

Stop day-dreaming Mark. When you cut the body up into small pieces and throw the head into the water. You just don't leave the other body parts cut there to be found. The complete body goes into the water and so does the bloody murder weapon and then you have to jump into the water to get all the blood of your clothes. What did you think that the guy was playing basketball with the head at said time?

You must think that Otis was stupid. Remember that if Lucas would have kept his mouth closed then Otis would still be out there killing people. Well within a few more weeks we will have this case closed or we will be at status quo ante.
