him, I said if you're my friend why don't you get me to the police now, and get me both out of this, cause you said that OSCAR, OSCAR had ANDY for a year and kidnapped ANDY for a whole year.
 SMITH: He's had him since November.
 DOUG: Yeah, that's right, that's what he said.
 SMITH: I don't think you're telling me all the truth now.
 DOUG: Yeah that's right, I'm telling you the truth. He spent at least...
 SMITH: Remember what we talked about, you know.
 DOUG: Five or six nights.
 SMITH: You're sure...
 DOUG: Yes, ...
 SMITH: In Oklahoma City.
 DOUG: Yes, I'm sure, I'm sure more than two nights.
 SMITH: You swear on your momma.
 DOUG: I'm sure, very sure, more than two nights.
 SMITH: Well, now that's fair enough.
 DOUG: And while we were driving around in the car, he kept me under covers and stuff so nobody would see me.
 SMITH: Where would you drive to?
 DOUG: Well, I don't know really, well he took me, he'd take us to places to get us some drinks and stuff.
 SMITH: Now that doesn't make a lot of sense does it, if everybody in town is looking for you, your picture is all over the newspapers and everything and he's taking you into a place to get something to drink?
 DOUG: He's not taking me in, he goes in there and get Sprite or something like that and brings it back out to me.
 SMITH: Where?
 DOUG: Like he, I don't know all the stores, he kept me covered up, I didn't see where he stopped at every time.
 SMITH: But he kept you with him all the time?
 DOUG: Yeah, almost all the time.
 SMITH: What did he call you?
 DOUG: No, what do you mean?
 SMITH: Well, did he have a name for you, like DOUG?
 DOUG: DAVID, he'd call me DAVID GILBERT, that's where he started...
 SMITH: Okay, did he call you his baby or what?
 DOUG: Yeah, he would call me his son.
 SMITH: Okay, did he talk about sex to you?
 DOUG: No, not really, he just did it to me.
 SMITH: Why did you tell a ticket me earlier? About him not doing anything to you?
 DOUG: Scared mostly, I was afraid he was going to get me good, he was going to call his friends up or something.
 SMITH: Okay I know that he had sex with you in the truck, ANDY heard that, all that, saw ANDY and RONNIE heard that.

 DOUG: LEE, he picked LEE up in Oklahoma City, he's had LEE, he said he said that LEE was going back to his parents or something like that in October, the 31st of October.
 SMITH: Why did everybody do what OSCAR says?
 DOUG: Because OSCAR, OSCAR, why does everybody do what OSCAR says? Well really because OSCAR he everybody know that OSCAR was bad health, he smoked Pot and drank beer and all the time....
 SMITH: Okay did he ever give you an alcoholic beverages to drink or anything?
 DOUG: Beer. He told me to drink beer.
 SMITH: But did he ever give you any Pot or anything to smoke?
 DOUG: Not Pot.
 SMITH: Okay, did he ever just beer, how many beers did he give you?
 DOUG: 2 or 3 a night, almost well 2 or 3.
 SMITH: Are you sure now?
 DOUG: Yes, almost 2 or 3 every two nights, something like that, I don't know he gave

 ANDY: It was about a week.
 SMITH: What?
 ANDY: It was about a week or so.
 SMITH: Here in at where did you stay?
 ANDY: He mostly stayed in the car, we stayed in the car.
 SMITH: Well you told me though when I talked to you earlier...
 ANDY: I know we stayed in the bushes half the time.
 SMITH: But you told me on the second day you all left for Street. Well come on man. What's it? Come, turn around here and talk to me. Which is it? I'm getting for stories, I want the truth. Now damn it all I'm asking for is the truth folks, how how many days did you stay in Oklahoma City?
 ANDY: About a week.
 SMITH: Okay, why didn't you tell me that the first time? Well, for this ain't no laughing matter guys, okay? No laughing matter no more, we're just the truth. We are trying to help you and get this thing stopped, you know that? We could probably kill both of you boys later on because after a while he is going to realize that you are a problem and you're going to tell on him and he would've killed you. Now damn it this guy don't have no respect for you boys, none whatsoever, we don't have no, you don't see him no oath of allegiance. What he did to you was wrong and you're not in trouble, but lets just tell the truth okay?

SMITH CONTINUED: Now damn it, say I don't care if you cry for me buddy, but please at least you're helping me out. I'm on your side, we can't sit here and tell the now damn it I've got to know the truth. Now the game is over with, the fun and games are over. Now this is a type of deal you guys just didn't really care if you went home for a while, now that's fine. Now I know you've been probably for a while, now I'm asking you the truth and I want to be told the truth, that's all I'm asking. Okay? Now how long did you guys stay in Oklahoma City?

ANDY: About a week.

SMITH: Okay, now why didn't one of you call the police? I want the truth.
 DOUG: OSCAR wouldn't let us and he has LEE or RONNIE watching us and LEE and LEE and RONNIE were scared to go to jail and they were watching us like birds.

SMITH: Okay now that's fair enough, all I want is the truth though. See if you just tell me the truth it makes it easier for everybody. Now come you didn't call anybody?

ANDY: I don't know.

SMITH: Okay, are you his friend?

ANDY: Yes.

SMITH: Are you his friend?

DOUG: Yes.

SMITH: By gosh fellas get this guy and let's tell the truth and let's not lie anymore okay? Most of your stuff that you've told me is the truth, but some of it you started lying to me and there is no reason to lie, now whatsoever, I don't care if it makes you look bad or not. No reason to lie, okay? You guys have been through a lot, you've had a lot of people but you damn sure have had a lot of people looking for you too, a lot of people and were on your side, I can't emphasize that enough. Now were'e starting to get down to the truth and that is why we talk to people like we do sometimes we have to get kind of down on you a little bit but I'm still your friend, I'm still that fat balding old gray handed Sugar and I'm going to be your buddy but just don't be putting no give talk on me okay? Now did you catch a 5 pound Bass?

ANDY: Yes.

DOUG: Yes.

SMITH: Okay, Yech I don't like that, okay...

ANDY: He was with me when I caught it.

SMITH: Alright DOUG about how many times over a period of the time you were with OSCAR did OSCAR take his penis and place it in your bottom, in your rectum?

DOUG: About how many times?

SMITH: About how many times?

DOUG: About how many times, and I don't care if it sounds a lot, if its not tell me. Its at least 15 to 16 or 17 days, 3-4 23 (over) 3-4 weeks at last.

SMITH: Did he do it every day?

DOUG: No not every night, not every night. Last night he did it to me [it about 20 or 21 nights ago.

SMITH: Okay, so would you say at least 16 times?

DOUG: Yeah, about.

SMITH: Okay how many times OSCAR as we know him, that's not going to be his real name, put his penis in your mouth.

DOUG: Two, I know that, I know that it was two.

SMITH: Did something come out of your mouth, I mean put of his penis into your mouth?

DOUG: Like what?

SMITH: Did something come out of his penis, go into your mouth, you see or anything?

DOUG: Yeah, this white shit.

SMITH: Okay, what did you do with it?

DOUG: I threw it up.

SMITH: Okay and one of those times that he did that, was it in Oklahoma, when was the other time?

DOUG: In Tulsa.

SMITH: Okay, anything else that you can tell me about this that you haven't told me and that I haven't asked? Now think, because there is something that you probably haven't told me that might seem important to you.

DOUG: Well uh, nothing that I can think of.

SMITH: Okay it's no fun getting talked to and asked a lot of questions is it?

DOUG: Uh uh.

SMITH: Okay till we get all the answers we're going to keep asking questions, but all we got to get from you from now on partner is the truth, no more B.S. okay?

Enclosed is the following items. First, there is a composite of the rape suspect that Betty Bell spoke with you about on Sunday, Aug. 16, 1981. There is also a copy of the incident report, describing the suspect, and the vehicle he was using, along with his MO. Also included is a copy of a photo driver's license of a suspect we developed in this case. The Victim could not I.D. him. There is also a copy of an information sheet about this suspect provided to me by Det. Peltcs of the North Miami Police Dept. Det. Peltcs worked a case involving this suspect also. If I can be of any further assistance please feel free to call on me.

Sincerely

On November 21, 1980 at 0625 hours, this officer was advised via the radio to respond to Miramar Police Department and there meet with a sexual battery victim who had been located by the Dade Public Safety Dept. Officer Remond, Badge #1112. Meeting with the victim at headquarters, she advised that after the attack she returned home and summoned the police and Dade Public Safety responded to determine that this offense had occurred within the jurisdiction of the City of Miramar.

The Miramar Police officer transported the victim out 60 in area she specified as being near the C-9 Canal and the exact place of occurrence was located at 0645 hours that being the 14200 block of the C-9 Canal on its north side. There was no physical evidence lying about this particular area with no obvious signs of tire markings etc. and the victim was subsequently transported back to headquarters for interview with Det. George Pierson.

The victim's account of the occurrence is as follows: between 0230 and 0300 hours, the victim was walking to be picked up by her boyfriend at a Tom Thumb Convenience Store which the store is located in Miami Lakes at N.W. 67 Ave. and 167 St. The victim advised that the boyfriend never arrived and the suspect pulled up in the mentioned vehicle and stated, "You look as though you need a ride". The victim agreed to be taken home, however insisted to ride in the rear seat of the vehicle however, during transit the suspect convinced her it would be alright to sit in the right front seat of his vehicle. Victim states that the suspect stopped at a church located at Ludlum Rd. and 186 St. where conversation ensued and he advised her to come to his house for a party where his girlfriend and other friends were. Suspect stated that he had had an argument with his girlfriend and wished to make her jealous and that he would appreciate her accompanying him there. At this church parking lot and while stopped, the suspect allegedly smoked one marijuana cigarette and the victim did not participate. The victim states that it was at this time that the suspect embraced her strongly while holding on to her arms and telling her that if she did not go to the party she would get hurt. The victim states that out of fear of his physical size versus her physical size she submitted and agreed to accompany him to this alleged party. The suspect drove his vehicle while clutching the victim close to him in the car and headed out to Flamingo Rd. approaching the City of Miramar whereas the victim became hysterical and the suspect repeatedly demanded that she cease any hollering. The victim states that the suspect drove her west on the I-9 Canal Rd. on its north side until reaching the 14200 Block where he parted the car with same facing in a westerly direction and advised her to submit or be hurt. The suspect supposedly produced a small knife which was carried in his left sock and informed the victim to get into the rear seat of this stationwagon.

The victim advised this officer that they both got into the back seat whereas the suspect layed down the rear seat via a latch device and she there observed the entire rear bed of the stationwagon was covered with a white sheet and was equipped with two white pillows. The victim was told to disrobe while the suspect did same and they then engaged in sexual intercourse for a time period which she described as being approximately one minute.

The victim states that the suspect did at one time begin to perform oral sex on her person however, ceased after a short period of time and again had sexual intercourse before having orgasm and ejaculating withing the victim's vagina. The suspect mentioned during the sex act that he would like to date her and immediately after having sex produced a yellowish small hand towel which he cleaned himself off with and both put their clothes on and returned to the front seat of the car. The victim states that she participated in sex with this suspect and to fear that he would undoubtedly harm her if she did not go along with his demands. Miss Bell advised that she was transported home by the suspect after providing him directions and during this time engaged in conversation with him to learn that he probably originates from Dallas, Texas and may have been employed as a tile layer. (Case reaching for assistance, she told the suspect goodnight and exited the car without obtaining tag number or further description of the place reaching the apartment. The victim informed her boyfriend what had occurred and her subsequently notified the Public Safety Dept.

This officer met with Sgt. George Peterson at Miramar Headquarters and informed him of the facts received regarding this incident and there turned the investigation over to him without taking further actions.

On Friday, Nov. 19, 1980 at approx. 0230 hrs. a Hialeah woman was picked up in front of a Tom Thumb's store located at NW 67 Ave. & NW 167 St. in the City of Hialeah. The subject offered the victim a ride home after her boyfriend forgot to pick her up. Instead of taking the victim home the subject drove her to approx. the 14 Blk. Bass Creek Rd. Using a knife he was carrying in his sock the subject advised the victim that he did not want to hurt her. The victim being in fear of her life submitted to the subject's demands. After the subject had completed the Sexual Battery he asked the victim for her phone number. The subject also asked the victim if he could see her again. The victim was dropped off in front of her house in Hialeah by the suspect. The victim failed to obtain the vehicle's tag number as it was departing the area. The subject's first name may be Ron and he may be either a tile salesman or a tile layer. Subject remarked he lived on Ludlam Rd. in Dade County.

Dear Detective Pierson:

I arrested the below listed subject in December, 1979 on a charge of ISB.

Briefly, he abducted a W/F from a bank parking lot at 1:00 a.m. The victim was using the 24 hour computer system. He placed a knife to her throat and drove her approximately three (3) miles where he had oral, anal, and vaginal intercourse. He then drove the victim back to her car at the bank.

The subject is self-employed and works for his father at Mica Distributors Company, 1435 E. 11 Avenue, Hialeah, Florida, phone #888-0593. He is a salesman. He carries some samples in the company car which he also uses as a personal car.

The subject has a brother who is older and a little shorter, but looks very much like him. I don't know the brother's name but he also has an ISB history in Puerto Rico.

The case was Nolle Prossed due to problems with the victim.

The above information is very close to the description of the W/M suspect and vehicle in the ADAM WALSH homicide in Hollywood, Fla. The writer immediately contacted Det. Ron Hickman when this report was brought in by Off. Weschler. Det. Hickman of the Hollywood P.D. will probably follow up on this or one of the other detectives assigned to the case. The description and information on the vehicle and suspect was given to C.D.C. and it was requested that the information be dispatched immediately and every few hours. Any units sighting the vehicle and or occupants were requested to contact the Det. Div. and Hollywood P.D. Copies of this report will be left at the complaint desk for Hlwd. P.D. to pick up this evening. Follow-up on this assigned to Sgt. Preston to contact Hlwd. P.D. and assist ~~XXX~~ in anyway he can for a possible composite and compare with the Hlwd. P.D. composite.

VICTIM/WITNESS: CHRIS GENDIGS, W/F

SUBJECT #1: MICHAEL VICTOR MONAHAN, W/M, DOB 6/5/61.

SUBJECT #2: DONALD ALAN POMPI, W/M.

WEAPON: Sugar cane cutter with brown wooden handle and leather lanyard

SUBJECT'S VEHICLE: Older model light blue Rambler 2-door, Fla. tag MGL-416, gray primer on front of hood, surfboard rack on top.

REMARKS:

On the aforementioned time and date this officer was dispatched to the address of occurrence to investigate a report of a fight in progress. Upon arrival at the scene, this officer went inside the SOLID SURF PLAYGROUND to try and ascertain what the problem was. While this officer was inside the SOLID SURF PLAYGROUND, Officer Doug Johnson stopped the above mentioned subjects in a parking area of the SOLID SURF PLAYGROUND. This officer made contact with CHRIS GENDIGS, who stated that Subject #1 had just cut a hole through the office door of the SOLID SURF PLAYGROUND with a sugar cane cutter in an attempt to get at RAY BRYAN. It was learned by this officer that the argument was over a skateboard. RAY BRYAN stated that his skateboard was stolen approximately three weeks prior to this date, and that he noticed that subject #1 has a skateboard, and he believes that it is his. RAY BRYAN stated that his skateboard is extremely unique and that he recognized the one in subject #1's possession as being his. Subject #1 did not like RAY BRYAN accusing him of stealing his skateboard and chased him into the office of the SOLID SURF PLAYGROUND, at which time RAY BRYAN and CHRIS GENDIGS were in the office attempting to call the police. While they were calling the police, subject #1 began striking the door with the sugar cane cutter and cut his way through the door. At this time he told CHRIS GENDIGS to hang up the telephone. The argument continued in the office, and subject #1 continued to wield the sugar cane cutter in a threatening manner. Both RAY BRYAN and CHRIS GENDIGS stated that they feared for their lives and were extremely frightened. At this time subject #1 then left the office, still yielding the sugar cane cutter and challenging patrons of the SOLID SURF PLAYGROUND to try and take it away from him.

Officer Johnson located the sugar cane cutter sitting on the rear seat of Subject #1's vehicle. This officer ran a records check on both subject #1 and subject #2. Results were negative. Subject #2 was accompanying subject #1 during the entire incident. However, there was no complaint made about subject #2 at the time. Both victims were hesitant to press charges at this time. This officer advised them that a complete report would be made in the event that they decided to prefer charges at a later date. Both victims were extremely shaken up after the incident.

After getting information both subject #1 and subject #2 and checking with NCIC, the subjects were released on the scene. This officer took into evidence the sugar cane cutter and brought it to the Oakland Park Police Station and bagged it and marked it, evidence tag 11266. NFA.

On this date Herman ABRAMS came to the detective bureau to report that he heard the voice of his half brother outside his apartment window three nights saying that he cut the head off Adam Walsh. Mr. Abrams appeared to be mentally confused to some extent. He continued by saying that his half brother's name is Irving Stein, aka Stanapopolis aka "Stan the Man". He lived at 5600 W. Park Rd., Hollywood the last time Mr. Abrams saw him. This was about two years ago. Supposedly also living at 5600 W. Park Rd. are two sons of Stein. One of the sons, "Eddy," allegedly looked like the Walsh boy when he was nine years old. Mr. Abrams stated that Stein stood outside his window and said that he had seen the Walsh boy who looked like his son Eddy and mistook him for Eddy. He then took the boy by the hand and led him out of the shopping center (supposedly Dadeland) and to his apartment. The boy was screaming at him. "Pedophile, pedophile leave me alone". Stein allegedly told him to be quiet and when he wouldn't, Stein took out a samurai sword that he has and threatened the boy. The boy continued to scream. Stein then heard a voice which told him to cut the boy's head off. After he did this, he put the body in a plastic garbage bag. Abrams does not think Stein told him anything else. Abrams described Stein as 52 years old, 5'5", 180 lbs., brown hair and balding, brown eyes. Stein is also allegedly a manic depressive.

Abrams is residing at 426 Meridian Ave. #123 Miami Beach. He is 5'2", thin build brown hair, brown eyes, dressed

Lt. Richard Hynds
Hollywood Police Department
Hollywood, Florida

Dear Sir:

The account of the abduction and slaying of Adam Walsh was recently read by me with the usual thought, "what can be done about crime against children". Being a one-woman awareness of child abductors seems to be my fate and I wish the rest of the adult population in America would join me. We are too complacent and lax and neither have any place in fighting crime in the 1980s.

The reason for my intrusion into your busy schedule by writing is to send you a copy of the article about the slaying of two little girls in Lane County, Oregon. Disposition of the corpses was the same as that of the Walsh child. In fact one of the victims was snatched on the riverbank by her home.

Since the crimes occurred in 1976 the prime suspects, even if convicted and sentenced, could well be back on the streets and riverbanks. There might have been some other suspect who found his way to Florida five years later. This story of great tragedy is for your information and probably belongs in the category of the very slimest lead.

Apprehension of the "mutuant from hades" who did this horror to their son is the only consolation the Walshes and other parents with similar heartbreak will ever know. This killer's incarceration will save other young lives if his tendency is to keep snatching children.

Luck is what you need and I wish it in abundance for the police department in your city in solving the Walsh murder.

Sincerely,

Bessie B. Janis

One suspect had an uncontrollable hangup for little girls; the other was a kid-stabber. Either one of them could have done it. The only problem was, police weren't exactly sure what was done.

It is the strangest horror story to come out of the Northwoods since Big Foot.

On July 29th, 1976, a five-year-old girl wading in the shallow waters of the Willamette River, close to her Eugene, Oregon, home, suddenly disappeared — and was never heard from again.

On October 2nd of that same year, a woman and her boyfriend stopped at a tavern in Blue River, Oregon. The woman left her five-year-old daughter and seven-year-old son asleep in the family station wagon. When she returned, her son was asleep in the front seat. Her daughter was gone — and was never heard from again.

Oregon lawmen conducted a massive search for the missing children, but came up empty-handed.

On October 14th a child's headless body was fished from the murky waters of the Willamette River. Authorities tentatively identified the victim, but had no clues that would lead them to the killer.

Three years went by. On March 9th, 1979, a sex pervert was arrested at his mobile home in Springfield, Oregon. While searching through the man's home, police found a skull of a young girl hidden in a closet. The man wasn't talking, but police considered him a prime suspect in the murder of one of the missing girls.

But no sooner was he behind bars, then a second suspect emerged. He was a 22-year-old convicted burglar and he told sheriff's deputies he knew something about one of the missing girls. The burglar was described by family friends as a "nice kid, maybe a little wild, but a nice kid."

Well, we have heard that one before. He had already spent 18 months in a juvenile honor camp for the unprovoked stabbing of two young children. Now, while waiting sentencing, he admitted he was the last person to see one of the girls alive.

And suddenly after two years without a single clue in these criminal cases, investigators had two suspects and a wealth of evidence in the case.

At the center of the investigation was Richard Godwin, a 33-year-old drill press operator who lived in a pleasant, suburban town of Springfield, Oregon.

Godwin was known by his neighbors and a few of his co-workers as a nice, go-along sort of guy. And he was, in a way. Just another guy trying to earn a living — but with a problem. A big problem. Richard liked children. Very young children.

In January, 1978, he pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for five years for the rape of a 5-year-old Cottage Grove girl. Godwin was eager to plead guilty, for by doing so, the court had agreed to drop sex charges against him in another case, this one involving a three-year-old girl.

Lawmen questioned the wisdom of letting a sex offender like Godwin back on the streets. But the drill press operator promised to make amends. As part of his probation he promised to keep away from young children under 14 without another adult present. Godwin said he was eager to change his way. He even promised to give up drinking alcohol, and that was asking a lot of a man who liked to swig down booze with the best of them.

He promised and promised, but on March 9th, 1979, Godwin was back behind bars, charged with the rape and sodomy of the same girl he had attacked two years before.

These were reprehensible charges. But three days later, lawmen wondered if murder could be added to the list of Godwin's crimes. It was on that day that Godwin's roommate at the mobile park on Industrial Avenue called the Springfield police to report an unusual discovery. While looking through Godwin's closet, Godwin's roommate found the remains of a human skull inside a box.

It was a small skull, perhaps that of a child's. Given Godwin's quirks — brutally assaulting young children — police thought the drill press operator might have an interesting explanation as to how the skull ended up in his closet.

If he did, Godwin wasn't telling. Godwin stonewalled police and refused to answer any questions.

The skull, meanwhile, was turned over to experts for examination. These included a forensic dentist, an anthropologist from the University of Oregon and experts from the Oregon State Police crime laboratory.

These experts measured the skull and compared the bone configuration with photographs taken of the two missing girls. On March 15th, oral surgeon Dr. William Horton and anthropologist David Cole tentatively identified the skull as that of Summer Rogers, the five-year-old girl who had disappeared from near her home on July 29th, 1976. This identification added another piece of evidence to a criminal case that had stumped lawmen for over two years.

Summer Rogers had been a healthy and happy little girl. With sparkling dark eyes and a pixie-like grin, she was a child that would make any mother or father proud. She was loving and trusting — too much so. "She was a perfect kidnap victim because she was such a trusting, friendly child," her mother recalled bitterly.

On the afternoon of July 29th, Summer was at play on the bank of the Willamette River, not far from her home on Heritage Street. She had been cautioned about straying too far from the house, just as she had been warned of the dangers of playing too close to the edge of the fast moving river.

Summer often played on the river bank. And she was careful not to stray too close to the water. When she did not return home that afternoon, her mother grew worried and searched the river bank and then the neighborhood looking for her. She contacted parents of Summer's friends and strangers on the block. But no one had seen Summer.

For the next few days Lane County Sheriff's deputies searched the River End area of the city looking for the missing girl. They could find no trace of her or locate anyone who had seen a girl matching Summer's description.

Police feared that the girl had fallen into the river and drowned in the swift, chilly waters. A search team combed the river for miles on each side. They dragged the bottom and searched far down river. They found nothing.

Days went by, then weeks. Posters containing the girl's picture and description and a brief summary of the circumstances of her disappearance were widely distributed. The parents offered a reward for information leading to the safe recovery of their missing child. Every possible lead was exhausted, every tip followed up, and still no sign of the girl.

During those long weeks, the family never gave up hope. Parents have nightmares that they will come home someday and find a psychopath has kidnapped their child. Now the parents of Summer Rogers prayed someone had, in fact, kidnapped their little girl. That way she might still be alive. There might still be a chance to rescue her.

Those hopes were dashed on October 14th, 1976, when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers agreed to lower the levels of the Willamette and McKenzie rivers to aid police in their search.

With the levels lowered, sheriff's detectives and volunteers trudged along in the muck where downstream from where she was last seen, volunteers found Summer Rogers. At least they thought so.

The badly decomposed body of a young girl was nestled in the black muck. The body was in such bad condition that police could not take fingerprints or other forms of identification. And, grotesquely, the head was missing.

Lane County medical examiners knew they had the corpse of a young girl. But they did not know who the victim was, how she had died, or if she had been sexually molested. Experts determined the corpse was that of Summers Rogers because the torso was about the same size as that of the missing girl, and clothing found near the body matched that worn by Summer the day she disappeared.

Probers also found a tooth near the corpse. But they weren't talking about that piece of evidence. At least not right away.

The murder of Summer Rogers was a sensational shock in the Eugene, Oregon, area. And an avid follower of this grisly crime was Arnold Roy Brown, a nervous, disturbed teenager.

Brown was a snarly youth who faced the world with a chip on his shoulder — and a screw loose in his head.

At the time of Summer's disappearance, Brown, who lived in the same neighborhood that the five-year-old did, had just been released from Parrot Creek Boys Ranch, a work camp for juvenile felons. Brown had spent 16 months at the camp for the unprovoked stabbing of two young children.

According to police reports, Brown was walking along the banks of the Willamette River when he came upon two children, ages 13 and 8, playing near the water. Brown, for some unfathomable reason, decided he wanted to stab the two kids "because I wanted to see what it was like." He approached the kids, pulled out a hunting knife and stabbed both victims several times in the back.

Miraculously, both survived the savage attack and managed to run away from the knife-wielding kid-stabber. Brown was later arrested and, in February of 1974, was sent back to the work camp.

Sixteen months later he was out of the camp and back at his home in the River Road area. The disappearance of Summer Rogers was the topic of conversation. Residents wanted to know what had happened to the girl.

Arnold Brown could have told them. But he didn't. Not until June 21, 1978. Now a young man in his early twenties, Arnold still hadn't learned it doesn't pay to break the law. He bungled a burglary of the Big Wheel Skate Center on River Avenue. It was an easy burglary for a pro, but Arnold was just an amateur, and he was caught redhanded leaving the building.

With one felony conviction under his belt, it looked as if Arnold was headed for the "big house." While being escorted by two sheriff's detectives, Arnold Brown started to talk. What he had to say jolted both lawmen.

Brown said on July 29th, 1976, he was wading in the Willamette River when he spotted a little girl playing on the bank. He said he recognized her as Summer Rogers. He said he watched her play, then suddenly she stumbled and hit her head on a rock. "I went over to her and I felt her pulse," he explained. "She didn't have one and I got a little scared and walked away, leaving her lying with her head and shoulders on some rocks and the rest of her body in the shallow water."

The burglary suspect told the detectives he walked farther upstream and "stopped and looked back to see if she was moving. She wasn't and that's the last I saw of her."

Brown's admission thickened rather than dispersed the cloud of mystery that surrounded the little girl's disappearance. If Brown was telling the truth, it might explain the circumstances in which the girl disappeared. However, it did not explain the torso found eight miles downstream. If the body belonged to Summer Rogers, then why was the head missing? If the body was not Summer's, then whose body was it? And what had happened to Summer?

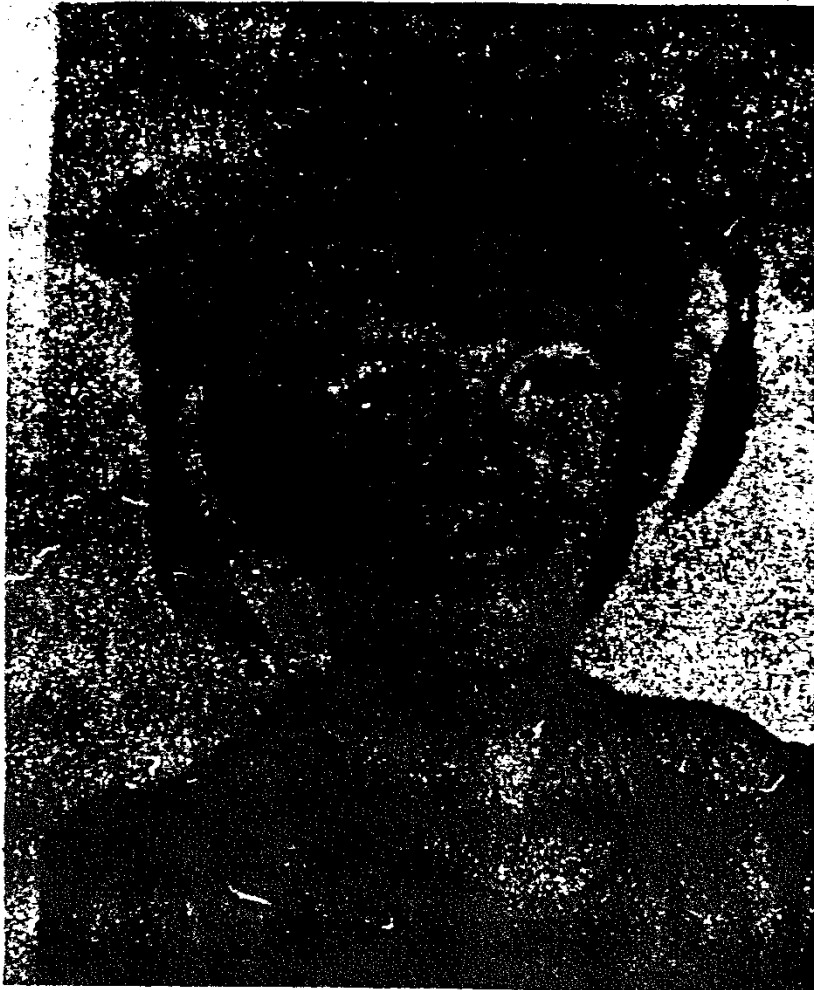

Detectives pressed Brown for information. The harder they leaned on him, the more his story changed. In one story, Brown actually admitted he struck the girl on her head and then walked away. In another version he picked up the little girl, after she hit her head and "got scared and threw her in the river."

The public did not learn of Brown's confession until a sentence hearing for a burglary charge of which Brown was convicted.

On February 14th, Deputy D.A. Darryl Larson identified the teenage stabber of two children as a possible suspect in the murder of Summer Rogers.

Larson, arguing for a stiff sentence, told Judge Helen Frey that Brown "should receive the maximum sentence for his crime. He is an example of the type of person we fear most in society. He can maintain himself on at least a decent level for some periods of time, and then, for reasons which only he can know, does things which he might not otherwise normally do."

Larson recounted Brown's conviction

Summer Rogers was a trusting, friendly child. She disappeared while wading in the Willamette River in Oregon.

been tentatively identified by an anthropologist and an oral surgeon. But the district attorney was not ready to cast his vote with these experts until the results of all the tests were completed. Perhaps he was wary because the tentative identification had been based on precise measurements of the skull and on a tooth found near the headless torso. The tooth fit perfectly into the jawbone of the skull, and thus experts who had determined the torso was Summer Rogers' now believed they had found the missing skull.

But the district attorney wasn't so sure. When asked what his impression was of the experts' findings, Horton took his time before replying. "I can't say that the skull was from the river bank or that the skull is that of Summer Rogers."

Why didn't the D.A. follow the experts? A tactical move? An ingrained conservatism that would not let him take a position until he was absolutely sure? Instinct?

Perhaps. Maybe one, maybe all of these reasons. But Horton was right on one count. A skull and a torso do not a body make.

No sooner had experts given tentative confirmation, then University of Oregon anthropologist David Cole reversed his earlier opinion and announced the skull definitely did not belong to Summer Rogers. He said anthropologists from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. had confirmed his findings that the skull was not Summer Rogers'.

Instead, he said he was "reasonably certain" that the skull belonged to Andrea Tolentino, another 5-year-old girl who had disappeared from the town of Blue River in eastern Lane County in late 1976.

The disappearance of Andrea Tolentino had been as baffling to Lane County investigators as the Summer Rogers case.

On the night of October 2nd, 1976, Andrea's 34-year-old mother and her 30-year-old boyfriend were driving along the McKenzie Highway in east Springfield, Oregon. In the backseat was 5-year-old Andrea and her 7-year-old brother.

The couple arrived in Blue River at about 9:30 p.m. and parked the family stationwagon, which pulled a 22-foot ocean-going boat, in front of the small bar. The two children remained in the

for the stabbing of the two children in 1974. He then told of Brown's confession to sheriff's detectives — a confession which linked him to the dead girl.

Larson's remarks, given in a nearly empty courtroom, were strenuously objected to by court-appointed attorney Rush Hoag. The attorney jumped to his feet and demanded that the inflammatory statements be stricken from the record. Brown's statements had been made to police under duress and were not legally admissible in a court of law, Hoag argued.

Judge Frey, however, decided to let Larson's remarks stay in the public record. And the judge did something else — she threw the book at Arnold Brown.

She sentenced Brown to 20 years in prison — the maximum allowed. The judge, questioned later by reporters, said she had not considered the prosecution's remarks on the Summer Rogers case when she handed out the maximum sentence. Instead, she said she had decided to come down hard on Brown because society had to be protected from "impulsive" acts such as the 1973 stabbings and the more recent burglary. "You are a dangerous man, Mr. Brown," she said in pronouncing sentence.

Arnold Brown was taken away in handcuffs, a bit dazed at the prospect of facing 20 years behind bars.

Lane County District Attorney Pat Horton now had two suspects in the Summer Rogers case behind bars. Arnold Brown faced a minimum of several years in prison. And Richard Godwin? No charges had been filed against him yet. The District Attorney's Office wanted time to prepare their case against him and had decided to hold back on the charges until it had gathered more evidence. "But Godwin isn't going anywhere," D.A. Pat Horton told a reporter. "We are holding him on parole violation, so he'll stay put until we are ready to press charges."

Meanwhile, there was the skull. This was the strongest piece of evidence connecting Richard Godwin to the murder of Summer Rogers. The skull had already through the cracks and he moved in under the deep, stone door lintel. There was no point in firing back. The light 7.65 caliber service pistol could hardly penetrate the thick floor boards.

In the meantime, however, Peter Weber had disobeyed orders. Rather than racing directly to the hospital, he had stopped at the first house with a telephone and had called Graz. His description of what had taken place and of the current situation was so convincing that within twenty minutes of his call and at the same moment that Jakob Eggenreich was being carried to the operation room, three police helicopters carrying mainly heavily armed sharpshooters took off from Graz.

They were followed by police cars, but long before the cars arrived, one of the sharpshooters covering the windows of the courtyard had spotted Trojacek and had put a bullet through his shoulder. A cautious man where his own safety was concerned, the killer immediately threw down his weapons and surrendered.

Hermine Schleier was found hiding in another part of the house and seemed delighted at being taken into police custody. She apparently had no more stomach for shoot-outs with the police than did her lover.

Rupert Trojacek's murderous resistance to arrest was soon explained when he told police officials that he had preferred to shoot it out rather than to go to jail for life for the "Munich job."

Cautiously questioned on the "Munich job," it was determined that he was referring to the murder of a man in the English Gardens on the night of March 3, 1977 and a check with the Munich police showed that this could only have been the murder of Harald Liedke:

Trojacek maintained later that he had been given a contract to kill Liedke because of his connections with drug and prostitution rackets, but the Munich police were never able to turn up the slightest evidence of such connections and it was believed that the true motive was simply robbery.

It is unlikely that Trojacek will ever stand trial for the murder of Harald Liedke for he is now awaiting trial for the murders of Johann Stauber and Johann Muellner. The sentence will almost certainly be life with no possibility of parole or early release.

Jakob Eggenreich survived, but was so seriously injured that he was retired. Adrian Hoffmann, now sergeant Hoffmann, is in charge of the Kingberg Police Post. ★ unlocked vehicle while Andrea's mother and boyfriend went inside. The couple spent most of the evening sipping drinks and enjoying the conversation of other people at the bar. At regular intervals the mother went to check her two children, who were curled up asleep in the car.

At 1:30 a.m. the bar closed and Andrea's mother and her boyfriend went back to their car. Her seven-year-old son had crawled into the front seat where he was sound asleep. There was no sign of Andrea, however. Immediately they called the police and a search for the missing girl was conducted.

Sheriff's deputies noticed that the back window of the stationwagon was rolled most of the way down and that a few of the Tolentino's belongings were scattered on the ground behind the vehicle.

Detectives speculated that Andrea must have been taken from the car because she couldn't have unrolled the window from the inside. It was possible that she let herself out the door and rolled down the window from the outside, but detectives doubted this possibility.

An extensive search of the area produced no trace of the girl or of her body. Andrea had stepped out of the stationwagon — and disappeared without a trace.

Disappeared, until probes found her skull in Richard Godwin's closet.

As of this writing, investigations have been reopened in the Summer Rogers and Andrea Tolentino murder cases. Not surprisingly, Lane County lawmen are reluctant to give out new information unearthed since the discovery of Andrea's skull last March.

Mum, as they say, is the official word. Reporters' questions are answered with either "no comment" or by vague generalities. District Attorney Horton has declined to say whether tests have determined the cause of Andrea Tolentino's death. New evidence has been uncovered in the Summer Rogers murder, but again, the district attorney was reluctant to say what this new evidence was.

Horton would say the discovery of the skull has "added a new twist to things." He said investigators of the Summer Rogers murder "are just going to adopt a wait-and-see attitude."

Asked if he considered the identification of the skull a breakthrough in the Tolentino case, Horton replied, "It's certainly another piece of the puzzle."

It should be pointed out that neither Richard Godwin nor Arnold Brown have been officially charged with the murder of either girl, and should be considered innocent until such charges are brought against them and they are declared guilty of those charges by a jury.

At the same time, the two men are not exactly babes in the woods.

Richard Godwin was convicted of raping and sodomizing a five-year-old girl. Less than a year later, he was back in jail on the same charges, involving the same girl.

Arnold Brown spent 18 months in an honor camp for the unprovoked stabbing of two young children. In 1979, he was back behind bars, this time for the attempted burglary of an ice rink.

District Attorney Horton is very much interested in both men in connection with the murders of Summer Rogers and Andrea Tolentino.

Neither man will be back on the streets for awhile. Arnold Brown was sentenced to 20 years in prison. Richard Godwin's probation was revoked and he too will face a 20-year sentence. He also faces more rape and sodomy charges involving a young girl.

With both men behind bars, the investigations into the disappearance and presumed murder of Summer Rogers and Andrea Tolentino continue.

There are many things the police would like to know.

About the two murders.

About Richard Godwin.

About Arnold Brown.

Murder, First Class

was no mention in the extensive files in Las Vegas concerning Weiss. And there was only the rumor and no proof that Weiss and Lantieri might have been operating a "layoff" book.

One investigator said, "Of course we don't have all the information. If Weiss had been operating a layoff book and got into trouble, the two slugs in the back of the head and the body left in a car is the modus operandi of a mob hit."

The homicide investigators in Los Angeles were working with the physical evidence and a timetable for the murder. They were able to establish that Weiss played golf with friends on the morning he was slain. He did not have lunch because he was watching his weight.

Vic met with Cooke and Buss at the Beverly Comstock at four o'clock. They discussed the Tarkanian contract for an hour, with ten minutes out while Weiss made his telephone call to Las Vegas.

When Weiss climbed into his Rolls-Royce in the parking lot at the hotel, he hadn't mentioned that he had any other meeting. An hour later the Rolls with Weiss' body was parked in the garage in North Hollywood.

The investigators were positive from their knowledge concerning Weiss that he would not have picked up a stranger. They pointed out that if he planned to meet his wife at the San Fernando Valley restaurant, he would have made a left onto the Ventura Freeway instead of a right onto the Hollywood Freeway and to the Sheraton Universal.

A close friend said, "Hell, Vic was a pretty smart guy. He wouldn't be stupid enough to have gone to a known setup on his own volition. Whoever got him or had him set up had to be a friend."

Puzzling, too, was that the killer had left the expensive diamond ring on his finger and the $6,000 watch on his wrist. Unknown was how much cash he might have been carrying, but the known things taken were the Tarkanian contract and his address book.

Cutter told the detectives, "Who in hell would take Vic's address book unless it was somebody who didn't want his name found out? If I had Vic's book, I could tell you the name of the person who killed him. I knew Vic that well. He was one of the finest and most generous persons I've ever known."

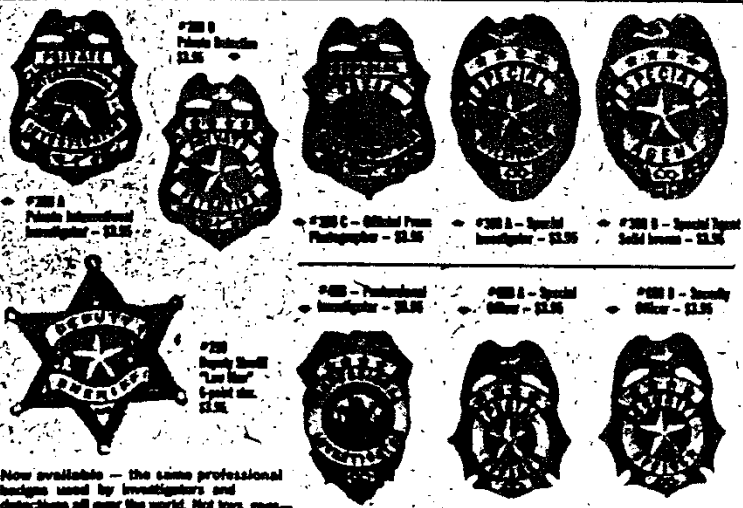

He added, "As far as I know, Vic never had any ties to organized crime, but my saying that doesn't mean anything. Like they say, the husband or wife or partner is the last to know. So, I don't know."

Tarkanian, following the murder of Weiss, announced that he was withdrawing as a candidate for the coaching job for the Lakers. Tarkanian's wife, in an interview, told reporters, "It had to have something to do with boxing. Both Jerry and Vic's partner told Vic to get out of boxing because of the weird people involved in that sport, but Vic just loved boxing so much he wouldn't listen."

After several months of investigation, the detectives assigned to the case said that the wealthy sports figure moved so skillfully and secretly in his role of "man about town" to connections with unsavory characters that it was impossi-

Attn: Detective Naylor

Dear Sir:

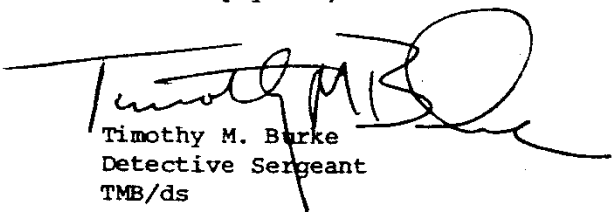

Please find enclosed a photo of Hermann C. Parodi who was arrested by this agency on August 15, 1981. Parodi was charged with exhibiting his sexual organs.

Brief details of this case are as follows: Uniformed-patrol unit was dispatched to a shopping center in Vero Beach in response to a complaint that a W/M was slowly driving by the store fronts exposing his genitals.

Another detective and myself were in the general area; and after receiving other descriptive data from an officer at the scene, Parodi was observed at an adjoining shopping center driving slowly by the sidewalk in front of the store fronts exposing himself. He was driving a small MG convertible, top down, at this time. Myself and the accompanying detective approached the vehicle and found Parodi to be exposing his genitals, was placed under arrest and appropriately charged.

While talking with Parodi, he advised that he was returning from the beach area and had become "horny". This was his explanation for his behavior. He acknowledged that he was in fact masturbating, further stated that he engaged in similar activity in the Ft. Lauderdale area, exact time and date unknown.

Sincerely yours,

Timothy M. Burke
Detective Sergeant
TMB/ds

Enclosure

P. S.: Parodi had a Dania Police Department parking citation in his possession at time of arrest; date/time unknown.

that he has had homosexual relationships with several young boys and prefers younger children to older boys. His sexual preference is heterosexual but finds it very difficult to relate to a female. He stated that he has had no sexual relation with a woman. Therefore, he can relate to a younger male without fear of rejection. He is very self conscious of his dental hygiene and speech impediment, making him to be very shy of people. Also, when he was 7 years old he witnessed his father in a drowning accident. He never had a close relationship with a male. Afterwards, he lived with his mother and she never had time for him and was too busy with her job. He quit high school in the 10th grade and worked many jobs since dropping out of school.

This case I transferred Harold to Florida State Hospital. I admitted him under the name of Harold and stated to me on the 30th of January that he had fantasies of murdering his mother and that was in his mind since he was 12. He stated he knew he had a problem but did not know where to go. I suggested to him to go to Florida State Hospital for evaluation and he agreed to go with me. I met with the physician on duty emergency room at Florida State Hospital and interviewed Harold and referred him to the on duty emergency physician. The physician felt that he was a danger and admitted him to Three West Florida Hospital for further evaluation. Dr. Buckmeyer advised that the psychiatrist would contact me if Harold was going to be released to another mental institution.

This report is for information only and therefore there will be no criminal activity reported and this case will be exceptionally cleared.

RE: FREARY, HAROLD T.

Dear Investigator Castlen:

Reference is made to your teletype message concerning the above captioned subject.

Subject Freary is described as a white male, D.O.B., 8/13/55, 5'10", 145 pounds, brown hair, hazel eyes, Social Security number listed as [redacted]. Freary was arrested on 5/19/77 for Burglary 3rd, Endangering the Welfare of a Child and Sexual Abuse of a Child.

The Burglary and Sexual Abuse charges were dismissed in the interest of justice based on Freary's plea of Guilty to the charge of Endangering the Welfare of a Child and he was committed to jail for 89 days.

The above charges were the result of Freary aiding minor boys, ages 12, 14 and 15, to run away from their homes. During the time period in question the subjects burglarized a building, stealing camping equipment. The subject camped and Freary subjected the boys to sexual contact.

Missing boy sighted with woman

Hollywood Police are looking for a woman seen with 6-year-old Adam Walsh two days after his disappearance July 27 from a Hollywood department store.

The woman was spotted with a boy matching Adam's description at a miniature golf course near Hollywood, a witness told police. She is described as 35- to 45 years old, about 5-foot 7, with a thin build, dark complexion and brown teased hair. She was wearing square-framed, designer-type glasses. Police released this composite sketch made from the description.

Adam's parents, John and Reve Walsh, are offering a $100,000 reward for information leading to the safe return of their only child.

Burglary
I RESPONDED TO A SILENT SENTRY ALARM AT THE CHURCH AT 215 N. ORANGE AVE. I ARRIVED ABOUT 1 MINUTE LATER. AS I APPROVED TWO OTHER PATROL CARS ARRIVED ON OTHER SIDES OF THE CHURCH.

I THEN SAW THE DEFENDANT COMING OUT OF THE CHURCH PROPERTY FROM A GRASSY AREA ADJACENT TO A WALKED COURTYARD ON THE S.W. CORNER OF THE CHURCH. WHEN HE SAW ME APPROACH, HE RAN ACROSS ORANGE D AVE WESTBOUND. I STOPPED HIM AND FRISKED HIM.

I THEN GAVE HIM THE MIRANDA WARNING. HE SAID THAT HE UNDERSTOOD ALL OF THE WARNING.

I THEN ASKED HIM WHAT HE WAS DOING AT THE CHURCH. HE SAID THAT HE WAS ONLY RESTING ON A BENCH. THERE IS NO BENCH IN THE AREA THAT I SAW HIM COMING OUT OF. ALSO, HIS PANTS WERE SLIGHTLY WET FROM RUNNING THRU THE LAWN SPRINKLERS ON THE CHURCH LAWN.

NOT BELIEVING HIS EXPLANATION, AND DUE TO THE ABOVE FACTS, AND ALSO DUE TO OTHER OFFICERS FINDING AN OPEN DOOR IN THE CHURCH COURTYARD I ARRESTED THE DEFENDANT FOR LOITERING & POULING.

Mr. Paris

I not good on writing so I am going to try any ways.
 The trip ~~to~~ to here took about three hours, they traveled about 75 mph. We got here about 4am Thursday. The meals here are like eating shit if you can get them. The staff plays cards alot. I'm confined to this building for five days with a bunch of Rejects. Now I told you about this place a little I would like you to write to the doctors here and tell them I still have a job when I get out. Would you send my paycheck to me please. And would you ask Ray if he would mail me a carton of Winstons every week. Tell Ray if I'm going to have my sister send you ten dollars to give Ray for the first carton he bought me and five dollars every week after that. I asking because I'm only allowed 15 dollars a week and at $6.60 a carton, it don't leave me much money. Oh yes one more thing please have every body write me so I don't ~~go~~ go crazy myself.

I may not be able to write everyone back I just so much freedom here that jail would look better than this.

The address for this dump is, Northeast Florida State Hospital Facility, Macclenny, Florida 32063. Located in unit 2 ward 9.
 as for the doctors location I don't know, I will be grateful if you would do this as fast as possible

Thank you

Keith Hitt

Supp.	Battery

1067 cont: - Victim by the head and neck applying pressure. Subsequently, the victims both larked the victim from the sub's possession whereby they left the scene. Thereafter, the victim mother called the police.

On 08-19-81, at approx. 5:30 pm this det. contacted the subj. in question, at 8885 No 8ct. Apt. #2. (a friend's residence where he usually lives on and of. Friends name: Heath Russell.) Incidentally, when the subj. approached the victim at the above location, minutes prior he emerged from the above location. Anyway, when this det. confronted the subj. with the above facts he denied the entire accusation. In turn, this det. contacted the victim once again whereupon, she stated that she does not prefer charges in this case if this is the case. This det. contacted the Hollywood P.D. regarding the subj. in question. A list of the subj's phone numbers will be mailed to SGT. Smith including the above facts and report.

Since the victim does not prefer criminal charges in this case, this case is closed.

PROBABLE CAUSE AFFIDAVIT

Before me this date personally appeared Wanda Gail Perry who being first duly sworn deposes and says that on the 9 day of May 1978 at 1600 NE 23 St. Pompano Beach the above named defendant committed the above offenses charged and the facts showing probable cause to believe same are as follows: The def. was obs. with her 14 yr. old daughter (a co-defendant) enter J.C. Penney's. The def., with the assistance of her 14 yr. old daughter, concealed six items of clothing inside her purse & exited the store where the security guards, who had witnessed the actions, apprehended the three. The total value of the merchandise taken by the def. was $75.99 (retail). The def. told the store guards that it was her intention to let sell the merchandise. The 14 yr. old daughter told this offer, that her mother had told her to steal merchandise to later sell, the 14 yr. old was found to be in poss. of two articles of clothing value $14.00 (retail) that she was obs. in her purse after being given Miran warnings the def. admitted that she had encouraged her daughter to steal the merchandise. The def. originally gave offers the name of Dean, Wanda Gail after twice being told by offers to state her correct name. After ID belonging to the def. was found, the def. admitted to offers that her correct name was Perry.

Swear and subscribed before me, the undersigned authority, this 9 day of May 1978 at Pompano Beach Florida. I swear the above statement is correct and true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

PROBABLE CAUSE AFFIDAVIT

Before me this date personally appeared ELFO who being first sworn deposes and says that on the 9 day of May 1978 at 1600 NE 23 St., Pompano Bch.

the above named defendant committed the above offenses charged and the facts showing probable cause to believe she are as follows: The def. was obs. by J.C. Penney's store security to assist his girlfriend (a co-defendant) in concealing 6 items of clothing (retail value $73.99) in her purse & his 14 yrs. old daughter in concealing 2 items of clothing (retail value $19.00) in her purse.
They were apprehended outside of the store by security personnel. The 14 yrs. old daughter of the def. stated that her mother had told her to steal the items and that they could resell them. The def. admitted to doing that and that he had encouraged the 14 yrs. old to take the merchandise. As this officer was the def., the def. told the officer "this is the first time I've been caught stealing."
